Index to Record and Guide Vol. LXIX.

For New York Auction Sales, Conveyances, Leases, Mortgages, Projected Buildings and Advertisers.

NOS. 1764 TO 1789. JANUARY—JUNE, INCLUSIVE. 1902.

PREFACE.

The following is the semi-annual Index of Volume LXIX of The Record and Guide, containing complete lists of the Auction Sales, Conveyances, Leases, Mortgages and Buildings Projected in New York City during the first six months of 1902. Those wishing to keep a file for permanent reference should see that all the numbers are complete and have them bound. Cost of binding $2.00 per volume. A suitable temporary binder, holding one volume, can be obtained at the office, 14 and 16 Vesey street; price, one dollar.

THE KEY.

* Before any page No. indicates an Auction Sale.

† Before any page No. indicates a New Building Projected.

Figures in parenthesis are leases.

Figures preceded by capital letter are mortgages, said capital letter indicating the first letter of the name of the mortgagor.

Figures without any signs whatsoever are Conveyances.

EXAMPLE.

Stuyvesant st..347, K 356, P 357, W 358, 389, K 440, (528), †533, *662, 665, W 710, *913, (971), 1011, W 1019, (1062), 1108, B 1157.

On pages *662 and *913 Auction Sales will be found.

On pages 347, 389, 665, 1011 and 1108 Conveyances will be found.

On pages (528), (971) and (1062), Leases will be found.

On pages K 356, P 357, W 358, K 440, W 710, W 1019 and B 1157, under the respective initials K, P, W, K, &c, Mortgages will be found.

On page †533 a New Building will be found.

AUCTION SALES.

The * appearing before any number indicates the page on which to find an Auction Sale.

CONVEYANCES

are distinguished by numbers without having signs attached thereto. In many instances there will be found streets, etc., indexed under pages which, on being examined, show at once that they are not in their proper order according to our customary alphabetical and numerical arrangement. A further examination will disclose the fact that while the properties appear more prominently under the other street descriptions, they nevertheless extend to the streets, etc., indicated by the Index, and having a frontage on same have been included in the paging, and it will necessitate a somewhat more thorough search than usual to locate it. The Leases, Mortgages, Auction Sales and Projected Buildings are indexed in a similar manner to the plan followed with the Conveyances.

LEASES.

The figures in parenthesis denote that the transaction on the page given is Leasehold, an assignment of lease or a lease running for a short or long term of years. This explanation is made so that subscribers searching for transfers in fee can at once distinguish between the former and the latter without referring to the pages mentioned.

MORTGAGES.

All the mortgages are indexed against the street or avenue in which the property is located, and memoranda added to enable searchers to find the particulars in "The Record and Guide." See "Example." The streets and avenues are so subdivided that very few references are necessary. All readers of "The Record and Guide" are aware that the mortgages appear weekly in alphabetical order, so that they have, so to speak, a weekly index of mortgagors. This publication of an index against property completes the information which those interested may require.

PROJECTED BUILDINGS

are included under the same general heading, and are distinguished by the † which precedes the numbering.

Auction Sales, Conveyances, Leases, Mortgages and Projected Buildings.

NEW YORK CITY.

STREETS.

NOTE.—Longitudinal streets, roads and places, such as the Bowery, Boulevard, Broadway, etc., which run parallel with the various avenues, will be found in alphabetical order amongst the avenues.

· · · The New Rapid Transit Route

The interest taken in the new underground rapid transit route shows clearer than anything else how closely the future value of millions of dollars' worth of real estate is connected with this long-deferred enterprise.

So great was the demand for the rapid-transit maps issued recently by the Record and Guide, that the entire edition was exhausted.

A new edition is now ready for delivery; price, 10 cents; postage extra, 2 cents. The map has also been printed on bond paper. Price, 25 cents; postage extra, 2 cents.

Every real estate broker, and all who are interested in real estate, should possess this map. It gives the route of the new transit lines, the location of all stations, sections of the road, etc. Will be needed for constant reference. Order at once. RECORD AND GUIDE OFFICE,

LUMBER.

Appended quotations are based almost wholly upon prices obtained for goods from first hands. Yard rates necessarily range much higher owing to the expenses attending sorting out and grading cargo and even car lots, besides which must be added the cost of handling and carrying until consumers are ready to invest. Terms of sale also prove important factors, and altogether it is impossible to give a line of retail quotations thoroughly reliable in character.

Real Estate and Building in 1901.

The past year has been in several important respects, one of the most remarkable years in the history of New York real estate and building. It is remarkable, however, not merely because of the magnitude of the operations recorded, but even more because of the radical changes which have been introduced in the method of conducting these operations. The real estate transactions of the year give a plainer indication of the future of New York real estate, both in its speculative and investment possibilities, than do those of any earlier year, and they afford an equally manifest testimony to the irresistible power of the economic forces which are transforming and expanding the American metropolis. They are revealing what it means when a city of 3,500,000 people is adding 120,000 inhabitants to its population every year, and the revelation is all the more startling because, owing to an improved system of inter-borough communication, this population will be better concentrated than ever before for business purposes, and better distributed for residence purposes. The destiny of Manhattan Island to be the business and residence core of a vast stretch of territory on every side, and to be the financial and industrial centre of the whole country, has become plainly discernible; and men are beginning to realize what an opportunity this manifest future affords for gigantic real estate and building operations. New York stands on the verge of a process of growth and readjustment which will dwarf the achievements of the past decade—great as they have been.

A Remarkable Year in Real Estate.

The year 1901 has in some items been a record breaker in the sum total of its transactions. The figures of the number of conveyances recorded exceed those of any previous year, whereas the number of buildings called for by the plans filed have frequently been surpassed. In 1901 15,919 transfers were recorded, against 14,587 in 1900, and the amount involved increased from $114,243,112 in 1900, to $156,413,052 It will be seen that the difference in the amount is much larger proportionally than the difference in number, and hence that the average price paid for each parcel increased handsomely from $17,800 to $21,900. The figures as to the amount involved and as to the average have frequently been exceeded. In 1890, for instance, 15,857 transfers were recorded, involving $282,047,609, while the average price carried by each conveyance was larger in the years 1893 and 1899. In truth, however, the comparative figures cited above do not do full justice to the extraordinary character of the real estate transactions during 1901, for the largest transactions of the past year must be classed generally as speculative; and speculative transfers are nearly always made at nominal considerations. Speculators want to cover up their tracks. There is no more significant fact connected with real estate operations in New York than the steady increase in the number of deeds recorded with nominal considerations. In 1868 out of 10,070 deeds, only 592, or less than 6 per cent. did not give the price paid for the property. Ten years later, in 1878, out of 6,861 deeds, 1,927, or 27 per cent. contained nominal consideration. By 1888 this percentage had not increased, but had slightly fallen to about 24 per cent. Thereafter, however, it increased rapidly. By 1893 the conveyances at nominal considerations had reached 37 per cent. of those in which the consideration was expressed. By 1897, it had reached more than 50 per cent., while during the past year three out of every five transfers recorded did not express the consideration for which the transfer was made. Moreover, it is usually the largest figures which do not, for this reason, appear in the tables. There can be no doubt that the gross sum of money represented by the transfers during the past year would have largely exceeded those of 1890, the record year, in case the proportion of nominal conveyances had amounted to only 25 per cent. as in 1890, instead of almost 60 per cent., as in 1901.

The proof of this assertion may be discovered in the table of high-priced realty, which the Record and Guide published a few weeks ago. It was shown in the introduction to that table that out of twenty parcels which have been transferred in Manhattan at prices ranging from $150 to $300 a square foot, no less than six were recorded during 1901, and out of the forty-two parcels that have sold at prices varying between $100 and $150 a square foot, ten appeared in the conveyances of the past year. These are extraordinary facts; and they afford the proper clue to the interpretation of the real estate operations of 1901. On the whole, it has been a year of large speculative enterprises, which have aimed to make profit out of an improvement of the facilities for doing business in New York. These enterprises have been concerned consequently with property situated in central and high-priced locations; and they have generally brought with them the construction of large buildings. Thus they deserve to be considered from several points of view: (1) As to the speculative purposes and methods involved; (2) as to the location of these operations; and (3) as to the kind of buildings which they are causing to be erected.

The year 1901 has made perfectly apparent that it is the methods and purposes of speculators, rather than investors, which dominate the real estate market. This has always been true of the outskirts of this and every other growing city; and it has for many years been true of the tenement-house district; but now speculators control the operations in all parts of the city, and in all classes of buildings They no longer confine themselves to the buying of land, which can be broken up after improvement into small parcels and sold to investors or householders. They are prepared to purchase parcels, which cost millions of dollars, and erect buildings that cost as much more. This was a field of operations which ten, or even five, years ago the investor had entirely in his own hands; but now he is obliged, as a rule, to buy from the speculator, who expects good returns for the use of his capital and the benefit of his experience. In many cases these speculators have been organized into stock companies, with capitalizations varying between a few thousand and many million dollars. Thus far these companies have remained merely speculative; but there is an obvious tendency, and even necessity, for some of them, to become large investment corporations. For the investor must stand behind any speculative movement, it being the peculiar business of speculators to make or unmake values for investors. But investors ready to put many million dollars into buildings that need constant care and supervision, are not numerous; and it is natural that such buildings, when they are not owned by some bank, insurance or business firm, should come into the hands of corporations which have nothing to do but buy, operate and at times sell such buildings. There is no lack of money seeking investment in real estate. Almost every prominent financial interest in Wall Street has its relations with one or more of these speculative real estate corporations, but capital is seeking investment in real estate, just as it seeks investment in stocks. It is prepared to furnish only a part of the capital employed, and to leave the responsibility of management to expert operators.

Speculative Control of New York Realty.

Of course, there will always remain individual owners of both small and large blocks of Manhattan real estate; but just in proportion as New York business is transacted in huge office buildings, and New York residents lodged in huge apartment houses and hotels, just in that proportion will corporate ownership and professional management take the place of individual ownership and amateur management. During the past year speculators or speculative corporations have been interested in fully one-half the office buildings erected, and in more than half the loft buildings, while the speculative operations in the central parts of the city have been largely in the hands of the same or similar organizations. Moreover, they have begun to operate extensively on Washington Heights and in the Bronx. It is evident that they will regulate the development of those regions when the time for that development comes. They have hitherto left tenement-house buildings entirely in the hands of individual speculators; but since, in the future, it will be more profitable to erect larger tenements at a greater cost, it is entirely possible that they will participate in the revival of tenement-house construction, whenever that happens. At bottom the appearance of these corporations has been caused by the necessity of conducting real estate operations in New York on a larger scale than formerly, and as the scale of such operations is destined to increase, it may be expected that their participation in the real estate market will increase also. As we have pointed out, the movement is still in its infancy. Many problems will have to be faced, and many difficulties overcome, before these corporations can win their way into public confidence. Their management should, in every case, be above suspicion, and their financial methods such as will bear the closest scrutiny. But with conservative management and a system of public accounts there is no reason why corporations of this kind should not reach the size of some of the biggest banks in the city.

Areas of Activity.

The areas of activity during the past year have been very different from those of the preceding year. During 1900 the lower East and the upper West sides were the chief centres, both of trading and building. In other parts of the city the amount of business was decidedly under the average. But during 1901 the current activity has chanced upon very different parts of the city. During the few weeks previous to the passing of the new tenement-house law, there were many plans filed for new flats and tenements, and these filings necessitated many transfers of property; but since then both the tenement and the apartment-house districts have been unusually dull. The sales of vacant land for improvement on the West side have been fewer than during any year since the settlement of that region began. Interest has centered in different and more central parts of the city. In the first place there have been many transfers of property south of Maiden Lane, and in the great majority of cases these parcels were bought for improvement. The occasion of these transfers was the unusual prosperity of the "sky-scrapers," brought about by the tendency of corporations from all over the country to etablish headquarters in New York. Between Maiden Lane and 14th street the year has not developed anything remarkable in the way of activity; but once Fifth avenue is reached the trading has been continuous and phenomenal. During 1900 there were 81 conveyances recorded for Fifth avenue property situated south of 110th street; during 1901 there were 164 conveyances of Fifth avenue parcels within the same limits. Between 14th and 23d streets there were many transfers, because a new wholesale district is now rapidly being built up in that vicinity. Between 26th and 50th streets there has been a similar commotion, because of the increasing importance of that part of the avenue for a somewhat select and fashionable class of stores. North of 50th street a still more considerable activity has taken place owing to the unprecedented demand for expensive residences. The increase of values in this part of the avenue has attained extraordinary proportions. Property that three or four years ago sold for $30 or $40 a square foot, now brings between $60 and $70; and the average has been raised any where from 25 to 50 per cent. These increases are connected with the same causes which have filled the office buildings south of Maiden Lane. It has been a rich man's year, and New York is more than ever becoming the rich man's city. From all over the country they are gathering to New York like flies to the feast, and when they get here they take to Fifth avenue as naturally as a parson takes to the pulpit. The steel consolidations alone brought at least eight millionaires to the city who, one and all of them have since taken a greater or smaller interest in real estate—chiefly situated on Fifth avenue.

Two other important areas of activity have come into prominence during the year, but their location has been determined less by general and local business prosperity as by prospective changes in transit conditions. In the last few months of 1900 and the beginning of 1901, speculators began to realize the important effect on Longacre Square and its vicinity which would ensue from the easterly direction which the Subway takes at 42d street. This fact, taken with a number of other tendencies made it probable that Longacre Square would be one of the greatest centres of traffic in the city; and large speculative purchases have been made in the neighborhood, frequently causing an advance in the prices at which property was held of as much as 33 per cent. But this advance has run ahead of the actual business prospects of the neighborhood, and has tended to discourage improvements. On the square itself plans have been filed for two hotels and one theatre, and on the side streets for a dozen apartment hotels; but recently the interest has somewhat abated. The builders of apartment hotels have found that they can obtain equally desirable locations cheaper along the line of Madison avenue and in other parts of the city. Hence, it is probable that the further development of the Longacre Square section will have to abide the actual completion of the Subway.

The other great centre of activity has been Greeley Square. The movement was started by the extensive purchases of R. H. Macy & Co. between 34th and 35th streets, immediately folowed by the announcement that Saks & Co. would rent a new building between 33d and 34th streets. These two transactions, which in each case established record prices for property on the Square, set the ball rolling, and encouraged the belief that the big retail trade would work up Sixth avenue to as far north as 35th street. Moreover, since the retail trade is a much better rent payer and land consumer than theatres or restaurants, a solidity was given to the prospects on Greeley Square, which those of Longacre Square have not yet attained. Recently there has been a still greater increase in activity, owing to the purchase of land near Seventh avenue and 33d street by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, for the purpose of a terminal station to be used both by its New Jersey and Long Island lines—which propose to reach the spot through deep tunnels. This announcement, which opened up indefinite possibilities for the concentration of traffic near Greeley Square, and may tend to make it more central than any other point in the city along the line of Broadway, was the signal for several important purchases and a considerable advance in values. The satisfaction of legal requirements on the part of the Pennsylvania Co. and the actual begining of the work will be eagerly awaited, both by real estate owners and speculators, and by the whole traveling population of the city. But it must be remembered that at least five years must elapse before these magnificent plans can be realized.

Washington Heights and, to a less extent, the Bronx, have also been the scene of operations on the part of speculative syndicates, who are looking forward to the time, now said to be not more than two years distant, when these districts will be brought within half an hour of the City Hall. The accumulation of land has been going on systematically, and Washington Heights is now, in a large measure, controlled by groups of operators, who are prepared to give builders every opportunity to make improvements as quickly as may be necessary. But these improvements will probably be more carefully regulated than they were on the West Side. During the coming year this process of accumulation may be expected to continue.

The Novel Character of Building Operations.

The building operations of the year 1901 in Manhattan and the Bronx have presented as many novel and interesting features as the operations in real estate, and for the most part they have been subject to the same influences. The totals of the plans filed, both as to number and the estimated cost, are formidable. They call for the erection in Manhattan and the Bronx of 2,512 buildings, to be erected at a cost of $118,897,820. These figures show a large increase over those of last year, in which the number of buildings planned was 1,969, and their estimated cost $57,233,355, but they do not reach the still larger totals of 1899. In that year plans were filed for 4,894 buildings, estimated to cost $127,211,255. It should be noted, however, that the difference in favor of 1899 is less than it appears, for the cost of the largest buildings now under construction in New York, that of R. H. Macy & Co., does not appear in the totals. In both 1899 and 1901 the filings were much increased by a prospective increase in stringency of certain provisions of the building law, and under such circumstances an exceptionally large proportion of the plans are never carried out, but the number of plans filed under these conditions were larger in 1899 than in 1901, because the changes in the building law of the earlier year were more considerable. But the true significance of the figures of the year is brought out rather by the statistics of averages than by those of totals. The average estimated cost of each building erected in New York was back in 1885 and 1886 about $15,000. From 1890 until 1897 it varied between $20,000 and $23,000. In 1899 it had increased to a little less than $26,000. The year following saw it reach $29,000, while during the past year it has amounted to the remarkable total of $48,000. Thus in the past fifteen years the average cost of each building erected in Manhattan and the Bronx has more than trebled, and no fact could be more eloquent than this of the profound change which has been taking place in the manner of living in New York, of the enormous centralization of population and business, and of the larger scale on which building operations are being undertaken. It is improbable that the higher average of 1901 will be maintained after the improvements of Washington Heights and the Bronx begins to go ahead at a more rapid rate; but in view of the prospective larger unit of building, in apartment houses, tenements, hotels, and office buildings, it is improbable that it will again fall below $35,000.

Coming now to a classification of the building operations of the year, it should first be noted that unusual activity has been taking place in three classes of buildings, viz.: apartment hotels, expensive residences and office buildings; and that it is the interests in New York life, to which such buildings cater, which have been dominant during the past year.

The case of apartment houses, flats and tenements is, at the present time, very peculiar. During recent years these classes of houses have actually dominated building operations. In 1899 three-fifths of all the money spent in building in New York went into flats and tenements, and up to the beginning of the present year the erection of the seven-story, semi-fireproof elevator apartment-house was one of the most popular kind of building operations. During 1901 a change has taken place in this respect. The number of plans filed for such houses was indeed very numerous up to the middle of April, when the new tenement-house law went into effect; but since then they have been a negligible quantity in the records of building operations. Of course, the changes in the law and the heavy filings in anticipation of these changes account for a large part of this decrease; but other causes were at work also. So far as elevator apartment houses are concerned, there has undoubtedly been in the past over-building. Those recently erected have not rented as fully as they should; and an examination of the record of transfers shows that builders and building loan operators are still carrying a large number of those buildings, amounting to fully 60 per cent., recently erected. In the meantime, the tendency, favored somewhat by the building law, is running strongly in the direction of apartment hotels, which are temporarily more popular with both tenants and investors. The following are the comparative figures covering the years 1901 and 1900 for apartment houses, flats and tenements:

	No.	Cost.	No.	Cost.
Apartment houses	145	$21,715,000	91	$13,921,000
Flats	278	7,496,000	350	6,167,500
Tenements	496	14,762,000	155	4,479,000

It will be seen that the figures for 1901 exceed, and in the case of the tenements, largely exceed those for 1900, but all these plans, with a few exceptions, were filed before April 15.

Perhaps the most remarkable phenomenon of the building year, to which the Record and Guide has frequently called attention, is the startling increase in the number of apartment hotels, for which plans have been filed The completed figures for 1901 show forty-six of these buildings to be erected at an estimated cost of $20,374,000. Several of these buildings, and those the most expensive on the list, are hotels for transients; but the vast bulk of them are intended for tenants who rent by the year. As against these figures for 1901 the totals of the preceding year are extremely small, amounting in number only to eleven, and in estimated cost to $2,080,000. We have discussed the meaning of this sudden appearance of a new type of building so thoroughly in previous issues that on this occasion it is only necessary to describe their present status. While they are undoubtedly an established type of residential apartment when built in small numbers, they are still an experiment when built upon a large scale, and the success of those now on the boards or under construction will be watched with the utmost interest. It is worthy of note, however, that the area within which they are being built is undergoing a constant extension, and that, as the new buildings are finished, there seems to be no difficulty about either leasing them to a manager or finding a sufficient number of tenants.

In the matter of private dwellings the year 1901 has also had its own unprecedented manner of behavior. We showed recently that from 1889 until the past year the number of dwellings which were planned to be erected in Manhattan steadily decreased. In 1890 the plans called for 835 of these buildings; in 1900 for 112; in 1901 for 100. In 1890 the money estimated to be invested in dwellings was $12,733,000; in 1900 only $3,928,000; in 1901 $6,020,000. Consequently the average cost of each residence has increased during the decade from about $15,000 to $60,000. This is but another illustration of our statement that the year 1901 has been a rich man's year in New York real estate, for the average cost of each dwelling planned had never before ever passed $35,000. Three-fourths of the 100 dwellings, for which plans were filed in 1901, were erected along the line of Fifth avenue. Under present conditions practically no private residences are being put up for people of moderate incomes in Manhattan, and the conditions are not likely to change for several years to come.

The other noteworthy feature of the building year has been the renewed interest in the construction of "sky-scrapers." During the past year plans have been filed for nineteen tall office buildings, to be erected at an estimated cost of $12,315,000. During no previous year have these totals come anywhere near being reached. It should be remarked in this connection that there is no serious tendency, as is sometimes asserted, in the direction of a lower type of office building. In two cases banking houses have decided to erect four-story buildings on valuable down-town property, but these cases are exceptional, and whenever they occur they make abutting property so much more valuable for a sky-scraper by preserving light and air that they frequently result immediately in the planning of a tall building on adjoining property. This was the case with the proposed Speyer Building on Pine street. If the height of office buildings diminishes, it will only be because of legal restrictions. Every business tendency is in an opposite direction.

The Prospects for 1902.

The prospects for activity in real estate and building during 1902 are exceedingly good. Indeed, it may almost be said that the matter is settled in advance. General and local prosperity will have the same effect during the coming as it has had during the past year, only the effect is likely to be even more pronounced. From the investment point of view real estate occupies a more favorable position, compared to stocks and bonds. than it did two years ago. Taxes will be slightly reduced during the coming year, and a still further reduction is promised. Just at present operations are hampered by money stringency; but financial experts believe that the stringency will be only temporary. More important, however, than the favorable character of such general conditions is the palpable fact that the local causes, which have favored activity during the past year, will persist with undiminished vitality. The process of transformation, both in the building equipment of central Manhattan, and in the method of financing real estate operations, has no more than begun, and can be stopped only by another period of hard times. New real estate companies are being organized every day, and will contribute to the sum total of the business. The consummation of improvements now under way will show the kind of operations which are most profitable, and will produce changes which, in turn, must lead to further improvements. The material circumstance, however, which will keep real estate operators and brokers guessing and running for many years to come, are the important changes now impending in the rapid transit system of the Greater New York. Since the completion of the elevated roads and the Brooklyn Bridge, there have been no radical and far-reaching improvement in local methods of transit. The increased efficiency of the surface roads has indeed been immensely beneficial, yet it has not helped much where help was most needed, viz., in the long distance travel. But hereafter there will be a succession of transit improvements, each one of which will have important, and in some measure unaccountable effects. First will come the introduction of electric power on the elevated roads, then the new East River Bridge, then the Subway, then the Brooklyn Tunnel, and soon thereafter the Pennsylvania and Long Island tunnels, while not far behind will follow the Canal Street Bridge and extensions to the Subway system. Each of these improvements will effect important local changes, and in the aggregate they will immensely increase the economy and efficiency with which business can be transacted in New York. They will change the face of the city and make a very different distribution of population and trade. It will be the great opportunity and effort of real estate operators and builders to anticipate and take advantage of these changes; and it will be a job quite sufficient to keep them busy.

The only one of these changes, however, which will be actually effected during the coming year is the least important, viz., the use of electric power by the Manhattan Railroad Co., and the consequence is that 1902, like 1901, will not be remarkable for improvements on the outskirts of the growing city. Operations in vacant property will continue, but building on Washington Heights and the Bronx are not likely to begin in any quantity until the spring of 1903. The small builder and house buyer will have to wait another year before he again obtains an opportunity to do business on this side of the East River. To the west and north of Central Park there is likely to be a limited revival of apartment house building, and the construction of a few high-class residences; but the promise of activity is not very great. Neither is there a probability of any uusual activity in tenement-house land, and buildings. Existing five and six-story tenements are certain, under present conditions to improve as investments, for the percentage of vacancies was never smaller than now, nor the rents higher; but it will probably take another year for tenement-house builders to adapt themselves to the provisions of the new law and the more stringent supervision that is threatened. They are likely to keep very quiet at least until the close of the present session of the Legislature, in the hope that something will be done to modify the rigors of the law.

It is improbable that during 1902 as many expensive residences will be built along the line of Fifth avenue as during 1901. During the coming spring, between thirty and forty residences wil be put upon the market at prices ranging from $100,000 to $300,000, so that it is scarcely conceivable that the existing demand for handsome houses, great as it is, will be sufficient to take a large proportion of these residences off the market. The desire, on the part of the owners of costly private houses, to remodel their houses is likely to continue, and there will undoubtedly be much activity, but the record of the past year in this respect can hardly be duplicated. On the other hand hotels and apartment hotels will continue to be erected in even greater quantities. Many of these buildings, several of them of the most expensive description, are announced to be on the boards, and their construction will be begun during 1902. In business buildings, also, there promises to be a still greater amount of activity. In the new wholesale district along the line of Fifth avenue, between 12th and 23d streets, there will be large purchases of land and many big improvements, while the same is true of all those parts of the city available as sites for factory and loft buildings. As for sky-scrapers, it is probable that the record for 1902 will surpass the very considerable one of 1901. It would be possible to mention ten projects for new office buildings, all south of Maiden Lane, and all of the highest description, and there are more impending. Battery Place, Wall street, Broad street, Broadway, Pine street, and several other side streets will all be the scene of lively building. The material men engaged in this kind of work will consequently have plenty to do. It should be noticed, indeed, that much of the work for which plans have been filed recently will not be begun until the spring, so that the furnishers of building materials will get the benefit of the business during the coming year.

Finally, the great popular interest in real estate should be remarked as the most encouraging harbinger of future activity. This popular interest will make itself felt in a somewhat different way from ever before; but there is no doubt that it exists, and that it may culminate in a period of activity and advancing prices, which will compensate brokers, operators and builders for many lean years.

MUCH more buoyancy and confidence of feeling characterize the community at the opening of this year than was the case at the beginning of last. It is true that there was more buying and a rapider advance in prices when 1901 was new, but then money was very cheap, prices were lower and there was so much that was good to look forward to. But to-day we have a new buying movement in the stock market that may carry prices higher, while at the same time money has recently been quite high and is still comparatively so; some large failures have been averted only by help offered from interested motives, and some gigantic operations have failed to the extent, at least, of being prevented from reaching a destined end on time. There is, too, a preponderance of expert opinion indicating a falling off in railroad business, and more confusion as to rates. That prices advance under these circumstances shows that the optimism of the public has been revived and faith in a commercial destiny for the country much beyond anything ever yet seen is apparently stronger than ever. For the public are now making quotations, as a sudden growth in commission house business clearly proves. Whereas the statistics relating to business done on the Stock Exchange in the last two months of 1901 reveal realizing and professional manipulation, they now display outside buying in good volume. There is no use in commenting upon such a state of things; it is as inexplicable on sound business reasons, as was the movement of last spring. It is fair, however, to add that while speculation predominates there is no want of investment buyers, from which it may be argued that a most conservative class are convinced that it is dangerous to wait longer for lower prices if they are to secure a return on their capital. The reactionary movement late yesterday qualifies what has already been said, but does not refute the assertion that the public are in a most optimistic mood.

WITH the opening of the Legislature, curiosity is naturally aroused regarding the probabilities for a reconsideration of the Tenement House law. That the dissatisfaction with the law will take the form of a bill, or bills, for its amendment is almost sure; in fact, there is a possibility of three amendatory bills being introduced. One, it is reported, may come from the Tenement House Commission itself, because it is understood that there is in that body an appreciation of the value and necessity of a discretionary power that was absent from their minds a year ago, and that they are aware of the deficiencies of their work in other respects. Those who oppose more particularly the clauses of the Tenement House Act relating to "now existing tenements," are at work upon a bill that will, if passed, mitigate the severity of some of the provisions of these clauses and repeal others. Finally, a new bill is to be drawn and forwarded to the Legislature which will cover the whole ground from the owners' and builders' point of view. If any of these bills can pass, it is the Commission's that will have the best chance, but when all are in, the Legislature cannot fail to see that there is a great divergence of opinion upon what should, or should not be done, involving too much detail for examination during session, and they may, as an easy way out of the difficulty, adopt Senator Trainor's suggestion for the appointment of a Committee to sit during recess and inquire into the results of the working of the act passed last year.

The New Mortgage Tax Proposition.

AT first sight Governor Odell's suggestion that mortgages be taxed one-half of one per cent. on being recorded, and thereupon become exempt from all other forms of taxation, appeared to offer a fair compromise upon which those who think mortgages a proper subject for taxation, and those who think they should be entirely exempt therefrom, could meet. An inquiry into the consequences of the imposition of the tax, however, will show that it is not. A good many people will doubtless say that the dominant party in the Legislature are so determined to secure for the State its income independently of the local tax-gatherer, and have so set their minds upon a tax on mortgages as a means to that end, that it is better to accept the moderate tax now proposed, and close a struggle that has been carried on already for two sessions of the Legislature, with the usual resulting injury to business, and which otherwise may end in the adoption of a much severer imposition. This is a craven view of the struggle to take, and ought not to be allowed to control action.

The opposition to the earlier proposals was based upon the principle that mortgages were not a proper subject for taxation, in that such a tax would be a second tax upon that part of the property-value represented by the mortgage and, further, that such a tax would impede progress by increasing the cost of the improvement of land. These objections apply, also, to the proposal under review. Governor Odell seems to think that there is a considerable portion of real estate that escapes taxation through undervaluation, which is not the case. The law requires that real estate shall be valued for the purposes of taxation at its fair market value; it can require no more. The Tax Department of this city claims that they obey the law, and the obvious inference, from the fact that they make a rule for all of seventy-five per cent. of a valuation of one hundred per cent., based upon the realized prices of a few, is that they do. The difference is but a fair allowance for discrepancies and the uncertainties that would attend results, if any very large amount of the property valued were forced upon the market. Hence, there is really no part of real estate that escapes taxation; hence, also, if the mortgage thereon is taxed to that extent it is double taxation.

In the ordinary way, and especially in the rural districts, a recording tax of 50c. on each $100 of mortgage, though considered as a recording tax a very high one, might not do much harm or be very severely resisted, even though double taxation and a violation of the principle that no form of property should be taxed twice for the same object. The evil effects of the tax could be minimized by extending the terms for which mortgages are customarily made, and might possibly be offset by a greater demand for this form of investment when relieved from the personal property tax. But there is a very large amount of capital employed exclusively in urban physical development, generally secured by short term mortgages, which is turned over once or oftener in the course of a year. A recording tax of one-half of one per cent. upon these mortgages would, in effect, be an annual tax of that amount, and sometimes of one per cent. upon all this capital. It requires no argument to show that this would be obstructive of most forms of development and a hardship to the building industry that already has more than its share of difficulties to contend with. Generally the incidence of a mortgage tax would be in the cities, and therefore a discrimination against the urban in favor of the rural taxpayer. Of Governor Odell's estimated $600,000,000 of mortgages made annually, about $375,000,000 can be accounted for in New York City as at present constituted, alone. How much of the total Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Albany and other cities contribute we cannot say, but surely so much that it leaves little to come from the purely agricultural sections.

We refrain from going into the question whether the loaner or borrower would pay the tax, because our forte is not the exchange of badinage. We know that people in authority sometimes indulge in this form of boldness. Just now, for instance, German ministerialists ars trying to persuade the Reichstag that the baker and not the consumer of bread would pay the increased grain duties they want imposed. In like manner the Governor's friends in Albany would doubtless be glad to have the builder think that if they put a tax upon the capital of the building loan operator, the latter and not he will have to pay it, but we do not think they will have that pleasure. For the time being we content ourselves with stating some of the most obvious reasons why Governor Odell's latest mortgage tax proposition ought to be opposed as vigorously as were his former one, and that of his predecessor in the Gubernatorial chair.

IN Europe the new year opened much more cheerfully than the old one did. This is the logical result of the heavy liquidation that extended through the first three-quarters of the latter. The best sign of a new condition of things is that bad news now fails to disturb values, it being considered that there is more than enough of good to counterbalance it. The statement of President Koch of the Reichsbank, cabled to this side this week, taking the position that, so far as Germany is concerned, the worst has been seen, is supported by facts and figures given in this column in previous weeks, and may be considered conservative. So much is anticipated from the full resumption of gold mining in the Transvaal, that it may not be amiss to show what the exact situation of that industry was at a recent date, as recorded by mail advices, which are: The total amount of gold produced in May last—the first return since the resumption of milling operations—was 7,478 ounces, but there has since been a steady increase, until 39,075 ounces was reached in November; that is, in value, from about $150,000 to $780,000 per month. It has lately been announced that as from December 15, permission would be given to start 100 stamps weekly, instead of that number monthly, as previously decided, while 400 refugees would be allowed to return to Johannesburg each week instead of 100. It is anticipated that within the next two months at least one-fourth of the aggregate number of stamps at present erected will be running. In addition to the miners who are returning to work, permission has been given to 1,600 civilians to go back to the Rand district. The Johannesburg Stock Exchange has been reopened, and it is stated that arrangements have been made with the Portugese Government for the importation of native labor from the Mozambique territory, now that the Delagoa Bay Railway is available for civilian traffic. It will, therefore, be seen that the re-establishment of the gold-mining industry is progressing with greater rapidity than seemed probable a few months ago.

Building Through the Block.

RIGHT TO BUILD FROM STREET TO STREET SUSTAINED.

Justice Lawrence, in Special Term, recently issued a mandatory order on the late Commissioner of Buildings requiring him to issue a permit for the construction of the Women's Hotel, in accordance with plans filed. The title of the case was People et rel. Women's Hotel Co. v. Wallace, Commissioner of Buildings, etc., and the facts are given in the opinion handed down by the court, which is as follows:

Section 10 of the Building Code, which the respondent relies upon, does not, in my opinion, confer upon the commissioner of buildings the absolute discretion which he claims in this case. He states in his affidavit that he refuses to allow the building to be erected as proposed, for the reason that it would absolutely destroy the ventilation through the block, and he further contends that the adjoining property-owners are to be considered in determining this question, and that to allow such a structure to be erected as is proposed would interfere with their rights; that instead of having the courts arranged as is proposed by the relator there should be a clear space above the second story through the middle of the plot, thus affording the necessary ventilation for the remainder of the block. I am of the opinion that the discretionary power vested in the commissioner as to the distribution of the "free air space" referred to in section 10 of the Building Code to secure "light and ventilation" relates to the light and ventilation of the building itself, and no other statute or provision of law has been cited to show that he possesses any other power. Chapter 334 of the Laws of 1901 relates to tenement houses in New York and Buffalo and has no reference to hotels. It appears from the affidavits read by the relator that heretofore a practical construction has been given to the statute, and that buildings occupying a space of more than 25 feet by 100, and running through from block to block, have been permitted and allowed. I think that such construction should have great weight with the court in construing the statute. Among the instances of buildings thus erected, referred to in the affidavit presented by the relator, are: The Royalton Apartment House, running through from 43d to 44th st, between 5th and 6th avs, twelve stories high, which has no such space. The New York Bar Association, between 5th and 6th avs, about 50 feet high at the lowest part, running through the block from 43d to 44th st, which has no such space. The Pabst Brewing Co. Building, between 7th and 8th avs, about three stories high, and running through the block from 124th to 125th st, which has no such space The Metropolitan Street Railway Co. power plant, between Lexington and 3d avs, about nine stories high, and running through the block from 25th to 26th st, which has no such space, and the loft building, about 115 feet west of 5th av, ten stories high, running through the block from 17th to 18th st, which has no such space. In addition to these buildings it also appears from the relator's affidavits that buildings have been either recently erected on or are now in process of erection under the existing Building Code in which no such requirement has been made as is insisted upon by the commissioner in this case. Those buildings are: A loft building, about 200 feet east of 6th av, eleven stories high, running through the block from 18th to 19th st; a loft building, about 200 feet east of 6th av, eleven stories high, running through the block from 19th to 20th st; and the new Grand Union Hotel, about 125 feet east of Park av, eight stories above the curb and running through the block from 41st to 42d st. The refusal of the commissioner to approve the plans in this case is not based upon the fact that light and ventilation will not be secured to the building itself, but solely on the ground, as above stated, that to construct the building as contemplated would be to interfere with the light and ventilation of the other owners of property on the same block. As I regard that position as untenable, the writ asked for will be granted.

Tenement House Law.

THE VIEWS OF THE BUILDERS' LEAGUE REGARDING ITS ENFORCEMENT.

At a regular meeting of the Builders' League, held on the evening of December 5th, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, A bill known as the "Tenement House Law," which was passed by the Legislature during its last session at the demand of certain individuals, will come under the jurisdiction of these same individuals in an official capacity on the first prox., and,

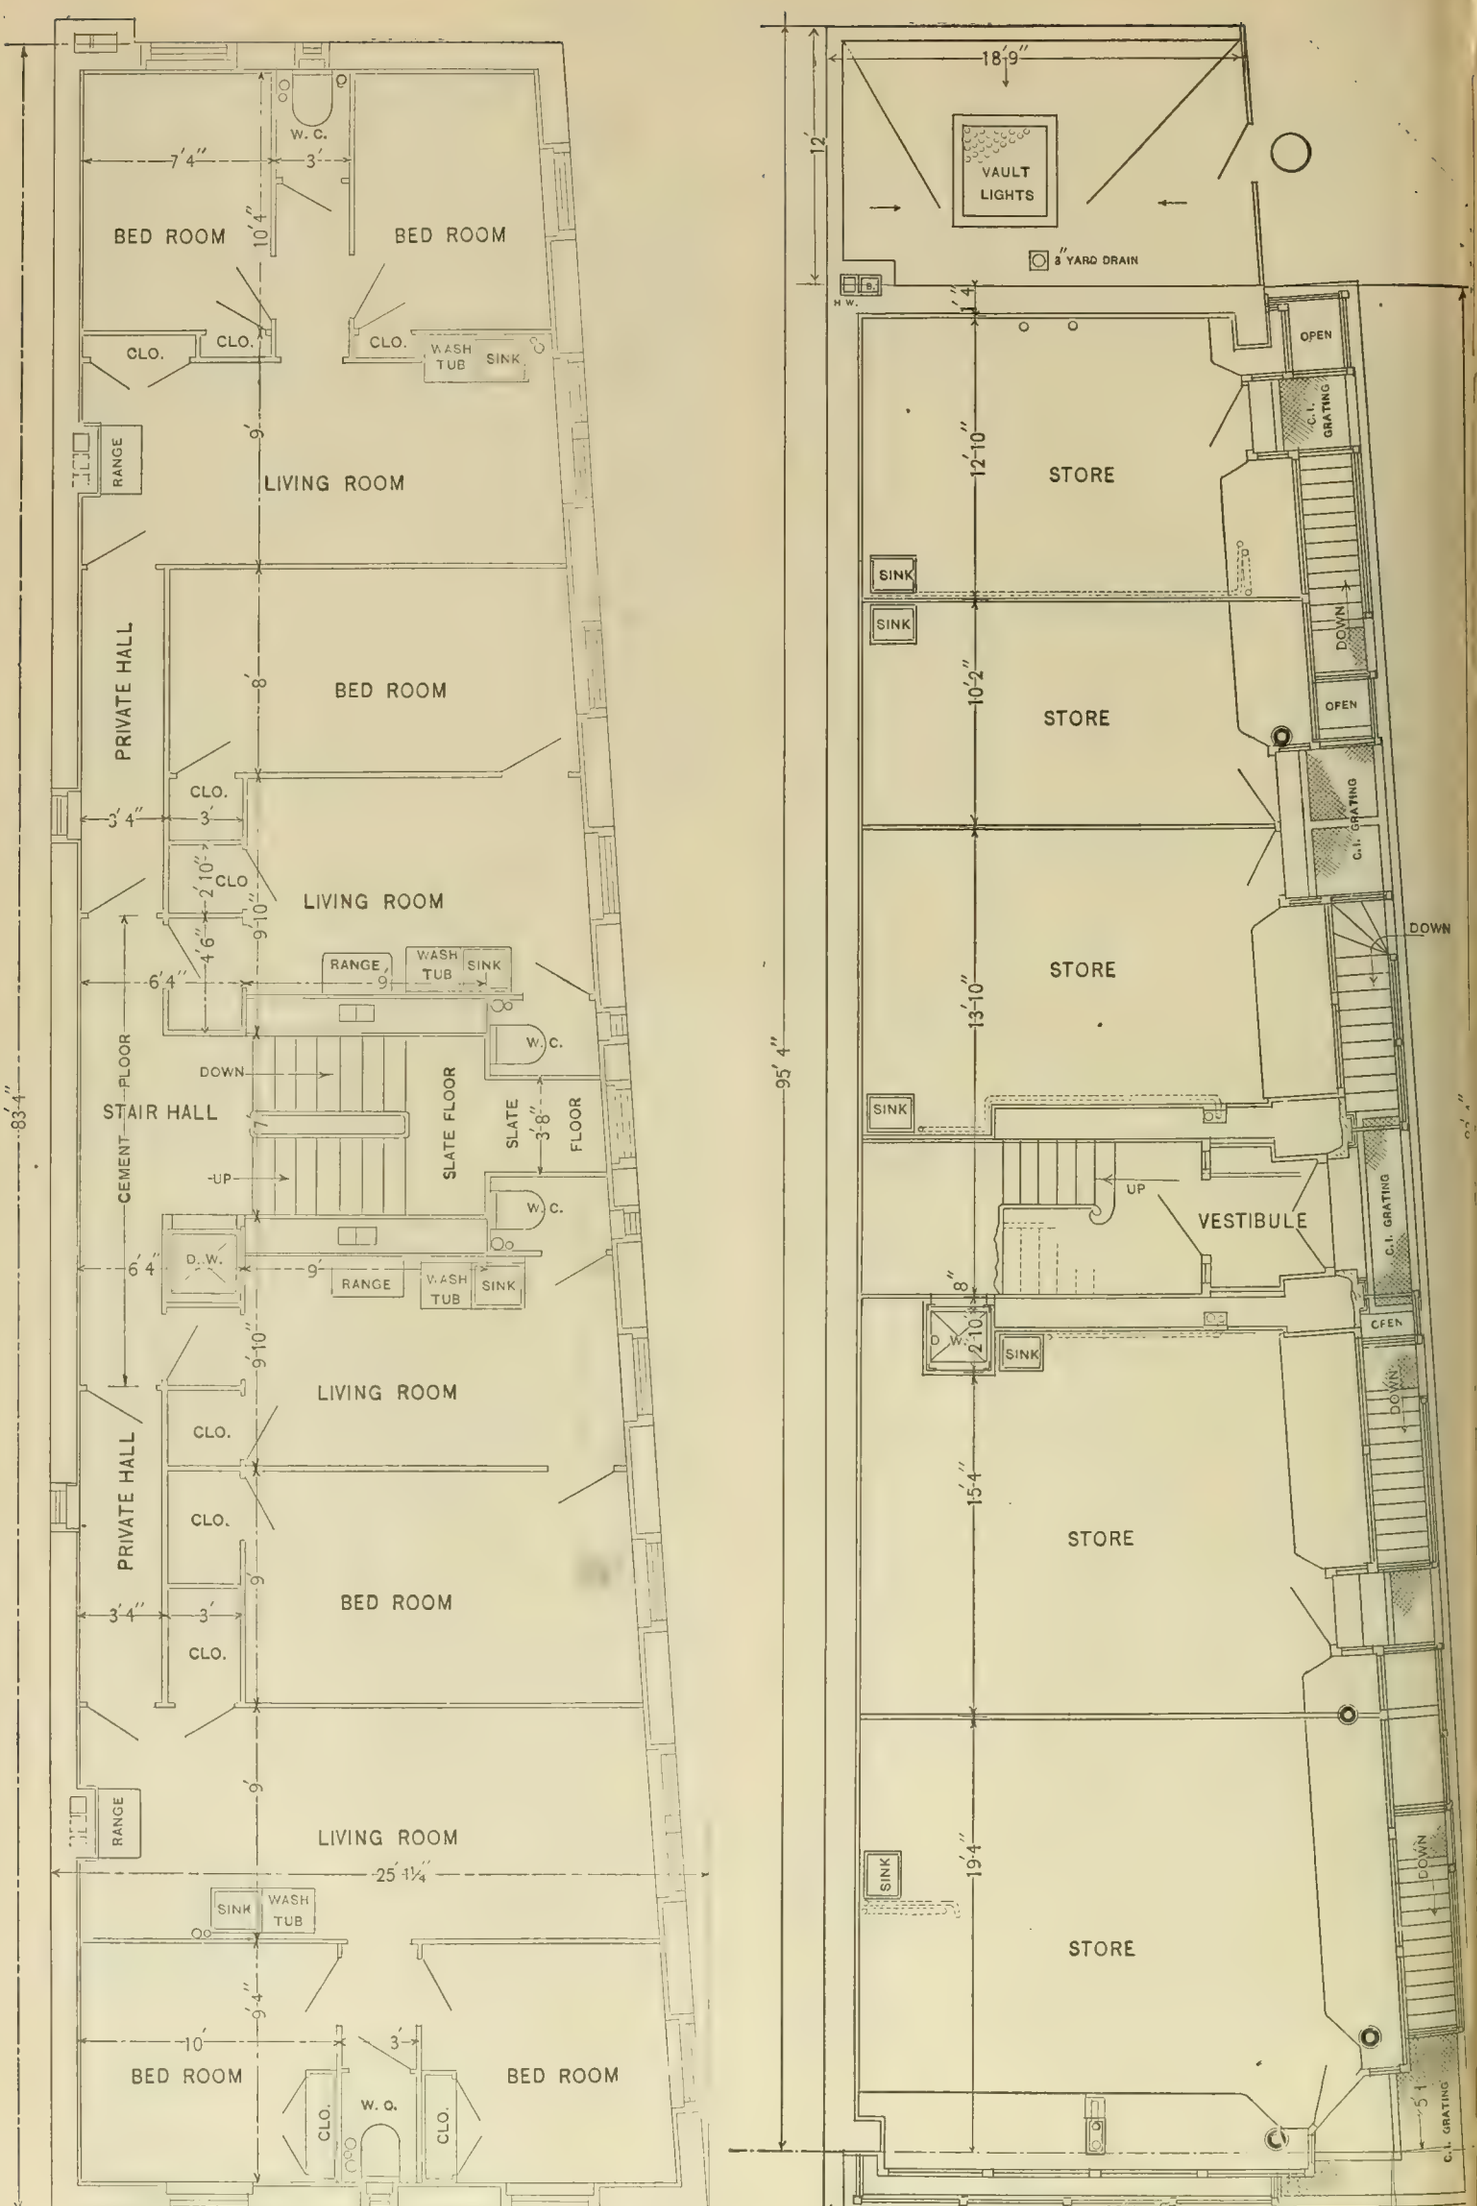
Whereas, It has been found that the enforcement of its provisions will be a matter of very great difficulty, owing to its confiscatory and unconstitutional requirements; and,

Whereas, It is now stated that in order to make the administration of this law easier for those charged with the duty, it is proposed in their behalf that certain changes should be made in the law; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Legislative Committee of this League be directed to oppose any and all changes in the law at the coming session.

While its restrictive provisions have already worked much injury to the mechanic, its uncalled for aspersions have cast odium upon apartment-house dwellers, its confiscatory measures great injustice and hardship to the individual owner, and while we resent the star chamber methods adopted by the advocates of the bill, when endeavors were made to point out the injustice and harshness of the measure at the time it was "jammed" through the Legislature, we believe that its "benificent" provisions should be enforced in every particular in order that they may be thoroughly understood by our citizens; and be it further

Resolved, That we firmly protest against any tinkering with the matter, but request instead, that a committee of the Legislature should sit during the recess to consider any suggestions made for alterations or amendment, and that such committee should report to the Legislature the result of their conclusions on the assembling of the Legislature of 1903; and be it further



Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Governor Odell, and also to the Legislature.

New-Law Fireproof Tenement.

Elsewhere will be found the ground and typical floor plan of a 5-sty fireproof tenement which will be erected next May by Ernest Flagg, architect, for the Bishop estate. This plan is interesting, being the first of its kind in construction, and giving the solution of another problem in design by means of the new law. The architect claims for it a structural and commercial superiority over what could have been done under the new law. Regarding it he is quoted as having said:

"By making the building fireproof," said the architect, "I save one foot of construction work and materials on every story, and four inches in every partition. I am convinced that this method of construction is better and more economical than the old way, to say nothing of the greater good brought about for those who live in tenements.

"The only fault I have to find with the new law is that it requires ten feet of space in the rear of tenements erected on corner lots; this appears to be arbitrary and productive of no good. The owners of property who care to build tenements will soon find that the new law is no hardship. Upon a fifty foot basis a tenement may be erected which will pay better than under the old system."

Old Rules and New Cases.

A COURT OF APPEALS DECISION ENDS AN IMPORTANT LITIGATION AND ESTABLISHES A NEW RULE AFFECTING CONVEYANCES BY THE CITY.

Among the most firmly established rules of law relating to real property is the one regulating the construction of deeds of property abutting on streets. In the upper part of New York City, and generally throughout the country, the owners of lots fronting on streets have title up to the middle line of the street. Subject as this ownership is to the right of the public to the use of the street, it yet has some, and often, very substantial value, especially in cases where the street plan has been changed and the old avenues have been closed. The bare title being under ordinary circumstances of little value to any one but the owner of the abutting land, there has been established a presumption or rule of law that, in the absence of clear evidence of a contrary intention, one selling lots bounded by or upon a street intends to convey with his land his title to the bed of the street.

Before 1796, the common lands of New York City were surveyed by a man whose name has become very familiar to conveyancers, since his work is the foundation of the titles to all the real estate in the immense tract from east of 3d to beyond 6th av on the west, and from 23d st north to a slanting line starting below 79th st and running northwesterly to 93d st. Casimir Th. Goerck divided most of the tract into lots 920x 260 ft. in size, traversed by a "Middle Road" 100 ft. wide, and "East" and "West" roads, each 60 ft. in width, in addition to the "Poast Road," rather irregular in course. The alternate lots were sold and leased by the city, by deeds bounding the lots by transverse streets 60 ft. in breadth. Subsequently, in the early years of the 19th Century, the legislature appointed a commission to lay out the whole island north of the settled parts into streets, avenues and public places; and the commission, in order, perhaps, to justify its existence, proceeded to devise a new plan which coincided in part with the old Goerck plan, but, in the northerly portions especially, departed very considerably from the street lines as originally mapped out. The result was that purchasers of lots under the old dispensation found their lands no longer bounded north, east, south and west by streets, but in many instances cut up into strips of varying width and of proportionately diminished availability.

Among the owners thus inconvenienced was a Dr. John Graham, who had bought from one George McKay a lot near the northerly boundary of the common lands, where the discrepancy between the old and the new streets was greatest. Eighty-fourth st was found to run directly through his lot, dividing it into two sections, one lying wholly to the south, the other wholly to the north of the new street. The old street, on the other hand, bounding his tract on the north, ran through the middle of the block between 84th and 85th sts. The Common Council, recognizing the hardship, arranged with many of the lot-owners thus circumstanced to exchange lands to the south for lands to the north of the new streets, to the end that their holdings might once more be unified and bounded on all sides by streets. Dr. Graham accordingly, in 1836, reconveyed to the city his land north of 84th st in exchange for a conveyance by the city of its land south of 84th st, intending thus to give the city the entire block to the north in return for a symmetrical and united parcel bounded by 83d and 84th sts. Unfortunately, the conveyancer so chose his language as to make it doubtful whether the southerly half of the old street lying north of Dr. Graham's land was effectually included in the grant to the city, although there could be no doubt that both parties intended the deed to convey all that Dr. Graham owned. The city thereafter sold the lots on the block north of 84th st to various purchasers, who improved the same, paid taxes and assessments, transferred or enjoyed their holdings unsuspectingly for sixty years, when, to their discomfiture, the last surviving daughter of Dr. John Graham broke a silence of two generations and boldly laid claim to the southerly half of the old street, a strip running from 5th to 4th avs, midway between 84th and 85th sts.

Suits were brought against the various owners, some of whom became scared and compromised, but others stood their ground and resisted this attempt to oust them from what they had so long regarded as their property. One of the suits, brought against the owner of a handsome private stable running over and beyond the disputed strip, has just been decided by the Court of Appeals, from whose statement of facts the foregoing has been gleaned. The case is reported as Graham v. Stern, 168 N. Y. Rep. 517. The decision is interesting, not only for its local value, as terminating a series of expensive and uncomfortable litigations, but more because it lays down a new rule of law of general application, certain to be frequently invoked in the future. The court decides that the ancient rule, explained at beginning of this article, by virtue of which a conveyance of lands on a street is construed to carry with it the land in the street, has no application, or rather is subject to an important exception, when the grantor, or person making the conveyance, is not a private individual, but the city itself. It is absurd, says the court, to assume that the city intended to part with the title to that which it would need for public purposes as soon as the streets should be opened; and so, rule or no rule, the court refused to construe the original deeds of the lots shown on the old Goerck map, as conveying any interest whatever in the projected streets on the north and south. So far as private individuals are concerned, then, the ancient rule is left unimpaired; but deeds from the city will henceforth have to be construed by different rules, based on common sense reasoning, and, therefore, doubtless acceptable to the general public, little worried about precedent. In the suit referred to, McKay, and consequently Dr. Graham, were held never to have acquired title to any part of the old street; and consequently the purchasers from the city after the adoption of the present street plan, obtained a valid title as against all the world to the land described in their deeds, a conclusion as consonant with justice as it is satisfactory to them.

Streets East of the Bronx River.

SOME REASONS WHY THE WORK OF PREPARING THE MAPS SHOULD PROCEED WITHOUT INTERRUPTION.

Before the public run away with the idea that the streets in the section of the Bronx, east of the Bronx River, are being mapped out extravagantly, they ought to be made acquainted with some comparisons of street to total area in various places that will tend to ease their minds, as for instance:

Street area, Washington..	34.8%
Street area, Manhattan, bet 34th and 125th sts .	35.5%
Street area, Manhattan as a whole.....	35.3%
Street area, Vienna, Austria.....	35.8%
Street area, Eastern Bronx, as per lay-out.....	37.5%

These figures are taken from a report presented to the Board of Public Improvements by Louis A. Risse, Chief Engineer of the Topographical Bureau, in support of the map for Eastern Bronx which is fast approaching completion, which has been under general discussion since the territory was annexed in 1895, and under particular discussion since the map was adopted by the Board on August 31, 1898. or something more than six years in the one case and three years in the other.

The map is designed to meet the wants of a large population calculated to reach 1,000,000 in 20 years, and to avoid the mistakes made in map-making for other parts of the city. For instance, in Manhattan, if the blocks had been laid out 200 feet east and west, instead of north and south, there would have been over 50 avenues instead of only 14, and what an ease of travel that would have made instead of the present discomfort.

In the map under discussion the blocks are on the average 200x600 ft., which is a mean between the 420-ft. and the 800-ft. blocks of the old city, and probably the correct length of blocks without cutting up too much property. Wide streets, 80 ft. or 100 ft. are laid out at right angles to the avenues, about every half mile. Diagonal avenues are laid out to communicate directly with the outlying districts. These avenues not only offer communication on the shortest possible way, but they also afford an opportunity for locating public squares and places at the intersection of avenues sufficiently large to accommodate railroad and other traffic. Such public places are not to be laid out as parks, but are to be paved, for the free circulation of teams and people. They will relieve wagon traffic, which on reaching them can disperse in every direction. Accommodations are provided for rapid transit and trolley lines. The location of public places at the intersection of wide avenues and other prominent points is a matter which was neglected in all the old cities, American as well as European, excepting, perhaps, Washington, and consequently they now have to expend immense sums to correct the errors of the ancestral map-makers.

How easy it is to make mistakes in this matter is shown by experience even in a section so recently laid out as Western Bronx, where a number of petitions have been filed with the local board asking for the narrowing of the sidewalks, in order that the roadways may be enlarged. A mere expedient, but the only remedy apparent in the circumstances. A notable case is 3d av, traffic on which is seriously congested by reason of its narrowness. An idea of the magnitude to which the traffic of both the east and west sections of the borough will attain may be gleaned from the present volume of holiday travel at the Fordham terminus of the elevated road, where the passengers handled in a single day exceeds 23,000. It is as certain as any future event can be that the north to south traffic of the east of the Bronx territory will be as large and tax street facilities as heavily as will ever be the case in the western section of the borough. For this reason 100-ft. parallel avenues, averaging from 500 to 600 ft. apart, are imperatively necessary. What will happen in the future if the district is denied its proper quota of wide streets is clearly shown by the present state of things in Manhattan, where all the avenues are excessively crowded, and the evil is growing steadily worse with the increase of population and traffic.

It is to be borne in mind that placing a street on a map does not mean that it will be opened at once—that point may not be reached for many years. What is wanted is the placing upon the map a complete street system, so that property owners may know what to do in all cases. By this policy of foresight the cost of opening streets hereafter will not be needlessly augmented by payments for buildings taken within the lines of the street. Adopting the map is thus a matter of precaution and preparation and not of consummation. "We provide for the future," says Mr. Risse, in his report, "so that it may bring no inconvenience when the time for street improvements arrives. The layout of the east of the Bronx section does not propose more wide avenues than the past experience of the 23d and 24th wards shows to be necessary. The cost of acquiring title to wide streets, should 40 per cent. of the cost be laid upon the city, in accordance with the previous practice of the Board, will not load the city with obligations aggregating millions, because such proceedings will be scattered over a long period of years, and the rise in assessed valuations will be so great that the cost of acquiring title will pale into insignificance by comparison.

"We must have wide streets. They cannot be cut through after a district has been built up. We know already how many such wide avenues will be needed in the annexed territory, and where they should be located. When they become necessary it will be too late to lay out and construct them. Placing them on the map now involves no immediate outlay, and will save an enormous tax upon the people hereafter. Nothing is so economical as foresight. To disregard the warnings of the past brings no reward, but needless burdens."

TAXATION OF MORTGAGES AND OTHER IMPORTANT QUESTIONS.

There is a general approval of the manner and spirit of Governor Odell's message of 1902, though by no means an agreement upon the wisdom of all his recommendations. The message is plain, direct and business-like, and this much may be said, by it the Governor shows himself to be a practical politician in the best sense of the word.

The portions of the message which have received most attention are those relating to the tax on mortgages, to the proposed limit of the amount of the municipal salary list to a fixed percentage of the tax levy, and the suggestion that Assemblyman Costello's labor bill should be again considered minus its provision for a limit of time within which demands for damages for injuries could be made. Regarding the first there is a feeling that the bill introduced by Senator Stranahan in response to the suggestion of the Governor will go through. The text of the bill, less the preamble, is:

There shall be levied, collected and paid for the use of the State, on all mortgages of real estate situated within this State, the execution of which shall be acknowledged or proven on or subsequently to the first day of March, 1902, a tax of 50 cents for each $100 or major fraction thereof of indebtedness which is, or under any contingency may be secured by such mortgages according to the terms thereof. Executory contracts for the sale of real estate, under which the vendee has or is entitled to possession, shall be deemed to be mortgages for the purposes of this article.

All mortgages subject to taxation under section 290, and the bonds, notes, obligations and debts secured thereby shall be exempt from all other taxation under the authority of this State, or of any county, city, town, village, or other sub-division thereof. The assessment, taxation and exemption of mortgages, the execution of which is now, or shall be acknowledged, or proven prior to the first day of March, 1902, and the bonds, notes, obligations and debts secured thereby, shall continue to be governed, notwithstanding anything in this article contained, by the laws heretofore in force.

No mortgages subject to tax under section 290 shall be made the basis of any action or legal proceeding, or received in evidence in any court, or admitted to record, until the proper stamp for the tax due in respect thereof shall have been affixed thereto and cancelled by the recording officer of the county in which the mortgaged real estate or some part thereof is situated.

The tax imposed by section 290 shall be paid to the recording officer to whom the mortgage is first offered for record, and it shall be the duty of such recording officer forthwith to affix to the mortgage, and cancel, in such manner as the State Comptroller may direct, and record, an adhesive stamp denoting the amount so paid, and a mortgage so recorded may then be recorded in any other county without payment of any additional tax.

Adhesive stamps for the purposes aforesaid shall be prepared by the Comptroller of the State, in such form, and of such denominations, as he may from time to time prescribe, and shall by him be furnished to the recording officers of all the counties of this State, who shall account to him therefor, at the face value thereof, and who shall also account for, and pay over to him, all taxes received by them under the provisions of this article, in such manner at such times, and under such regulations, as he may prescribe; and the several recording officers of the State shall give a bond, to the people of the State of New York, in form to be prescribed by the State Comptroller for such amount, in each case, as he may require, conditioned for the faithful discharge of their duties under this article; such bond shall also be approved by the Comptroller, as to the sufficiency of the sureties thereon, and in case of default thereunder shall be prosecuted by him in his name as Comptroller. Forthwith, upon receiving such taxes from the recording officers, the Comptroller shall pay the same into the treasury of the State, the credit of the general fund thereof, and shall annually, in the month of January, report to the Legislature the taxes received by him pursuant to this article.

This proposition is regarded as an ingenious bridging by compromise of the differences between two strong parties of economists; and, unless the opponents in principle of taxation on mortgages put up a very strong fight, the bill will go through. Assemblyman Seymour gives the opponents of the measure a good vantage ground on which to struggle, by promptly re-introducing the bill to exempt mortgages from taxation, which last year had the endorsement of the real estate and building interests of New York City, as well as those belonging to other places.

Notwithstanding the rural legislator's love of fixing the bounds of action of the cities, he hesitates before the problem of naming a percentage of the tax levy to which the salary list shall be limited. The dilemma presented is this: If it is made too high it must inevitably lead to extravagance; if too low, to inefficiency. The first horn scares more than the second. Of course, the representatives of the cities, if free from party obligations, will resent any interference with the freedom of the government of those cities in a matter so important.

Regarding the third matter mentioned above, a labor bill that does not supply a limit such as that referred to, would hardly meet the approval of the employers, and would be, if introduced, vigorously opposed by them.

The Tenement House question is represented by a bill introduced by Senator Wagner to amend the Tenement House Act passed by the last Legislature, which adds to section 162 these words: "In the boroughs of Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond such buildings as have been erected under the supervision of the Department of Buildings, and in pursuance of duly authorized permits from said department prior to the passage of this act, shall be exempt from all the provisions of this act, except the provision relating to fire-escapes."

A bill introduced by Senator Wagner authorizes the city to extend, open and construct a thoroughfare, not exceeding 80 ft. in width, from the present easterly terminus of the Eastern Parkway, to the westerly boundary of Forrest Park, in the borough of Queens, across lands of the Cypress Hills Cemetery.

HUSBAND AND WIFE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

(1) A married woman buys a piece of property (money not received from her husband), and owns it free and clear for some time; she then mortgages it, signing the usual bond and mortgage, in which the husband does not join. If, in event of a foreclosure, and a deficiency judgment being obtained against the wife, can the mortgagee attach the property of the husband? (2) The husband being engaged in business under a co-partnership agreement, could it effect the partnership in any way?

Answer.—(1) No. (2) No.—Law Editor.

OPENINGS ON ADJOINING SHAFT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I bought a lot with party wall agreement, and have erected a tenement on same. The building laws require a light shaft on the side of the building, and now my neighbor has opened four windows on each floor of his tenement on my light shaft and on four inches of my wall. Have I any redress?

Answer.—You can sue for trespass or obtain an injunction restraining your neighbor from maintaining the windows.—Law Editor.

AN UNMARKETABLE TITLE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I signed a contract to purchase some property in Long Island and paid two hundred dollars ($200), at the signing of the contract, but a title company has since refused to guarantee the title, claiming that it had not a marketable title. Can I recover the two hundred dollars ($200) which I have paid, and the expenses to which I will be put?

Answer.—Yes.—Law Editor.

BOND OF TRUSTEE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please let me know in the Record and Guide what amount of bonds I would have to furnish, if I was appointed trustee, by the court, in place of trustee who died? The estate is worth $50,000, and I share the income from it.

Answer.—$100,000.—Law Editor.

NEW TENEMENT HOUSE LAW—REPAIRS UNDER LEASE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A has given a lease to B. B has to do all the inside repairs and A all the outside. B says that all he has to do is only the repairing, but no new work. But now that there is a new tenement house law, whose place is it to do the new work, A or B?

Answer.—It is the work of the landlord.—Law Editor.

MECHANIC'S LIEN IN MAINE AND NEW YORK.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly give me the following information: (1) What is the time limit after which it is impossible for the owner to be lien-claimed for debts claimed to be due of the contractor? I should like the law explained both in New York, and (2) in the State of Maine. I recall a case where, owing to the failure of the contractor, the owner in Maine was obliged to pay the material-men after the building was completed and the contractor had been paid for the work.

Answer.—(1) "Ninety days after the completion of the contract, or the final performance of the work, or the final furnishing of the materials, dating from the last item of work performed or materials furnished." (2) I have not the statutes of Maine at hand, but a Maine Law Digest which I have states the time limit for filing a "notice of claim," in the office of the town clerk to be forty days after the furnishing of the last of the labor, or the materials, if not furnished by contract with the owner of the property affected. Suit must be commenced within ninety days after the last of the labor is performed or materials furnished. I do no tunderstand what you mean by "explaining" the law. To "make it plain," to "interpret" it, or "elucidate" it would require more space in these columns than is allotted to me.—Law Editor.

SUB-CONTRACTOR SUES ARCHITECT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

An architect orders "certain work" to be done on a building by a sub-contractor. At the completion of the building the architect deducts from the extra bill of the general contractor certain items for work, which this same sub-contractor did not perform according to the specifications, in fact, did not do the work at all. The general contractor offers the payment of the bill as corrected by the architect, of which bill this "certain work" was an item, but the sub-contractor refuses to accept the bill as a whole. The course of the architect was confirmed by a Board of Arbitration; the sub-contractor now enters suit against the architect for the payment of this "certain work." Can the architect be compelled to pay for this "certain work."

Answer.—As the case is stated, I am of opinion that the sub-contractor ought not to succeed in his action.—Law Editor.

Descriptions and dimensions will be found in the auctioneer's advertisement in our business pages. The sale will take place on Thursday, 16th inst. The auctioneer, at No. 149 Broadway, and Dickerson, Brown & Raegener, attorneys, No. 141 Broadway, will supply maps, etc.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Samuel McMillan, who owns Nos. 205 to 219 West 41st st and who is also said to own Nos. 210 to 214 West 42d st, an abutting parcel, is said to have sold the entire property to Rogers Brothers, who, it is reported, will erect a theatre on the site. Mr. McMillan recently filed plans for a 11-sty warehouse to be erected on the easterly 100 feet of the 41st st parcel. He does not hold title to any of this property, but purchased Nos. 213 to 219 West 41st st on December 21 and 207 and 209, together with No. 212 West 42d st, on December 28.

S. Steingut & Co. have sold for John C. Felten to M. Strauss No. 36 East 3d st, a 3-sty and basement dwelling.

Ames & Co. have sold for M. Estevenz the 4-sty dwelling No. 223 West 34th st, on lot 16.8x100.

Mandelbaum & Lewine have purchased from the Rutherford Stuyvesant estate the plot, 185.6x103.3, now used by a florist, on the south side of 14th st, 139 feet west of 2d av. This plot has been in the Stuyvesant family since 1648.

Horace S. Ely & Co. and Holdridge & Ward have sold the 5-sty building No. 21 W. 42d st, on lot 20.10x100.5, now occupied by Huyler's. It is owned by E. A. Hoffman, as are Nos. 15 to 19, adjoining it on the east, and twenty-eight other parcels in the block.

Potter & Brother have purchased Nos. 218 to 226 West 43d st, five dwellings, on plot 83.4x100.5, together with No. 213 West 42d st, a lot 20x100.5, which adjoins the Victoria Music Hall, and abuts the easterly end of the 43d st plot. The 42d st lot was sold by Jules Weber, and was bought by him in 1895 for $34,325. John H. Hartjin sells No. 218 West 43d st, which he bought in 1881 for $16,000; Nos. 220 and 222 are sold by Charles A. Wisemann; No. 222 sold in 1882 for $13,000. Nos. 224 and 226 are sold by F. X. Ledoux and Joseph Hill; No. 224 sold in 1890 for $14,500, and No. 226 in 1884 for $16,000.

A purchase of more than ordinary interest is that comprising property in the block bounded by Broad, South, William and Beaver sts. Part of the block is already under contract, and it is said to be the intention of the buyers to secure the whole block, with the exception of the Delmonico Building, which covers the triangular plot at the William st end. The buyers are the City Real Property Investment Co., and they have already acquired Nos. 61 to 69 Broad st, at the southeast corner of Beaver, a plot 98.9x66.11, and Nos. 34 to 46 Beaver st, a frontage of 142.7; Nos. 34 to 42 are about 75 feet deep, and Nos. 44 and 46 about 85 ft. In addition to these they have secured No. 8 South William st, 26x65.9x17.9x63.10. This property adjoins the Delmonico buildings and abuts No. 46 Beaver st. Nos. 61 to 65 Broad st is sold by Henry L. Kuhnhardt; the corner, 25x66.11, he purchased in 1883 for $85,000. William L. Raymond sells No. 34 and Nos. 40 to 46 Beaver st, and No. 8 South William st; Nathan Hart No 36, and Eva Day No. 38 Beaver st, which she purchased in 1880 for $25,000. The buyers will, it is said, erect a large office building on the block, which will be larger than the Broad-Exchange Building. There are a great many rumors being circulated affecting property in this immediate neighborhood, one affecting the property Nos. 46 to 52 Broad st, extending to Nos. 46 and 48 New st. The owner, Jacob W. Riglander, states that it has not been sold. Another affects the property occupied by W. R. Grace & Co., and owned by George Ehret; leases on this building have several years to run. S. Osgood Pell & Co. were the brokers.

Harry E. Zittel has sold for J. W. Gibblin the 4-sty dwelling, 23.6x55x100, No. 135 East 62d st.

The East Side Realty Co. have purchased Nos. 259 and 261 Rivington st, two 5-sty buildings, on plot 50x100.

Potter & Bro. have purchased from Mrs. Charles Craig No. 103 West 47th st, a 3-sty and basement dwelling, on lot 20x100.5.

The Stuyvesant Real Estate Co. have bought No. 394 7th av, 24.8½x100, together with No. 206 West 32d st, a lot 25x98.9, forming an "L" with the first parcel. The price is said to be $85,000. They have also acquired No. 246 West 34th st, a 4-sty dwelling, on lot 25x100.

Marcus and Irma Markiewicz have sold to H. A. James No. 62 Rivington st, a 3-sty dwelling, on lot 22x75, for $19,500.

Weil & Mayer have sold No. 24 Catharine st, northwest corner of Henry st, a 6-sty tenement, on lot 20.3x100.

The Hudson Realty Co. have sold through L. J. Phillips & Co. to William H. Livingston Nos. 133 to 137 West 47th st, a plot 60 x100.5, on which the buyer will erect a 12-sty apartment hotel. No. 137 recently sold for $27,500, and the whole plot was lately transferred to the seller for $101,500, or at the rate of over $33,-833 for a 20-foot lot which sold in July for $27,500. Recent quotations on the block are at the rate of $35,000 for 20 feet.

Isaac K. Cohn & Co. have sold for the Ludin Realty Co., Mrs. D. A. Honeywell and Joseph R. McGinty, three dwellings, Nos. 144 to 148 and No. 152 West 37th st, a plot 58.6x95 and 19.3x95. No. 144 sold in May, 1900, for $18,300.

Contracts were signed this week for the sale by the Century Realty Co. to City Club Realty Co. of Nos. 55 and 57 West 44th st, a plot 44.10x100.5. This is the plot upon which the City Club obtained an option. The City Club Realty Co. was incorporated for the purpose of buying the property and erecting thereon a building which it will lease to the City Club for twenty-one years. The Puritan Realty Co. are going to erect a 12-sty apartment hotel at Nos. 59 to 63, adjoining; this latter plot was bought by the Century Realty Co. for $138,125.

William F. Havemeyer is reported to have sold to the Clarke Realty Co. Nos. 5 to 9 East 31st st, extending to Nos. 8 and 10 East 32d st. The 31st st plot begins 150 feet east of 5th av and fronts 65.7½ feet on that street; the 32d st parcel has a frontage of 44 feet. A 12-sty apartment hotel will be erected on the plot by the buyers. The 31st st plot and No. 10 East 32d st sold in 1890 for $150,000. No. 8 East 32d st sold in 1892 for $42,000. Mr. Havemeyer purchased the whole plot in 1898.

Hyman & Oppenheim have sold through Leo. M. Mosauer, No. 327 East 10th st, a 6-sty tenement, 26x82x92.

Leopold Weil has sold for a Mrs. Griffin Nos. 206 to 212 West 36th st, four 4-sty dwellings, on plot 68.6x100. The property is 95 feet from 7th av.

McVickar & Company have sold for Henrietta W. Berryman Nos. 327 to 331 East 5th st, three 5-sty tenements, each on lot 25x100.

Charles H. Easton & Co. have sold for Jackson & Stern No. 55 West 45th st, a 3-sty dwelling ,on lot 18.9x98.9. The sellers bought it at auction in April for $30,000. No. 53 sold in March for $32,500.

Mandel & Moran have sold to Bloch Brothers No. 311 Broome st, near Forsyth st, a 6-sty tenement, on lot 40x75.

Gordon, Levy & Co. have bought the 5-sty flat No. 112 7th st, and the 7-sty tenement, No. 117 Mott st.

Charles H. Easton & Co. have sold for P. J. Lohsen the 4-sty flat No. 111 West 46th st, on lot 25x100. The same brokers last week sold the similar building No. 115 West 46th st.

E. A. Cruikshank & Co. have sold for Mrs. James Gallatin to Jefferson M. Levy No. 7 West 38th st, a 4-sty and basement dwelling, on lot 25x98.9.

Rosa Delmonico has sold to Henry Gucker No. 229 West 14th st, a 4-sty and basement dwelling, on lot 25x120.

Pease & Elliman have sold the following properties to the City Real Property Investing Co., for the Williams estate, in conjunction with H. C. Senior & Co., No. 122 East 41st st, 19x 100; for Ricardo Acosta and the Farmers' Loan and Trust Co. No. 370 Lexington av, 19.9x100; for J. L. B. Mott, No. 114 East 40th st, 20x100; and for S. M. Busselle to another client No. 116 East 40th st.

The 4-sty and basement dwelling, 16 E. 45th st, on lot 24x100.5, has been sold by Francis H. Catlin. No. 18, a similar dwelling, on lot 18x100.5, was sold in June for $44,000, and No. 14 was recently purchased by Jefferson M. Levy.

George Wick, who recently purchased the Hotel Tourraine, at Nos. 9 and 11 East 39th st, has purchased from the Baltozzi estate, through S. Osgood Pell & Co., No. 13 East 39th st, 23x98.9, and No. 16 East 40th st, 21x98.9. The price is said to be $175,-000. The plot, 50x98.9, on which the hotel was erected, sold for $92,000 in 1900.

G. Tuoti & Co. have sold for Mrs. Florine Albright the 6-sty tenement, on lot 25x100, No. 102 Sullivan st. The seller bought this property through the same brokers two years ago.

The new home of the Broadway Tabernacle congregation, of which the Rev. Charles E. Jefferson is pastor, will be located at the northeast corner of Broadway and 56th st. The plot was purchased from the Central Realty Bond and Trust Co. It fronts 79 feet on Broadway and 171.5 on 56th st. The sellers bought the plot fronting 75.8 on Broadway, 171.5 on 56th st, with a lot 50x140, fronting on 57th st, in April for $375,000. For the plot just sold they get $450,000, and have left of this plot the two 57th st lots. They also own the rest of the Broadway block front. The Broadway Tabernacle has been located since 1859 at the northeast corner of Broadway and 34th st, a plot which they purchased in 1857 for $78,500; it was resold two weeks ago for $1,300,000. A new church will be erected on the site just purchased.

William Rosenzweig and Bernard Klingenstein have sold to Morris Hayman No. 743 East 175th st, a frame flat, on lot 18x100.

Charles H. Cronin has sold for John C. Heintz to Charles Maurer the 5-sty flat, on lot 25x100, on the west side of 3d av, adjoining the north corner of 183d st.

The Charles P. Daly estate has sold the plot, 100x100, at the southwest corner of 187th st and Daly av, facing Bronx Park, to a Mr. Campbell. This is the last of the old farm of Philip M. Lydig, father-in-law of ex-Judge Daly.

LEASES.

The Park Realty Co., of which Maximilian Morgenthau is president, has leased the 12-sty apartment hotel in course of construction at the southeast corner of Madison av and 63d st to Charles L. Leonori for 12 years at $650,000 net. The site of the building is 100.5x83.6 and the building contains 105 apartments of one to six rooms. It will be finished by July, and is to be known as the Leonor. Mr. Leonori runs the University Apartment Hotel, in 47th st, and was formerly at the head of the commissary department of the Wagner Palace Car Co.

E. B. Bruch made the lease for the Telephone Co. to the new Tenement House Commission for the term of five years of the first and second stories in the new building southwest corner of Irving pl and 18th st.

H. C. Senior & Co. have leased for Frederick B. Jennings et al. the old Durland Riding Academy, at the junction of Broadway and 8th av, extending from the Grand Circle to 61st st. The lessees are the present tenants of the Central Market, at Broadway, 48th st and 7th av, the site of which is about to be improved with a new building that will be occupied by the Studebaker Brothers Co. The former riding academy, which covers a plot of over 30,000 square feet, will be extensively altered.

OUT OF TOWN.

H. W. Nichols has sold the country seat at Tarrytown of the late John Downey to Charles E. Lord. It comprises 9½ acres of land, a large modern 25-room dwelling, greenhouses and various out-buildings. The property is in Wilson Park, on high ground. The same broker has sold for Allen Smith his property at Pocantico Hills to John D. Rockefeller.

Real Estate Notes.

John W. Gillies succeeds Gillies & Hibbard, real estate brokers, at No. 500 Madison av, corner 52d st.

William E. Finn is the buyer of No. 543 Broadway, extending to 114 Mercer st, and recently sold by W. W. Astor.

The City Real Property Investing Co. is the buyer of Nos. 17 to 21 West 32d st, sold last week through John N. Golding.

W. P. Mangam was the broker in the sale of the Carleton lots, at 124th and 125th sts, and St. Nicholas av, reported sold in our last issue.

Hall J. How & Co. were the brokers in the sale of No. 70 West 49th st, and the plot, 75x100, on the west side of Broadway, 25 feet south of Hawthorne st.

Leopold Weil, to better accommodate a growing clientele, has removed to larger, more centrally located, and better equipped offices at 49 Liberty st.

G. Tuoti & Co. made a sale this week of No. 231 East 107th st. The seller, W. H. Newschafer, afterward decided not to deliver the property, and paid all expenses, including the commission of the broker.

The Trust Co. of America, under the able guidance of President Ashbel P. Fitch, continues to make its way to the front rank. A statement just issued shows the company has a capital of $2,500,000, and a surplus of $2,919,345.

Richard Walters' Sons, auctioneers and appraisers, are now located in their new building, No. 660 6th av, near 38th st. The firm was established in 1850. Charles F. Walters now officiates as auctioneer.

Emanuel Blumenstiel, Wilbur McBride and Cornelius F. Collins have been appointed Commissioners of Appraisal in the proceedings to acquire the property necessary for the new park to be opened between 1st and 2d avs and 35th and 36th sts.

Heywood Brothers & Wakefield Co., manufacturers of chairs and rattan furniture, are the buyers of the plot Nos. 509 to 523 West 33d st, a plot 200x98.9, with an abutting plot on 34th st, 145x98.9, reported sold in our issue of December 10. They will probably erect a factory or warehouse on the land.

The open space betwen 65th and 66th sts, Broadway and Columbus av, should be named Columbus Square. An ordinance to secure this designation should be quickly passed by the Board of Aldermen to make amends for the failure of the 1901 Board to act.

Kahn & Baumann negotiated the exchange of the 7-sty elevator apartment house known as the "Kiamesha," on the northeast corner of Lenox av and 111th st, for the two 5-sty triple flats, Nos. 550 and 552 West 125th st. Titles changed hands during the week.

Two new 7-sty flats on Broadway, one corner of 99th st and one above 99th st, built by Architect John C. Burne, will be sold under foreclosure next week. There is $51,000 due on the second mortgage, which follows a mortgage of $135,000 on the corner and $94,000 on the inside flat, a total of over $280,000 due.

Ames & Co. sold the premises, No. 144 West 34th st, 25x100, for S. G. Bayne at $106,000, and No. 428 7th av, between 33d and 34th sts, a 4-sty store, 19x70, both to the Sterling Realty Co. Ames & Co. also sold No. 424 7th av, 19x70, for $50,000. This is the third house from the north corner of 33d st (22x50), which was sold for $90,000 to Douglas Robinson.

Another real estate corporation was added to the list last week. This is the Corporation Realty Company, incorporated in New Jersey by B. Wilmarth Appleton, Beverly Ward and John B. B. Fiske, with a capital of $1,000,000. E. R. Johnes is the attorney, and the company's headquarters will be at No. 50 Broadway.

Long Acre Square, "Half a Century Ago," when Broadway was known as the Bloomingdale road, is shown in a handsome calendar for 1902, just issued by John P. Kirwan, broker, of 1505 Broadway, corner 44th st. The Long Acre views and table of months are mounted on a Japanese cedar veneer mat which is quite unique.

The Real Estate Board of Brokers have just issued their manual and diary for 1902. The book is in flexible covers, and in addition to the valuable information contained in the previous editions, there are very good synopses of the Building Code and the Tenement House Law, the former prepared by Wm. J. Fryer and the latter by Lawrence Vieller.

I. N. Natkins & Co., of 104th st and Columbus av, are active workers, making a specialty of brokerage and agency in the vicinity of their office, where they have been successful. I. N. Natkins, who established the firm in 1899, was formerly an expert in the Health and Building Departments, and personally supervises the management of estates for private clients.

Slawson & Hobbs have made up a very complete plant, embracing sales, mortgages, building plans and other items of interest that facilitates very much their extensive and constantly growing business. The firm's offices, at No. 284 Columbus av, near 73d st, are thoroughly equipped for the quick and satisfactory dispatch of business.

James J. Etchingham, agent and broker, of No. 1962 Broadway, corner 66th st, has built up a large business by careful and painstaking work. His specialty is renting and collecting, and besides a very large number of tenements, he has charge of a goodly number of the better class of flats and apartments in the streets close to Central Park. Mr. Etchingham's telephone call is 493 Columbus.

Now ex-County Clerk Sohmer was presented with a silver loving cup by the clerks and employes of his office on the last day of his term. The presentation speech was made by George Desoye, who has been in the County Clerk's office for twenty-five years. Mr. Sohmer said that whatever credit he had gained during his administration was due to the faithfulness and hard work of the clerical force.

New County Clerk Hamilton took possession of his new office soon after 11 o'clock, 1st inst. His predecessor, County Clerk Sohmer, and Deputy County Clerk Fahrbach, took him through the office, and met Henry Birrell, who is to be the new deputy. Mr. Fahrbach will be retained for ten days. Henry Patterson will succeed John Wrede as cashier, and Patrick H. Dunn will be Mr. Hamilton's private secretary.

A meeting of the Mortgage Exemption Committee has been called for next Tuesday, at the rooms of the Real Estate Board of Brokers, No. 111 Broadway, to consider Senator Stranahan's new bill to tax mortgages. It will be remembered that this committee consists of representatives of the leading commercial and real estate organizations. They have recently added to their membership A. W. McLaughlin and Clarence K. Kelsey, President Title Guarantee and Trust Co.

The famous flatiron, at 22d and 23d sts, and Broadway and 5th av, and the 20-sty office building, to be called the Cumberland, which is being erected on it by the George A. Fuller Co., has passed to new hands. The transmission is, however, simply a readjustment of interests. The flatiron property was bought by Samuel Newhouse and his brother in 1899 for $800,000, and transferred to the Cumberland Realty Co. for $940,000.

The Cumberland was purchased from the Field estate in April, 1901, for $815,000. The Cumberland Realty Company will now give place to the Fifth Avenue Building Company, incorporated last week, with a capital of $2,500,000, and backed by the George A. Fuller Co. and others. The purpose of the Fifth Avenue Building Co. is simply to put through this one project, although its charter does authorize it to do a general real estate business.

The plot, 50x100, on the west side of 5th av, 61.9 north of 34th st, which was sold by the Stewart heirs in April for $296,257, has made a wonderful increase in value in less than a year. The Barney syndicate sold it to the New York Realty Corporation on December 19 for $350,000, and on December 20 it was transferred to "Number Sixty-Eight William Street" for $380,000, an increase of $84,000 in eight months, and $30,000 in one day.

The Iroquois Realty Co., which owns the hotel of that name at Nos. 47 to 53 West 44th st, was organized one year ago by A. W. McLaughlin & Co. for this purpose, and it has proved to be one of the most successful realty investments of the year. The lease subject to which they purchased was sold last week to the newly incorporated Iroquois Hotel and Apartment Company, at a premium of approximately $50,000. The City Club's new building will adjoin the "Iroquois" on the west.

The Register's office was turned over to the new Register, J. H. J. Ronner, at noon, Wednesday, while he stood under two giant horseshoes. The horseshoes were made of flowers, and came from The Bronx, as did the new Register. He announced the appointments of Matthew P. Breen as deputy; Ferdinand Bohmer, assistant deputy; and Henry Watson Cornell, satisfaction clerk. Mr. Ronner is going to confer with the Bar Association, and the surety companies, before he makes any more changes in the office.

Outgoing Register Isaac Fromme, on Tuesday afternoon, received a solid silver service of 148 pieces from the clerks of his office. The committee in charge of the presentation was made up of Philip V. Walsh, William Sexton, James Hogue and Jacob Harris. Deputy Register John Van Glahn, who leaves the office after eleven years' of service, was presented with a solid silver loving cup, and Satisfaction Clerk Frank Young, who has been connected with the office for more than 21 years, was presented with a handsome gold watch.

Interest in 5th av and the side streets north of the Carnegie house, and as far east as Madison av, is revived by the filing of plans for a 5-sty dwelling on the south side of 96th st, 150 feet east of 5th av, on a lot 30x100.11. The house will be erected for Morris J. Leonhardt from plans by Small & Schumann, and will cost about $40,000. All the land on both the north and south sides of 96th st, beginning 150 feet east of Madison av, and extending easterly 150 feet, has been restricted. This would seem to indicate that private houses only will be erected, at least as far north as 96th st.

Brooklyn.

The following are the comparative tables for the Brooklyn Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1901 and 1902:

The commission appointed by the Supreme Court to consider the advisability of extending the New York rapid transit system by a tunnel from the City Hall to the Battery, and thence under the East River to Brooklyn, in lieu of the consents of abutting property-owners, and in accordance with the plans of the Rapid Transit Commission, have reported that the road is necessary, and the plan the most suitable and proper one.

William M. Calder, the builder, who is locally too well known to need introduction, has been appointed Superintendent of Buildings for this borough. Mr. Calder has named as chief inspector and his deputy Thomas Bennett, architect, of No. 198 53d st.

Leo M. Mosauer has leased for the Ketcham estate to Spear & Co., the 5-sty factory building, covering plot 60x150, Union av and South 2d st, for rental of $13,250.

On behalf of the Manufactures' Association, Senator McCarren and Assemblyman Cotton introduced a bill at Albany to provide New York City, and especially the Borough of Brooklyn, with an adequate water supply. The association thinks the development of Brooklyn is retarded by reason of an inadequate water supply. The measure provides for a Board of Water Commissioners, consisting of the Mayor, Comptroller, the Commissioner of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, and six resident taxpayers, to be appointed by the Mayor. The appointees are to receive compensation, to be fixed by the Special Term of the Supreme Court. The board is to investigate the available water supplies, and take steps to provide a system adequate for at least fifty years. The board may from time to time investigate other supplies than the ones selected if it is deemed necessary to enlarge the system so that at all times New York City will have an abundant supply.

Work of the Register's Office.

The following table gives some idea of the work of the register's office, by showing the number of papers filed in their several classes, year by year, for the past five years. The remarkable feature of this return is the small growth, and at times loss of the volume of papers in the classes where the money involved is known to have increased most.

Year.	Conveyances.	Mortgages.	Powers of attorney.	Chattel mortgages.
1901	21,771	20,804	401	75,614
1900	20,310	20,984	384	73,741
1899	24,012	24,305	355	71,201
1898	19,174	22,239	343	71,637
1897	20,564	22,088	319	64,646

Assessments Reduced.

At the closing meeting of the Board of Public Improvements a number of assessments for street openings in the Bronx were reduced to the property-owners by part of the cost being put upon the city at large. The principle followed was that the city should pay for all width in excess of 60 ft. The improvements affected and the several percentages of cost placed upon the city are the following:

Belmont pl, from 3d av to Arthur av; 75%.

McCombs Dam rd, from Jerome av to Aqueduct av; 50%.

West Farms rd, from Southern Boulevard and Westchester av to Boston rd; 50%.

Tiffany st, from Intervale av to Longwood av; 25%.

Tremont av, from Bronx River to Eastern Boulevard, and to the Public pl at the intersection of Tremont av and Westchester av; 50%.

Westchester av, from Bronx River to Main st; 50%.

Spofford av, from Longwood av to Bronx River; 40%.

Crotona av, from Boston rd to Southern Boulevard; 25%.

Vanderbilt av West, from 173d st to Pelham av; 10%.

Fordham rd, from 189th st to Kingsbridge rd; 25%.

Morris av, east side N Y & Harlem R R tracks to 23d Ward line; 25%.

Clay av, from Webster av to 176th st; 25%.

Randall av, from Tauxton st and Leggett av to Bronx River, 25%.

Quarry rd, from 3d av to Arthur av; 25%.

Whitlock av, from Southern Boulevard to Hunt's Point rd; 25%.

Legal Decisions.

Trustee—As a rule all must act to bind the trust-principal and security-extension of time to principal. Where a mortgage debt is due to two trustees an extension of the time of payment executed to the principal debtor by only one trustee cannot discharge the mortgagor, occupying the position of a surety through his grantee's assumption of the mortgage, as all trustees must act jointly in order to bind their trust except in cases of emergency or where one has gone abroad and absents himself. (Egbert v. McGuire, 36 Misc., 245.)

Foreclosure—Interest payable by purchaser upon a deferred closing of the sale. Where real property is sold on foreclosure subject to a first mortgage, and the time for closing, after being extended by consent to June 7th, is thereafter further extended "without prejudice to any claim of any person interested herein, that interest should be charged on the bid," and the closing is on October 4th, the purchaser must pay the referee such interest on the first mortgage as came due after the sale, need not pay interest on the unpaid balance of his bid up to June 7th, but must, where there are subsequent lienors, pay interest thereon from June 7th to October 4th, even though he has never received any rents. (Grabfelder v. Tallman, 36 Misc., 247.)

Mechanic's Lien Law, L. 1897, ch. 418, Sec. 3.—Consent or request of owner—Invalidity of lien precludes both a personal judgment against the owner and a judgment against the surety for a discharge of the lien. Where a contractor, having two separate contracts for excavating two distinct lots, agrees with their owner that payments indiscriminately made by him upon both lots shall apply to only one, that they are sufficient to pay in full for excavating that one, and that any lien for work unpaid shall thereafter attach only to the other, he is not authorized by the Mechanic's Lien Law, in subsequently filing a lien against both for an alleged balance due him for work done on both, as the effect would be to give him a lien on the relapsed lot for work done on the one not released, and vice versa—without the consent or request of the owner. Where a lien is invalid no judgment can be given, in an action for its foreclosure, against the owner personally or against a surety upon a bond given to discharge the lien. (Gallick v. Engelhardt, 36 Misc., 269.)

Building contract—Agreement that the owner may give a mortgage for the final payment—It does not constitute an equitable mortgage, nor an instrument which may be recorded—the record thereof will be canceled. A contract for the alteration of a building, containing a clause binding the contractor to take in lieu of final payment a second mortgage upon the premises, is not equitable, nor an "instrument by which any estate or interest in real property is created, transferred, mortgaged or assigned, or by which the title to any real property may be effected." It is, therefore, not an instrument which is required to be recorded, and if it is recorded by the contractor the owner of the building may maintain an action under section 276 of the Real Property Law (Laws of 1896, chap. 547), to have it canceled of record. (Davidson v. Fox, 65 App. Div., 262.)

New York City—Term of lease where "the duration of the occupation is not particularly specified."—L. 1896, Ch. 547, Sec. 202. Where a tenant orally hires premises in the city of New York for a rent payable by the month, for no distinct length of time, occupation to be dependent upon how the premises suit him, and occupies for three months, the case is within L. 1896, Ch. 547, Sec. 202, is one where "the duration of the occupation" is not "particularly" specified, and the statute therefore fixes the term as continuing until the first day of May next after possession commenced under the agreement.—(Bernstein vs. Lightstone, 36 Misc. 193.)

Negligence—Screws projecting from a tenement-house stairway. Where the landlord of a tenement house, after being notified by a tenant thereof that loose screws project a quarter of an inch from pieces of zinc put on each step of a stairway in order to project the steps, fails to repair, he is liable for injuries which a twelve-year-old child of the tenant sustained by being thrown down the stairs because the heel of her shoe caught on one of the projecting screws. (Wessel v. Gerken, 36 Misc., 221.)

The World of Building

Material Market.

The news of the week indicates that reductions in some forms of manufactured goods have been made as a result of the drop in prices of materials of manufacture. This is especially true of brass goods. At a meeting this week of twelve representative concerns it was decided that reductions of from 30 to 35% in sheet, from 30 to 37½% in wire rods, and from 40 to 45% in brazed tubing should be made. Pittsburg press dispatches intimate that a war in glass prices is about to take place; but, while the situation is serious for the makers, trouble may be averted at the meeting, which, as will be seen later on, is to take place to-day. There was a jump in pig iron prices of 25c. towards the end of the week. This is not surprising in view of the curtailment of the output of the blast furnaces owing to the inability of the railroads to bring them their coal and coke in sufficient quantity. Buying of copper has been slack because of credited rumors of a further cut in prices, which were realized yesterday, when quotations were made at 12⅛ for Lake, 12 for electrolytic and 11½ for castings. Exports of the metal increased last month. In paints and colors there are no features, and nothing new to record. Other divisions of the market are treated below:

Lumber.—The general market has shown a good undertone, but business has been quiet. While a rather slow winter is expected, it is nevertheless the general belief that the demand and conditions will be such as to maintain current prices until spring, when a good trade is anticipated. It is said that the prices prevailing locally on practically all kinds of stock on January 1, 1902, will be the minimum price this year.

Lath.—No arrivals of importance of Eastern spruce have been reported, and sellers' price for supplies to arrive has been $3.50.

Bricks, Lime and Cement.—Business for the week in the market for Hudson River brick has been light, feeling the influence of the holiday season; prices are unchanged and steady. Only a small amount of business in lime has been transacted, but with limited offerings prices for Eastern have held steady. A quiet market has been reported for both Rosendale and Portland cement; prices quoted have been unchanged.

It is reported that the properties of the Lawrence Cement Co., consisting of about a dozen mills and a score or more quarries, have been acquired by a syndicate headed by W. N. Beach, New York.

Hardware.—Manufacturers declare the wire and wire nail situation shows some improvement, and that the consumption of the products of this branch of the iron and steel industry this year will exceed that of the last one. A representative of one of the companies, which has taken the initiative in the recent cuts in the price of wire nails, admitted that the market was exhibiting renewed strength, and that the bottom, apparently, had been reached. A number of producers, rather than sell their output at the standard price of $2.00 a keg, have withdrawn from the market, and in consequence production has been curtailed to some extent.

Nails.—The local market in wire nails is showing the usual holiday quiet. Quotations are as follows: Small lots from store, $2.25 to $2.30; carloads on dock, $2.25. Demand for cut nails is naturally light at this season, and has been curtailed to a greater extent than usual by the low price of wire nails. New York quotations are as follows: Carload lots on dock, $2.18; less than carload lots on dock, $2.23; from store, $2.25.

Plumbers' Supplies.—Scarcely any business has been transacted in the pig tin market, which is exceedingly dull and uninteresting. January quotations range between 23c. and 23.75c. Since the decline in the price of pig lead there has been practically no business transacted. The American Smelting and Refining Co. still quote desilverized 4c., New York. Spelter is also a drug on the market. Business is at a standstill, and prices have eased off somewhat. Spot is nominally 4.25c. to 4.30c. The American Tin Plate Co. continue to sell for the first quarter of the year on a basis of $4.19 per box of 100-lb. cokes f. o. b. New York. Business in this metal is fair.

Linseed Oil.—The market is still quiet, and prices are unchanged. There is practically no offering of futures, but 55c. is nominally asked for January forward to April; beyond the latter no price is established. Though there is some inquiry, it is principally for small lots, but an occasional sale of carload lots is reported.

Glass.—The market is still waiting for the development of consuming demand, which is hardly to be expected before the middle of January.

The attempt to bring together all window glass manufacturers in the country in Muncie, Ind., last week, failed, and one more meeting will be held at the same place to-day. Seventy-two maufacturers were represented at the meeting last week, which leaves but 284 of the 3,859 pots in the country outside of the fold. It is stated that the chief stumbling block in the way of combining is the fact that there are but 2,400 blowers in the country to run the 3,850 pots, one blower being required to the pot. The thing that prevents harmony is the contest for these skilled workmen.

MERCANTILE.

Brady & Mauptman, No. 406 East 104th st, are drawing plans for the erection of a 4-sty brick shop, 22x100, on the south side of 104th st, 100 east of 1st av, and will be ready for figures in about a month.

Heywood Brothers & Wakefield Co., No. 129 Charlton st, have purchased property on the north side of 33d st and south side of 34th st, from 10th to 11th av, and will probably erect on the site a factory or warehouse, which will be decided after Jan. 2d.

Curtis P. Gillespie, Nos. 5 and 7 Warren st, has drawn plans for an 8-sty warehouse to be erected at Nos. 83 to 85 South st, running through to No. 167 Front st. The property fronts 71.2 on South st and 18.10 on Front st, and contains about 9,000 square feet. It was recently purchased by the Hudson Realty Co., and the new building has been leased by M. Lindheim & Co. for ten years at an aggregate rental of $136,000. The lessee is a corporation now in process of organization. The property sold in April for $75,000.

APARTMENTS, FLATS AND TENEMENTS.

Alexander McDowell, who has just purchased the plot 55x104.4 x55x102.2 on the south side of 76th st, 207 feet west of Broadway, will erect thereon a 10 or 12-sty apartment hotel, probably from plans by G. A. Schellenger, No. 130 Fulton st.

Simon E. and Max E. Bernheimer, who have just purchased the block front on the east side of Manhattan av from 107th to 108th st, will erect upon the 108th st corner, 100.11x95, a 10-sty fireproof elevator apartment house from plans by Pollard & Steinam, No. 19 Union Square West.

The Iroquois Realty Co. will build, from plans by Charles C. Thain, at No. 47 West 44th st, an addition to the 12-sty Iroquois. When completed the hotel will have a frontage of 70.10, with assured permanent light. The City Club's new building will adjoin the hotel on the west.

It is the present intention of A. C. & H. M. Hall to erect a 12-sty apartment hotel on the plot at 124th and 125th st, St. Nicholas av and Hancock place, purchased by them last week. It fronts 200 feet on 125th st, 201.10 on St. Nicholas av, 62 feet on 124th st, 155.10 on Hancock pl, with a westerly line of 130.2. Neville & Bagge, No. 217 West 125th st, will probably draw the plans.

William H. Livingston, who has just purchased the plot, 60x100.5, Nos. 133 to 137 West 47th st, will erect thereon a 12-sty fireproof apartment hotel. F. C. Browne, No. 143 West 125th st, has drawn the preliminary plans and will probably be the architect.

Bannister & Schell, No. 69 Wall st, have drawn plans and are taking preliminary estimates for a 12-sty fireproof apartment hotel to be erected at Nos. 5 to 9 East 31st st, running through to Nos. 8 and 10 East 32d st. The plot has a frontage of 65.7½ on 31st st, and 44 feet on 32d st. The building will be erected by the Clarke Realty Co., No. 39 Cortlandt st; the property is owned at present by William F. Havemeyer.

TENEMENT HOUSE LAW.

This important work is edited by William J. Fryer, with headings and complete cross-reference index, etc. Regulations applying to NOW EXISTING TENEMENT HOUSES, as well as all others, carefully indexed. It is an absolute necessity to every Architect, Builder, Engineer, Real Estate Owner, Operator and Broker. Published by the Record and Guide, 14 and 16 Vesey St., N. Y. City. Price, $1.00.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

So far as can be learned, the Hemlock combine, which was formed in the daily press a few days or weeks ago, has not got beyond the daily press stage.

Isaac A. Hopper & Son., builders and contractors, whose offices for several years have been at No. 219 West 125th st, have removed to the Mohawk Building, No. 160 5th av.

The Contractors' Protective Asosciation will hold their second anniversary dinner on Thursday next, at Shanley's, No. 147b Broadway, and a very pleasant evening is assured to all participants.

The Building and Sanitary Inspection Company are the sanitary engineers in charge of the plumbing and drainage for the houses on 91st st, east of 5th av, which are being erected by W. D. Sloane for Mrs. Hammond and Mrs. Burden.

John H. Friend, for fifteen years superintendent for Schickel & Ditmars, has opened an office at No. 148 Alexander av, and is now engaged in the practice of architecture on his own account.

The most costly plumbing job in the city will be that of the apartment house being built by the Astors at 55th st and 5th av, which will probably amount to around $150,000. The contract has not yet been given out.

It is most probable that the wholesale price of lumber as of to-day will be the low price of the year. A careful survey of the situation leads us to the firm belief that the present prices are based on a firm foundation, and on a condition which is not forced.—Lumber Trade Journal.

Perez M. Stewart, Superintendent of Buildings, on taking office this week dismissed seventy-five of the employees of the old department on account of an insufficient appropriation, and also because they were not needed. He formally appointed William M. Aiken Deputy Superintendent and Thos. O. Magill Private Secretary.

Joseph M. Huston, Witherspoon Building, Philadelphia, Pa., has the plans for the capitol building, at Harrisburg, which is estimated to cost $4,000,000. The Commission having control of expenditures are: Governor Stone; Congressman Graham, of Allegheny; Superintendent of Public Instruction Scheaffer, of Lancaster; Senator Wm. P. Snyder, of Chester; and Edward B. Bailey, a banker, of Harrisburg.

The American Bridge Co. have purchased the properties heretofore owned by the Detroit Bridge and Iron Co., of Detroit, Mich., and the same will hereafter be known as the Detroit Plant of the American Bridge Company. Max J. L. Fowler has been appointed manager. The plant thus becomes a part of the Western Division of the American Bridge Co., under the jurisdiction of August Ziesing, Western Manager, in Chicago.

The American Parquetry Company of No. 503 5th av, have leased a 4-sty building, 40x90, at No. 537 West 18th st, and fitted it up with the latest improved machinery and drying system, and are now ready to fill all orders in their line on short notice at reasonable prices in the most satisfactory manner. They manufacture and lay all kinds of hardwood floors and wood carpet, as well as wood block floors laid in asphalt for fireproof buildings. Their old factory at 116th st and East River was destroyed by fire on November 6th.

Articles of incorporation were filed at Newark last week for the American Lumber Co., with a capital of $8,000,000, all common stock. As set forth in its charter, the company is organized to acquire timber and mineral lands, build and operate plants and works for the development of such lands, and to handle and render commercially available the various products. It is reported that the new corporation will have some connection with the Michigan hemlock combine.

C. Schratwieser is having a series of tests on fireproof floor arches, and having one of his systems loaded with a weight of fifty-four thousand pounds set on a section of floor 3 ft. x 6 ft., making a carrying load of three thousand pounds per square foot. The factor of safety being 10, this will allow of a safe carrying capacity of three hundred pounds per square foot. The crown of the arch has only 3-inch thickness. As this arch has shown no deflection, he is allowed to remove the load without a reading at his pleasure. Test was made under the supervision of the Board of Buildings, and can be seen any day until January 8th, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m., at his factory, Nos. 426-432 3d av, Brooklyn.

A few weeks ago fire destroyed the factory of the Columbia Kalameined Iron-Clad Wood Works, on East 116th st. In order to provide better equipped quarters and a modern plant for a constantly increasing business, the Columbia Iron-Clad Door Co. has been incorporated, with office and factory at No. 550 West 41st st, where the best of facilities for good and quick work, including modern machines, have been installed. James W. Pacey, the well-known carpenter and builder, is now associated with Mr. Gleckner in the management, and the company is busy with contracts for the new Pabst Hotel, on Grand Circle and 58th st (bronze work); St. Bartholomew's Clinic; Wells Building; Mutual Life (annex); Navy Yard Branch Y. M. C. A.; Melrose Telephone Station; Western Electric Building, and others.

A list of recent contracts taken by The David Shuldiner Co. for furnishing and setting glass embraces very many of the leading structures now under construction, not only in and around New York, but throughout the Union. The city list includes the Jewelers', Maritime and Tontine buildings, Mt. Sinai Hospital, Carnegie residence, Union Club, Madison Presbyterian Mission, Church of Ascension, and very many others. The out-of-town list: Standard Club, Chicago; Marine Barracks, Annapolis, Md.; Technology Chambers; Patent and Delta buildings; New England Conservatory of Music; and Carleton Hotel, Boston; Keystone Bank and Westinghouse buildings, Pittsburg; Stafford Hall, Princeton, N. J.; and numerous others. The David Shuldiner Co., as recently noted, are now located in commodious quarters at No. 510 West 53d st. Telephone, 1503 Columbus. Their facilities are more extensive than ever to better handle a constantly increasing business.

THE TENEMENT HOUSE DEPARTMENT.

The Tenement House Department have opened offices in the Telephone Exchange Building, southwest corner of 18th st and Irving place, where lighting and ventilation plans for Manhattan and Bronx tenements must now be filed, and with a Brooklyn branch in Temple Bar, No. 44 Court st. According to Commissioner De Forest, the departments are ready for business to the extent of receiving plans for new tenement houses and for any alterations to old ones. The appropriate blanks have been printed and will be furnished on request. The Department of Health had been requested to continue the enforcement of the law in regard to the sanitary inspection of existing tenement houses as in the past, until such time as the Tenement House Department could be properly organized and be ready to take up this work. Similarly, the Bureau of Buildings of each borough had been asked to continue the enforcement of the law as in the past in regard to all buildings for which plans have been filed in the Building Department, so that for the present the Tenement House Department will confine itself only to those cases in which plans for new buildings or alterations are filed. They hoped to have the new Tenement House Department ready to take up all of its duties early in February, though this may not be possible.

The first plan filed under the new tenement law with the Tenement House Department was offered yesterday, and was for a 4-sty, 5-family, tenement, 30x60x70, estimated to cost $12,000, and located at 187th st and Cambrelling av. The plan was approved without any objection, and the architects, Horenburger & Straub, were at once notified and duplicate plans were sent to the Bureau of Buildings in the Bronx.

THE PLUMBING SITUATION.

Since the Executive Committee of the National Association of Master Plumbers saw fit to abrogate the New York Conference resolutions it is evident that arbitrary action on the part of many of the members and some local associations is to supplant the arbitration and conciliatory features of that agreement. Already the supply trade in different sections are receiving from some of the associations lists of their members with the intimation that the sale of plumbing goods to others than these members will be considered a sufficient violation of the trade protection principle to warrant a withdrawal of their patronage. This is a step backward to the "sell to members only" resolution of the New Orleans convention, which caused the most serious difficulty in the plumbing trade in recent years. It is possible that this action is only made to influence the establishment of more satisfactory relations between the sellers and buyers of plumbing goods. We have been informed that consideration has already been given to the subject by the plumbers with this end in view. There is little room for doubt that the manufacturers will be willing to agree to anything that is reasonable so as to prevent any break that would interfere with trade.—Metal Worker.

REMOVING RUST AND GREASE FROM MARBLE.

Says the "Decorators' Gazette," of London: Rust spots on marble are caused, as a rule, when articles made of iron are laid on the marble when it is wet, or allowed to remain there when the atmosphere is in a humid condition. These spots penetrate somewhat deeply, as marble is very porous, and can be effaced only by rubbing the marble sufficiently deep to remove the spots, and then repolishing the surface. As even the weakest acids will destroy marble, such radical treatment cannot be entertained, or oxalic acid would immediately suggest itself as the correct remedy. Grease spots, from whatever cause, or the marks made by touching with soiled hands, can be removed by applying to the surface a stout paste made of equal parts of slacked lime and white pipe clay mixed with water, or calcined magnesia and white pipe clay will do equally as well. The paste must be applied in a thick layer all over the affected surface and there permitted to remain for a couple of days, during which time it must be frequently moistened with water and only allowed to dry after the full two days are passed, when it can be easily removed by rubbing with a soft cloth. Then the surface should be polished with the finest bolted whiting and a piece of soft leather. This treatment cannot be applied to imitation marbles.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to their having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—The letters R. S. mean Revenue Stamp, as R S $8.00 means Revenue Stamp $8.00.

Tax on Conveyances executed prior to July 1st, 1901, on $100 to $500, 50c., and for each additional $500 or fraction thereof, 50c.; on Conveyances executed on and after July 1st, 1901, 25c., where consideration exceeds $2,500 and is not more than $3,000, and 25c. for each additional $500 or fraction thereof.

December 27, 28, 30, 31, January 2.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

December 27, 28, 30, 31, January 2.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious; real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of this list.

[1]Editor Record and Guide:

Wynn made a contract to lay water-proof floors in a stable. The floors have never been tight and are still leaky. He has received from me fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500) and until the floors are water tight, he will not get another cent.

John P. Leo.

[2]Editor Record and Guide:

Architect's certificate for work is $32,000, on which Ed. Smith received in trust $33,500, which is acknowledged in all memo's signed by Smith. His bill of $5.000 is, according to his own statement, an unwarranted extra bill handed in after his whole work is now completed.

P. Herter & Son.

[3]Editor Record and Guide:

The lien filed by Benenati and Levoli in amount of $655.00 against our 159th St. operation, is without any just cause or reason, in that the said contractors are not entitled to any payment, nor will they be until their work is completely finished, which will not be for some time henceforth, and I have advanced them their money under the terms of their contract immediately upon maturity, and therefore they are not warranted to any payment until the terms of such contract has been obligated and fulfilled, and we shall take immediate steps toward having the lien vacated and removal from record.

Emma Horenburger.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. are preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious; real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.
The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of this list.

THE RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY.

The expense attending the preparation and publication of the Record and Guide Quarterly makes it necessary that the price should be advanced. Consequently, hereafter, the charge to annual subscribers will be $10, which sum will pay for three quarterly numbers and one annual number containing all the records of the year. The charge for single quarterly numbers will be $3 each, and that for single annual numbers $10 each. This change is made in confidence that those who have hitherto used this invaluable work will appreciate its justice. There is no other part of the equipment of a real estate office so useful and so handy, or to be obtained at anything like so small a cost.

A SOMEWHAT turbulent week has seen the stock market drop back into the professionalism from which at our last writing it seemed about to emerge. The breaks in prices that came early in the week together with less favorable news, the prospect of a renewal of gold exports, etc., apparently frightened away the unprofessional buyer, so that business contracted materially in both speculative and investment lines. On the whole, this is much more satisfactory than a booming market would have been in the present condition of prices At the same time the professional has a good field to work in, because if the public are not buying they are not selling securities, and we have much the same condition of affairs that has followed other big movements, when a flush, and consequently over-confident professional element played with values through pools and such like combinations, and so provided a good market for the legitimate and everyday realizations. Of course, with such a state of affairs the general tendency of prices is downward, with the usual reserve as to exceptions. One of the most conspicuous of the latter is Manhattan Elevated, which has advanced in the face of a general decline, not so much upon the success of electric traction announced this week, but more on the theory that events are rapidly tending to bring about a condition of affairs that must compel the great railroads entering the city to seek the aid of Manhattan in order to bring in their passenger traffic and distribute it expeditiously through the city. As to the specialties generally there is the greatest of manipulation of all in these, and the uninitiated needs to be careful how he handles them. Outside of the stock market there is no diminution of cheerfulness; business continues in good volume, and lessening speculation is tending toward further ease in money.

WHILE London appears as a rather prominent seller in the New York market, it does not appear to be because it is in need. Probably the selling has a double motive—to secure prices that are not expected to last, and to obtain means for participating in buying movements that have begun at home. There is no doubt about the improved feeling in Great Britain, and that it has fair ground to rest upon is shown by the reports from South Africa and the returns of foreign trade, which, for December, displayed moderate increases in both imports and exports, though, of course, for the year large declines. The Bank of England holds its discount rate at the high point of 4 per cent., but it has returned to the market a large amount of the funds gathered together to meet the requirements accompanying transition from one year to another. On the Continent the conditions are different. Paris remains pecuniarily strong, and there is comparative ease in money elsewhere, but the signs of productive recuperation are wanting. The doleful strain of the Kaiser and his Chancellor, when commenting on the economic condition of Germany, this week, may be exaggerated for effect upon the Reichstag and the Prussian Diet, but that it has some reason is not to be denied. Among other signs of bad times it is reported that 100,000 fewer Christmas trees were sold in Berlin last Christmas than usual. This may seem a trivial thing to report, but as a matter of fact, to those who know the German people and the importance they attach to the Tanenbaum in their Christmas observances, this fact is full of significance of the poverty of the working classes, presuming, of course, that the Christmas trade of other points have the same characteristics as that of Berlin. However, when signs of improvement are found in Great Britain, it is not probable that they are far away from its European neighbors. It is only that the richest and best endowed feel the improvement first.

Realty Securities and the Outside Investor.

FROM the individual to the partnership, and from the partnership to the corporate is the train of effort traceable in all lines of business. It is, therefore, natural and inevitable that the corporation should become the dominating factor in real estate and constructional activity. The individual seeks a partner to help him carry the burden of effort and pecuniary risk, when these become too heavy for his own strength and means, but as a rule he expects this help to come from another, or others of like commercial sympathies with himself. With the corporation it is different. That is usually formed by a few men who undertake the technical direction of a particular enterprise—who can supply all the strength, but lack in whole, or part, the capital. This they seek elsewhere, and while those who contribute it may be partners in the concern, in the sense that all stockholders in a company are partners, or owners, technical knowledge of the business carried on is not an accompanying or qualifying requisite. Recognizing this fact the law has long encouraged these unions of knowledge and capital by giving them rights and privileges embodied in franchises; and, in comparatively recent years, has gone a step further and made the risk of any one individual in the corporation simply the amount he shall voluntarily name; that is, except in rare cases, the amount of the stock he shall ask for.

This limitation of liability has done more than any other one thing to develop trade and commerce. Without it it would have been impossible to have formed the great combinations that have created the vast facilities of manufacture, trade and transit that are the crowning achievement of civilization. With this legal protection so long in existence, it is rather surprising that the development of realty has not been in corporate hands sooner, and did not have to wait until to-day, so to say, for that to take place. There have been many companies formed to carry out special operations, but these have generally been small affairs, really partnerships availing themselves of the legal limit of liability for the benefit of their several members, and whose franchises have been allowed to lapse as soon as the particular operation was completed. To-day, we are face to face with a very different kind of corporation. When the course of events compelled—in the sense that everything is achieved under compulsion of the will or necessity—the erection of high buildings upon large plots of land, it became obvious that but comparatively few of these could be created by individuals, because of the large cost involved in each case, and the corporate owner and builder became a necessity in order to secure the requisite union of technical knowledge and capital which do not ordinarily go together in sufficient quantities. Besides this the profit promised by this class of enterprise enlisted the attention of some of the professional organizers of capital, and the result was new additions to the list of tall buildings, as, for instance, the Bowling Green Building, which was built from money raised from the sale of bonds and stock by a well-known banking house.

But so far as this city is concerned the public subscription feature has until now been absent from this line of business, and it requires this to give it perfect form. In Boston, we believe, it has been done at the outset of operations, and has been successful, mainly through the standing and representations of the house that invited the subscription. There is little doubt that New York is moving toward that point. One large banking house is to-day offering by public advertisements an issue of bonds secured by mortgage upon a colossal downtown office building, and this, in our opinion, marks an era in which the small investor will be more closely connected with the builder and land operator here. In going over a list of incorporations effected during 1901, the least capital of any of which was half-a-million of dollars, we find among them twenty-eight whose purpose were either dealing in land and buildings, ownership in land or buildings, or constructing buildings in this city, and whose aggregate capital amounted to over $50,000,000. It follows that some of these, as well as those incorporated in previous years, will have bonds to offer bulking so large that they cannot dispose of them unless they secure the confidence of the rank and file of capital, to whom land and buildings are but very general terms.

So far it will be seen progress has been on conservative lines. The public are not asked to do more than take a mortgage, for convenience represented by bonds on a proved undertaking, and with a good margin for safety of both principal and interest. Such a slow process will not satisfy the more enterprising of builders, or the more venturesome of investors, and it is sure to be followed by, in much shorter space of time than it has taken to reach this point, the practice that has been long in use in the home of the corporation of limited liability, i. e., the London financial market, of taking the speculative contributor of means along in the enterprise from the start. The security and profit that have hitherto attended land development in New York and the need our citizens have felt from time to time of changing the form of improvement, until it is now one that can only be attempted by the employment of sums too large for the individual purse, make this an irresistibly attractive field for the organizer. The system that will grow up under these conditions will, of course, have its disadvantages, but its advent is not to be prevented and its benefits will more than offset its evils.

The Real Estate Situation

Lower Broadway is still one of the most important centers of real estate activity. Although no important sales on that thoroughfare have actually been divulged during the past week, there are so many rumors of negotiations, and such an evident expectation of further operations that additional news may be confidently expected. In the meanwhile there is considerable activity and a tendency to advancing prices on the important side streets.

The Profits of Office Buildings.

A sale has just been consummated on Pine street at a figure not far from $100 a square foot. Seven or eight years ago the property would not have fetched half that figure. The explanation is, of course, the revelation which has been made during the past two years that sky-scrapers can be made to pay over a much larger area than had hitherto been thought possible. How well they can be made to pay in some instances is shown by the exhibit of the earnings of the Park Row Realty Co., published in another column. It has been currently reported that this building was only a poor income-payer, but its owners have every reason to be satisfied with the showing which they are enabled to make. According to the information published the gross revenue of the building is $318,010, of which $141,235 is absorbed by expenses. This leaves a net revenue of $176,775 to be applied to interest payments, of which $140,000 pay four per cent. on the first and second mortgage bonds, after which a balance remains of $36,775. As the land and building, according to the statement, cost $4,000,000, this would be sufficient to pay a good percentage on a capital stock which was not watered. Such returns as these make it sufficiently apparent why property values are increasing in the financial district and many additional sky-scrapers are being planned. For the Park Row Building, both in its construction and its location does not occupy such an advantageous position as some of the buildings in the financial district. The light and air of the lower offices and those on the side are indeed unusually well secured; but better rentals and a better class of tenants (the city excepted) are to be obtained further south. Moreover, the cost of erecting the Park Row Building was much increased by delays caused by labor troubles. Hence, the results which have been reached in this case may not only be equalled, but may be exceeded in the case of other buildings further south. It is obvious, however, that if all the plans for the erection of new "sky-scrapers," recently announced, are carried out, these enterprises will have to face for several years following a larger percentage of vacancies.

The general market shows a fairly well-sustained and a fairly well-distributed amount of activity. There is just enough outside buying to keep it from being entirely given over to professional operations, and the professional operations themselves have an exceptionally solid character. No unfamiliar tendencies have developed, except a slight one in the direction of additional activity on the West Side. Three of the sales of West Side property announced in our "Gossip" columns will mean improvements in the spring—two for apartment houses and one for an apartment hotel. There is an increasing tendency to situate hotels on upper Broadway. So far, except the new and expensive residences for the Clark estate on 73d street, there have been no announcements looking toward the erection of any private dwellings on the West Side during the coming year. Whatever building activity there is will be confined to larger structures. What is most interesting, however, about the West Side is the diversification of interest which is gradually creeping in. Little by little one institution after another is buying property upon Central Park West, or elsewhere, and as a whole, are taking away from the section the raw appearance which it presented for so many years. A few buildings, such as those of the historical and geographical societies, and a few good clubs, do a great deal to keep a district from being merely a barracks of one kind or another. The latest important purchase on Central Park West does not promise to add to the dignity of the neighborhood, but it ought to add to its gayety. That a company of Havana capitalists should be willing to put up a million dollars for a building in which will be played a game of which the American public knows nothing, shows a confidence in the public attractiveness of that particular sport, which is extraordinary, if not suspicious. But in case the building is ever actually erected, it will give the vicinity of the Grand Circle a very decided lift as an amusement centre. It is probable that whatever theatres and concert halls, which will come to the West Side during the next ten years, will be situated as near the Circle as possible, so as not to limit the area from which patronage may be derived. The Circle may yet come up to the expectations which were advanced when it was originally laid out.

The General Market and the West Side.

IT is stated that President Cantor of the Borough of Manhattan, proposes to do all he can to have the Elm street improvement hastened, so that the much abused property owners on that street may, as soon as possible, recover the use of their property, of which they have practically been deprived for several years. This is not, however, the only case in which the new Borough President can remedy abuses from which property owners are suffering. In numerous cases street improvements have been begun and their costs assessed, and then have been left uncompleted, to the loss and discomfiture of neighboring owners. Considering that increased powers have been bestowed upon the Borough President, chiefly for the purpose of enabling him to start street improvements more promptly, and put them through with as little delay and expense as possible, Mr. Cantor's administration will succeed or fail chiefly according to his ability to perform this part of his work effectually. His appointments have been, on the whole, so good that he has already won, to an unusual extent, the confidence of his constituents, and they are awaiting patiently both the redress of past grievances and the removal by anticipation of any future causes of complaint.

IT is encouraging to note that the new local administration is approaching the question of salary reduction from the proper point of view. An indiscriminate scaling down of salaries would disorganize the whole departmental service. The reductions must be made in a systematic way, and under such conditions that an employee will know that he can expect an increase for faithful and competent work. To this end a proper classification of salaries is absolutely necessary, so that men performing the same kind of work will receive approximately the same remuneration. Apparently it is along these lines that the administration proposes to work, and it is to be hoped that it will succeed in making a substantial saving without injuring the efficiency of the departmental service. Indeed it is absolutely necessary that this should be done. The Low administration in order to justify itself to the property owners of New York must save enough money to enable it to reduce the tax rate, and it must also continue a liberal policy of public improvements. The money saved in one direction will be spent in another, but it will be spent for the benefit of the city and will fatten the pockets of property owners instead of those of office holders. The administration should realize that whatever prosperity local real estate and building interests at present enjoy is dependent upon the tunnels, bridges, viaducts and the like now under way and projected, and that it rests with the administration whether it give this prosperity encouragement by vigorously pushing all improvements, or whether it interferes with the present movement by a policy of unwise economy. If the Low administration knows what it is about it will not merely furnish those improvements which are immediately necessary, such as the Canal Street Bridge, but it will push ahead improvements like the 59th Street Bridge, which while not immediately necessary, will materially assist the growth of the Borough of Queens. It is time for the system of public works to anticipate public needs rather than tag along behind them.

ON Monday the tax books will be opened "for public inspection, examination and correction," and will remain open only until April 1, instead of until April 30, as formerly. The "public inspection" provision is a new thing, and is provided by Section 892 of the Charter, to enable any one to inspect any assessed valuation. At the same time the Charter retains the old provisions for reasonable rules and regulations regarding inspection of public documents. It is found in Section 1545, and is: "All books, accounts and papers in any department or bureau thereof, except the police and law departments, shall at all times be open to the inspection of any taxpayer, subject to any reasonable rules and regulations in regard to the time and mannner of such inspection as such department, bureau or officer may make in regard to the same."

WITHOUT attempting to anticipate the results of a careful investigation of the deplorable accident which took place in the Park Avenue Tunnel last Wednesday, there is one aspect of the matter which has hitherto escaped the attention it deserves. That the introduction of electricity into the tunnel as the motive power would tend to decrease the chances of such accidents is undoubtedly true, but it is evident the improvement of tunnel conditions which would result from such a chance would not of itself be sufficient. It would remain true that the four tracks which the tunnel contains at present are not sufficient to accommodate the traffic safely and conveniently, and that the terminal conditions at the Grand Central Station will never be entirely satisfactory until in one way or another more track room has been obtained. This is the point upon which the Record and Guide has insisted from the start, and which every fresh development of the tunnel's deficiencies serve only to emphasize. For if there is congestion at present, what will be the state of things when those parts of the Bronx and Westchester county served by the Grand Central roads begin to be rapidly built up. A much more radical solution of the whole problem is necessary than any which has yet been proposed, and the Legislature ought not to adjourn without having ordered an investigation into all the engineering and traffic questions, which the tunnel presents.

West End Affairs.

MORTGAGE TAXATION—CHANGES AT THE CIRCLE—NO MORE DUMPING AT 90TH STREET.

The usual monthly meeting of the West End Association took place on Monday evening last, with Cyrus Clark, President, in the chair. Henry H. Hendricks, No. 336 W. 89th st, and John Stewart, No. 147 W. 94th st, were elected to membership.

The question of the taxation of mortgages came in for a good deal of attention. On motion of Mr. Card, a resolution was adopted approving a report of the Greater New York Committee endorsing the Elsberg local option bill, and mortgage tax exemption bill of Senator Slater and Assemblyman Seymour; and empowering the Committee on Taxation and its chairman to urge before the Legislature such legislation as will prove more beneficial to taxpayers than existing statutes. The Greater New York Committee on Mortgage Exemption has considered the Stranahan bill, imposing a recording tax on mortgages filed after March 1, 1902, and prepared amendments thereto, providing for existing mortgages and relative to building loans, which will be offered at Albany. The committee propose to favor the Elsberg bill; and one to be introduced by Senator Slater and Assemblyman Seymour, exempting mortgages from taxation; but regard the Stranahan bill as the best measure so far introduced that appears likely to pass.

Other committees reported as follows: Local Improvements, suggesting that more interest should be taken in district committee work, particularly with the view of aiding the Commissioner of Street Cleaning and the Superintendent of Highways; Grievance, stating that sample street-sign lamps had been placed at 72d st, Broadway, and 35th st and 6th av, and that others would be in place shortly; Legislation, Law and Schools, regarding the ash dump, 97th and 98th sts, that the matter was taken up with Health Department, and further dumping of refuse stopped; the Department of Street Cleaning had not removed material already dumped on account of lack of funds. As to the dump on the 96th st pier, work of erection had been discontinued.

On motion of Mr. Houghton, the Grievance Committee were directed to ask the Commissioner of Parks to compel the completion of the 96th st viaduct; and the Local Improvement Committee to ask the Borough President to compel the completion of the 125th st viaduct.

A committee of the Municipal Art Society explained the features of that society's plan for improvement of Columbus Circle, involving certain changes in the location of tracks, and, as of lesser importance, the elevation of the monument. It was stated that the city could require the railroad company to make such track changes without any expense to itself. On motion of Mr. Coleman, a resolution was adopted approving the plan.

Contractors Dine.

SECOND ANNUAL DINNER OF THE CONTRACTORS' PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION.

The second annual dinner of the Contractors' Protective Association took place on Thursday evening at Shanley's, who served an elaborate repast, as can be seen from the following:

MENU.

Cocktails. Cape Cods.

Celery. Olives. Radishes.
Chablis. Clear Green Turtle.
Sherry. Filet of Sea Bass.
Bermuda Potatoes. Cucumbers.

Bordeaux. Irish Bacon and Greens.
Rack of Spring Lamb.
Potato Croquettes. Stuffed Tomatoes.

Punch au Kirsch.

Terrapin.

Mumm's Extra Dry. Roast Quail.
Romaine Salad.
Cordials Nesselrode Pudding.
Cafe Special.
Cigars.

Perez M. Stewart, Superintendent of Buildings, headed the list of guests of honor present, and had for associates John B. McDonald, contractor for the Rapid Transit Railroad; F. M. Weeks, Charles A. Cowen, Secretary, Mason Builders' Association; John Fleming, John A. Bouker, Andrew Bouker, Samuel E. Bouker, Benjamin Bouker, James Hurley, Albert Hastorf, Harry Goodwin, Frank Goodwin, T. A. S. Sheridan, Thomas O'Brien, Joseph O'Brien, John A. McCarthy, Charles C. Murtagh, John A. Murray, Frank Jacobus, C. H. Boynton, Philip Benjamin, William Hastorf and Wm. K. Fertig, Secretary Buildings Trades' Association.

Borough President Cantor and County Clerk Thomas L. Hamilton sent letters of regret.

At other tables there were 175 participants in this celebration, including: Jno. Gallagher, Michael Larkin, Jno. McLaughlin, Jos. Gallick, P. Reddy, F. H. Chapman, J. W. Cody, P. Larkin, Wm. H. Masterson, Jas. J. Mooney, Edw. Mann, J. J. Duffy, Edw. Galway, Jos. Murray, Jno. Slattery, Jas. Gallagher and J. T. Abel.

The opening address was made by J. J. Larkin, who has been President of the Association since its formation two years ago. During the past year the membership of the Association was increased by the admission of 20 new firms, there has been no resignations, and the membership numbers 100. The claims reported amounted to $52,000, of which $13,500 were collected through the efforts of the Association. Jno. B. McDonald expressed a desire to become a member of the Association, and was thereupon unanimously elected, as was also Jas. Pilkington.

After a short speech by Charles A. Cowen, Perez M. Stewart was called upon to respond to a standing toast to the new Superintendent of Buildings. He first reviewed his own business success as a speculative builder. "Two thousand years ago," he said, "the contractors who erected the Pyramids of Egypt thought that they were the real thing, simply because they were not hampered by any such building code as exists in the State of New York. Why, those old Egyptians felt perfectly free from any apprehension of damages, even if they wanted to blow out the whole side of Egypt without protecting the public by so much as putting in a screen. What a snap Manhattan builders would have, if they had only lived in the ancient days of those Egyptians!" (Applause.) Mr. Stewart further commended especially the work of building excavators of this city and declared that to them much of the progress of the city in the way of modern buildings is due. Mr. Stewart asserted that there was little reason for regarding the rapid transit tunnel as more than an ordinary American achievement, because the subway is little more than a succession of cellars.

David P. Canavan, Chairman of the Dinner Committee, was called upon for a speech, and then John B. McDonald, the rapid transit subway contractor, was announced. He evaded the responsibility of making a speech by saying: "I was brought up among the picks and shovels, and not among the dictionaries and books, so while I shall not undertake to be eloquent upon transportation problems, I thank you for the compliment of this dinner."

John Cloughen presented to President Larkin an illustrated album in behalf of the Association, and John Fleming spoke about absent contractors.

Thomas L. Mulvy spoke on the general condition of affairs under the new administration as it affected excavators and mason builders.

The New Tenement House Department.

The new Tenement House Department, which was created by the new Charter on January 1st, opened offices on January 2d. The Manhattan office is located at No. 61 Irving place, southwest corner of 18th st, one block from the Building Department. The offices for Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond are located in Brooklyn in Room No. 1203, Temple Bar Building, No. 44 Court st, opposite the City Hall, and also opposite the Brooklyn Building Department. Offices will also be opened in the Borough of The Bronx as near as possible to the Municipal Building, where the Building Department is to be located in the near future. The Tenement House Department has sought to consider to the very greatest extent the convenience of the public, and especially of the architects and builders.

For the present the Tenement House Department is confining its operations to examining plans for new tenement houses and for alterations to existing tenement houses that may be filed after January 1st. All other duties with which the Tenement House Department is charged under the Tenement House Law are temporarily being performed by the Health Department until such time as the Tenement House Department can become organized. It will be probably a month before the Tenement House Department can secure from the Civil Service Commission suitable eligible lists for inspectors, clerks, messengers and other employees, and it will be practically the same time before the alterations necessary in the department offices can be completed. The Building Department will continue to act on amendments to plans filed in the Building Department prior to January 1st, and will also inspect all such buildings and see that the law is enforced, and will continue to carry out the procedure of all violations that have been filed on such buildings.

Only a few appointments have been made in the Tenement House Department. The Commissioner is, as has already been announced, Mr. Robert W. de Forest; the First Deputy Commissioner is Mr. Lawrence Veiller, with his office in Manhattan, and the Second Deputy Commissioner is Mr. Wesley C. Bush, the former Superintendent of Buildings in Brooklyn, with offices in Brooklyn and in charge of the Department in the Boroughs of Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond. A few employees have been transferred to the service of the Tenement House Department from the Bureau of Buildings, both in Manhattan and Brooklyn. The Commissioner is very anxious to secure high-grade men for the positions of inspector, the requirements being general intelligence, common sense, good judgment and knowl edge of the Tenement House Law. At the present time the application blanks for these positions have not been prepared, but can soon be obtained from the Municipal Civil Service Commission, No. 346 Broadway, by persons who are contemplating seeking employment in the Tenement House Department.

The Tenement House Department has already prepared new forms to be used by architects and builders in filing plans for new tenement houses, as well as alterations for existing tenement houses. These blanks can be had on application at the Tenement House Department. The new building blank is similar in form to the blank formerly used in the Department of Buildings for light and ventilation, although it has been prepared to suit the requirements of the new law, and contains many new features, among which may be noted the following:

Each question is numbered, so that reference may be made the more easily in any objections or disapprovals that may be made by the plan examiners. In each question reference is made to the section of the law affected by the question.

A schedule is shown, showing the minimum sizes of the different kinds of courts for the different widths of buildings.

Probably the most important change has been in incorporating in the application blank an affidavit to be sworn to by the architect instead of having this on a separate blank.

The architect is also for the first time required to state that the statements made in the application are true, as well as the fact that he is authorized by the owner to file the plans.

A separate blank is provided which is to be signed by the owner, stating that the architect is authorized by him to file such plans in the department. This does not have to be sworn to.

The method of filing plans and applications is somewhat similar to that in vogue for many years in the Building Department The applications are filed in triplicate, two copies being retained in the Tenement House Department and one copy, after approval, being returned to the architect. Plans are filed in duplicate, and must be either tracings or cloth prints, and must be identical. After the plans are approved, the duplicate set of plans is forwarded by the Tenement House Department to the Bureau of Buildings in each borough, with a certificate signed by the Tenement House Commissioner, notifying the Superintendent of Buildings that the plans have been approved. A similar notice is at once mailed to the architect notifying him that his plans have been approved and that the duplicate set has been forwarded to the Bureau of Buildings. All that will be necessary for the architect after receiving this notice is to file his construction application in the Bureau of Buildings, as the plans will already be on file there.

Since the opening of the Tenement House Department two plans for new tenement houses have been filed, one for the Borough of The Bronx and one for the Borough of Manhattan. Both plans have been approved without objection on the part of the department, and have been immediately forwarded without delay of any kind to the Bureau of Buildings.

The New Proposition for Taxing Mortgages.

THE MORTGAGE EXEMPTION COMMITTEE SUGGEST AMENDMENTS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Dear Sir—In your editorial to-day on the new mortgage tax proposition you reach the conclusion that this proposition ought to be opposed as vigorously as were the Governor's former one, and that of his predecessor in the Gubernational chair.

I have carefully read your editorial, and as I understand it you are of the opinion that the tax of five mills or ½%, so far as ordinary mortgages are concerned, might be offset by a greater demand for this form of investment, and a consequently lower rate of interest. But that such a tax upon building loan mortgages which are generally made for a shorter term than one year would sometimes amount to 1% upon the builders' capital, and that this would be obstructive of developments and a hardship to the building industry, and that for this reason the proposition ought to be opposed vigorously.

My experience with builders who operate with building loans has been that in addition to the cost of the loan one-half of one per cent. is not considered a serious matter, if the terms of the building loan are liberal and the other expenses connected with it moderate. The cost of the building loan, except in very large operations, is about 3 or 4%, of which 1% is allowed to the broker. This is where the building loan is obtained from a party not interested in the operation, and is a genuine loan of cash. Where the loan is made by the seller of the land, though the expense may be nominally small, there is generally added to the price above the actual market value of the land, anywhere from 5 to 20%, and this is the real cost to the builder of his building loan. A stamp tax of 5 mills is practically the same as the Federal Tax levied under the War Tax Revenue Law. I never heard any builder make any serious complaint about this tax, and I am confident that statistics will prove that the number of building loans was not materially diminished by reason of this War Tax.

The real objection to your conclusion that the bill ought to be vigorously opposed is that by adopting that course real estate owners will lose the benefit which they would get from this bill, and get nothing at all in place of it. It is practically certain that if the bill advocated by Gov. Odell is defeated, through the opposition of real estate owners, no bill at all will be passed; and the exemption from taxation of mortgages which is the aim of all those who opposed the bill a year ago will not be secured. A tax of five mills payable once during the life of each mortgage amounts to much less than landowners will gain in Manhattan and the Bronx by a deduction of the annual rate of interest which the exemption of mortgages from assessment as personal property will secure.

I have personally known of many instances where residents of New York City, whose money was all invested in bonds and mortgages, have been driven out of the county and taken up a residence in New Jersey, or some other suburb to avoid a tax of more than 2% per annum where their income was about 4 or 4½%.

The Record and Guide has in its possession statistics of the mortgages placed in Manhattan and the Bronx every year during the past five years, and by comparing the amount of those with the total amount of mortgages on record in New York County, as shown by the census, it will be easy to show what is the average life of real estate mortgages in this county. I think you will find that it is more than three years rather than less, and in fact that it is nearer five years. The result, then, is that by paying a tax of perhaps one mill a year bonds and mortgages on New York real estate become exempt from tax, and practically as desirable as New York City bonds, which sell on a basis of 3 15-100%. Should not real estate owners join to seize the benefit now offered to them in Senator Stranahan's proposed bill, rather than have the present conditions continue because we cannot get everything we wish?.

Yours very truly, A. B. CARRINGTON.

New York, Jan. 4, 1902.

The Mortgage Exemption Committee have unanimously adopted the following resolution. The constitution of the Committee is shown by the names appended thereto:

We adhere to the principle that any taxation of mortgages is double taxation and believe that no law for the taxation of mortgages should be found on the statute books.

We recognize that the measure recommended by the Governor for a record tax upon mortgages, as proposed by Senator Stranahan, is the least objectionable measure so far proposed.

If the Legislature is determined to collect this proposed tax upon mortgages, such tax should apply equally to all mortgages. If Senator Stranahan's bill is to be passed, it should be so amended as to permit the owner or holder of any mortgage of real property in this state, recorded before March 1st, 1902, or of any mortgage of real property outside the state, to pay the same tax as that required to be paid on mortgages recorded in this state after March 1st, 1902, and to obtain the exemption provided for in the bill.

To meet the serious objection that the bill in its present form will be a special burden upon builders who contract building loans, it could be amended so as to provide that when a mortgage is satisfied within one year of the date of record a new mortgage, covering the same property, to an amount equal to the preceding mortgage might be recorded without the payment of any tax.

We submit a suggestion for an amendment to remove this objection and also the inequality between the owners of mortgages to be recorded after March 1st, and the owners of existing mortgages:

"'Section 291. The owner or holder of any mortgage of real estate situated wholly or in part within this state, the execution of which shall have been acknowledged or proven prior to the first day of March, 1902, or of any mortgage of real estate situated without this state, or of any bonds, notes or obligations secured by such mortgage of real estate wherever situated, may pay for the use of the state to the recording officer of the county in which he resides a tax of fifty cents for each $100 or major fraction thereof of indebtedness which is or under any contingency may be secured by such mortgage, or evidenced by such bond, note or other obligation. A mortgage of real estate situated within this state which shall be offered for record within one year of the date of the first record of a satisfied mortgage, covering the same property, recorded subsequent to March 1st, 1902, shall be exempt from the tax imposed by Section 290 up to an amount equal to the amount of the satisfied mortgage. All mortgages subject to taxation under Section 290 and the bonds, notes, obligations and debts secured thereby, and all mortgages, bonds, notes and obligations upon which the tax has been paid as herein allowed, shall be exempt from all other taxation under the authority of this state or of any county, city, town, village or other subdivision thereof. The assessment taxation and exemption of mortgages and the bonds, notes, obligations and debts secured thereby, save such as are herein expressly exempted, upon which the tax has not been paid, as required by Section 290, or as herein allowed, shall continue to be governed, nothwithstanding anything in this article contained, by the laws heretofore in force."

THE TAX MEASURES— BILLS TO RELIEVE TENEMENTS ANTEDATING NEW LAW—STREET IMPROVEMENTS, ETC.

Senator Raines is receiving a good deal of credit for cleverness in drafting his tax bill, and, while this bill is probably only intended as a club to threaten off opposition to the Stranahan mortgage tax bill, this credit is really deserved. It is really a cleverly-constructed measure, but it contains one error of description that ought to be fatal to it. It proposes to impose an annual stamp tax of one-fifth of one per centum upon "shares of corporate stock and all other evidence of indebtedness," certificates, bonds, mortgages, bills, etc. Now, a share of stock is an intangible thing, and a certificate of stock is an evidence of ownership and not of indebtedness. The cleverness of the bill is seen in the omission of the inquisitorial clauses of a similar bill defeated last year, and the substitution of what may be called automatic execution clauses. These require the owner of the security taxed to fix the stamps himself, different issues being provided for each year, and make the securities invalid if not regularly stamped. Thus, if the owner omitted to affix the stamp for any particular year, he would not be able to obtain that stamp thereafter, and the principal could repudiate the contract on maturity. Such a provision would do an immense amount of injury and wrong to ignorant or neglectful people, but such it is. If seriously considered as an alternative to the Stranahan bill, it certainly very greatly increases the chances of the passage of the latter. Senator Raines estimates that his bill, if passed, will produce $15,000,000 a year, and he proposes that of this one-fifth should go to the State—that is, an amount equivalent to that estimated to be realized through the Stranahan bill—and four-fifths to the counties in which it is collected.

Senator Wilcox proposes an amendment of the Stranahan bill, which evidences a good deal of simplicity on the part of the proposer. It is the insertion of a provision that the mortgagee shall pay the tax on the mortgage—that is, that the consumer shall be relieved of part of the cost of producing the goods, an idea belonging to mediaeval economics, but not recognized in these times.

Senator Slater has introduced his bill of last year exempting from taxation bonds secured by mortgages covering real estate in this State, though not including corporate bonds. A similar bill was introduced into the Assembly by Mr. Seymour.

Prohibitive tax legislation against foreign corporations doing business in this State was introduced to-day by Senator Krum and Assemblyman Morgan, chairman of the Taxation Committee, in their respective houses. There were two bills, and they carry out the recommendations made by Gov. Odell in his annual message to the Legislature. One bill imposes a license tax of one-eighth of 1 per cent. on the capital of foreign corporations doing business here. This is practically an organization tax. In addition to the franchise, or dividend tax, now imposed upon foreign corporations doing business here, the bill levies upon such corporations an annual tax of one-tenth of 1 per cent. on each dollar of the capital of such a foreign corporation wherever employed up to and including $10,000,000; and a tax at the rate of $100 per $1,000,000 on all capitalizations in excess of $10,000,000. The second bill introduced by Messrs. Krum and Morgan will, it is expected, prevent further evasion upon the part of foreign manufacturing corporations of the law passed last year, which took away from them the exemption from taxation granted to domestic manufacturing corporations unless they had at least 40 per cent. of their property within this State. The bill prevents such a foreign company from incorporating in this State with the same name as borne by it in another State, and no corporation thus formed here is allowed to merge with or be operated by a foreign corporation, unless such foreign corporation has filed a certificate with the Secretary of State, so that it will pay the tax imposed on foreign corporations here.

Senator Slater introduced an employers' liability bill, drafted by a committee appointed by the State convention of labor organizations, Senator Slater said, and was in accordance with the ideas of the Federation of Labor on the subject. The bill differs in several important respects from the bill vetoed by the Governor last year. It is drawn to apply only to causes of action between employes and employers. The bill passed last year covered all negligence cases, and on this account was strenuously antagonized by leading lawyers in New York who make a specialty of accident cases. It was owing to their representations of the injustice which the bill would work to poor and ignorant people by setting up a new statute of limitations that Gov. Odell withheld his signature from the measure. In his message this year Gov. Odell renewed his recommendation for a fair employers' liability bill.

The tenement house question was represented this week by a bill from Senator Plunkett, which, with that introduced last week by Senator Wagner, and applying to Brooklyn, would, if passed, dispose of the "now existing tenements" clauses of the Tenement House Act. Senator Plunkett's bill would add the following clause to that act: "Any building, structure or house that shall have been erected in the borough of Manhattan and the Bronx, in the City of New York, or any house, building or structure in course of erection in the borough of Manhattan and the Bronx, in the City of New York, prior to the passage of chapter 334 of the laws of 1901, known as the tenement house act, and which were erected or in course of erection, under the supervision of the Department of Buildings of the City of New York, and in pursuance of duly authorized permits from that department prior to the passage of the tenement house act, shall be exempt from all the provisions of the tenement house act, being chapter 334 of the laws of 1901, except the provisions relating to fire escapes."

Among other bills introduced were the following:

IN THE SENATE.

Senator Hennessey—Authorizing the appointment of a commission of three to pass upon claims for damages to lands and buildings caused by changes of grade of streets in the 23d and 24th Wards of New York City.

Senator Trainor—Regulating telephone charges so they will not exceed $100 in New York and $75 in Buffalo, with a like reduction throughout the State.

Senator Hennessey—To reduce from 7 to 5 per cent. the interest charged on unpaid assessments for public improvements in the City of New York.

Senator Marshall—Permitting the New York City authorities to pay the employes of commissioners in condemnation proceedings, pending the completion of the work of the commissioners.

IN THE ASSEMBLY.

Mr. J. E. Smith—To license auctioneers in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more. The fee is to be $500 annually.

Mr. Davis—Permitting trustees of estates to invest in the same securities that savings institutions are allowed to invest in.

Mr. Keenan—Reducing the rate of ferryage on the Long Island Ferry, between East 34th st, Manhattan, and Borden av, Queens, to 1 cent between the hours of 6 and 8 a. m. and 4.30 and 7.50 p. m.

Mr. Newcomb—To provide for acquiring land and property and the maintenance of the Hamilton Grange as a memorial of Alexander Hamilton.

Mr. Newcomb—Authorizing the extension of 135th st, between St. Nicholas av and St. Nicholas terrace, with a width of 60 feet.

The New York Life Insurance Co.'s Banquet.

The New York Life Insurance Company recently held a very pleasant family gathering at a banquet served at the Waldorf-Astoria. It was given by the company to its successful agency representatives among the Greater New York agencies. The company has had during the past year an unusually successful twelve months of business, and to say that of the New York Life Insurance Co. is to refer to the superlative. One of the most enjoyable incidents of the evening was a song composed for the occasion to the air of "Dolly Gray," the title of which was "For we've nothing else to lick." We give below one of the stanzas and the refrain. The menu was very elaborate and the leather covered book in which it was set forth will undoubtedly be preserved as a memento, not only of the financial success achieved, but of the good feeling that exists between the management and its representatives.

"FOR WE'VE NOTHING ELSE TO LICK."

(Air: "Dolly Gray.")

What's the record of the year? John McCall.
What new laurels do you wear? John McCall.
What new limits have we made
For the Kingdom of our Trade,
What's the picture, light and shade?
John McCall.
As the old year goes to rest, John McCall,
From the East and from the West, John McCall,
Fifteen thousand Nylics true,
Turn with hopes and fears to you—
What's been done? and what's to do?
John McCall.

Refrain:

Nineteen Hundred was a hummer,
Tell us now of Nineteen One!
We are waiting at the finish
While you tell us what we've won.
Have we licked old Nineteen Hundred?
Did we turn that little trick?
Tell us, John, and tell us quickly,
For we've nothing else to lick!

The Record and Guide Designated

AS AN OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER FOR THE DISPLAY OF MUNICIPAL ADVERTISING.

The Board of City Record with Mayor Low presiding designated the newspapers in which the city advertising is to be printed. Of the weekly papers The Real Estate Record and Builders' Guide and Harper's Weekly were selected. The World and Tribune were designated as the morning papers and The Post and Mail and Express as the evening papers. City advertising will also be printed in The Staats Zeitung, The New York Times, Press, Journal of Commerce, and in other newspapers.

Legal Decisions.

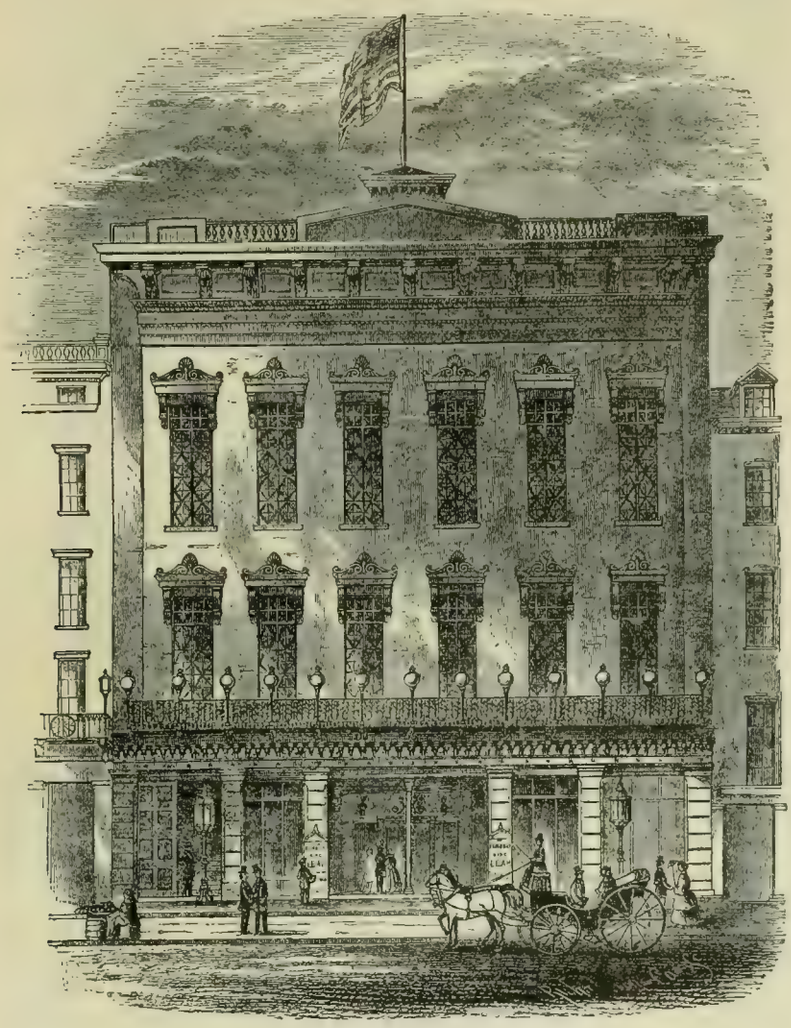
City contractor—Liability for injury to adjoining property through blasting. A city contractor blasting rock for a water trench in a street, under a contract, contemplating that it would be necessary, and requiring it to be done according to the city ordinances as to precautions taken, can only be held liable for injury to adjoining property from the jarring of the ground or concussion of the atmosphere, on proof that his work was negligently performed. If the plaintiff's proof fails to establish that the precautions called for by the city ordinances were not observed, or that the explosions were unnecessarily violent considering the work to be porformed, or were carelessly prepared for in view of the place and surroundings; or if, for aught that appears, the injury may have been the natural result of the work, notwithstanding reasonable precautions, or due to some weakness of the injured property, no recovery can be had. (The Holland House Co. v. Baird, Court of Appeals, December 20, 1901. New York Law Journal, January 6, 1902.)

Action for materials sold—ordered by defendant's husband and used in houses on her land—proof that defendant did not request her husband to purchase them. In an action to recover for building materials furnished by the plaintiffs upon the order of the defendant's husband, and used in the erection of houses upon land owned by the defendant, evidence that the defendant knew that the houses were being erected, and had heard her husband say that they were to be hers, is insufficient to establish liability on the defendant's part. In such an action, it is error to refuse to allow the defendant's husband, when called as a witness by her, to state whether the defendant ever requested him or told him to purchase from the plaintiff any of the materials to be used in the erection of the houses. (Snyder v. Sloane, App. Div. 65, 543.)

Power of sale to executors—when it is not imperative—when creditors may, notwithstanding its exercise, compel a sale under the statute. A power of sale created by a will which provides: "I give all my property to my executors or those who act as executors, their survivors or survivor, to use and dispose of the same as though I died intestate. I authorize and empower such executors who act to sell and convey any real estate of which I die seized," is not imperative, but a discretionary power created for the purpose of a division of the estate. Such a power does not afford to the creditors of the testator a remedy equivalent to that afforded by the statute empowering them to maintain a proceeding for the sale of a decedent's real estate for the payment of his debts, and will not preclude such creditors from resorting to the statutory remedy. Consequently, the executors cannot, while the debts of the testator remain unpaid, convey a clear and marketable title to real estate of which the testator died seized. (Parker v. Beer, 65 App. Div., 598.)

Proof of agency—that a husband acted for his wife in another similar transaction is incompetent. In an action to charge the defendant upon a contract for the sale of real estate, signed by her husband in his own name, evidence that, in a transaction similar to the one before the court the defendant's husband had acted as his wife's agent, is not competent as proof of his agency in the transaction in suit. (Molt v. Baumann, 65 App. Div., 445.)

Damages—Delay in completing work on a house—When it does not justify a claim for rent lost by reason thereof. In an action to recover for work done and materials furnished by the plaintiff in installing a heating apparatus in a house owned by the defendant, evidence that the defendant had intended to move out of the house which he occupied into the house where the heating apparatus was to be installed; that he had rented the house he lived in to a third party; that he was prevented from moving out of the house by reason of the plaintiff's delay in completing the installment, and that in consequence of such delay he had lost fifty dollars which he would otherwise have received from the person to whom he had let the house, is not admissible to establish a counter claim, where it appears that no notice of the agreement to rent the house had ever been given to the plaintiff. (Reilly v. Connors, 65 App. Div., 470.)



A deed duly executed and recorded, presumed to be accepted by a grantee ignorant of its existence. A deed which has been acknowledged by the grantors and duly recorded, and has consequently passed beyond their control, will be presumed to have been accepted by the grantee, although the latter did not know of the execution of the deed until one of the grantors informed her of that fact after it had been recorded. (Edlich v. Gminder, 65 App. Div., 496.)

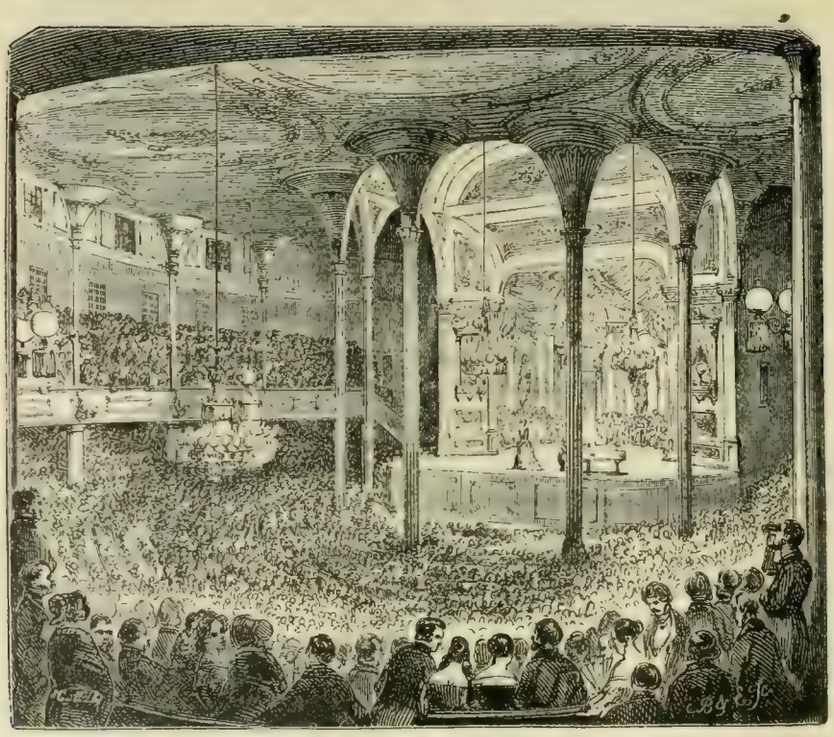
Mechanic's lien—a notice filed by a sub-contractor is not effective against a prior assignment for creditors made by the contractor. The execution and delivery of a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, executed by a building contractor, prevents a sub-contractor from obtaining a mechanic's lien under a notice thereafter filed. (Armstrong v. Borden's Condensed Milk Co., 65 App. Div., 503.)

Places of Public Amusement in New York Fifty Years Ago.

In 1854, the places of amusement in New York were not so numerous in proportion to the population as they are at present. There was the Franklin Theatre, in Chatham st (now Park row); Mitchell's Olympic, the Broadway Theatre, the National Theatre, Wallacks', and the Bowery. Tripler, or Metropolitan Hall, and Castle Garden were used for concerts and sometimes for opera. The state of the American drama did not please the dramatic critics of that period any more than it pleases the dramatic critic of to-day. One of these critics, writing in an issue of "Putnam's Magazine" on the theatres of New York complains that the American drama is borrowed entirely from England, and takes for its material the corrupt and artificial life of English gentry and aristocrats, and he uses the success of Uncle Tom's Cabin to show what rewards await the American author who can handle an American subject in an interesting way. In the following few sentences he even blames the monarchies of Europe in part, at all events, for the lack of any regular Italian opera in New York. "The Italian opera," he says, "is the highest order of theatrical entertainment, and demands for its support a class of educated and wealthy people more numerous than we have yet been able to boast of. There have never been more than half a dozen good singers before the public at a time, and in competing for their services we have to contend with, not the people of other cities, but their monarchs, the Emperor Nicholases and Napoleons, who never hesitate to spend the money of their subjects to purchase pleasure for themselves."

This same critic gives in his article illustrations of three places of amusement, which in the meantime have either entirely disappeared, or else have been changed for other purposes. We reproduce these illustrations, which in their original form were evidently engraved from daguerreotype photographs, the engraver adding a number of accessory figures to give life and action to what he feared would otherwise be a bare and bald reproduction. One of these illustrations is, as may be seen, the interior of Castle Garden. "Castle Garden," our author says, "the unique, remains, where opera, music and the drama are presented by turns. It is a hall of unequalled advantage for public exhibitions, which was originally a fort, but has long been appropriated to the refining arts of peace." We may add to this brief, but appreciative description, a few additional facts. The hall, which had been used for amusement purposes since 1824, was laid out elaborately as an indoor garden, and was capable of holding more than 6,000 people. It is hardly necessary to state that the most famous event in the history of the Garden was the appearance there of Jenny Lind in the fall of 1850. Only a year after the accompanying illustration was made—that is, in May, 1855—the building was turned into a depot for the reception of immigrants, while a fire fifteen years later destroyed the interior. It was soon rebuilt, and now fishes swim on the site of the triumphs of Jenny Lind.

THE BROADWAY THEATRE.



Tripler, or Metropolitan Hall, was situated on the present site of the Broadway Central Hotel, a site long celebrated for the successive hotels and places of amusement erected thereon. It so happens that it was destroyed soon after the accompanying illustration was made, a fact to which our author refers in the following well-chosen words: "Since we have commenced writing this article, the most beautiful and spacious place of popular recreation in New York has been swept out of existence by one of those sudden and disastrous conflagrations which have earned for New York the appellation of the City of Fires. Metropolitan Hall, which was unrivalled for its extent and splendor by any concert room in the world, together with the superb marble-fronted hotel, in which it was inclosed, with all their wealth of embellishment and taste—the unbodied forms of labor genius and skill, were suddenly whiffed out of existence on the morning of the 8th of January. The engraving, which we have the good fortune to possess of these superb structures, is all that now remains, but the memories of those ornaments of our city." Even those memories have since become so dim that few New Yorkers ever heard the name of the Hall, whose destruction called for a lavish expenditure of obituary epithets. This same Tripler Hall, by the way, had been built for the particular purpose of being used for Jenny Lind's debut, but it was not finished in time. Adelina Patti made her first appearance there in September, 1853.

The subject of the third illustration is the old Broadway Theatre, which was situated on Broadway, between Pearl and Worth sts. It was opened in 1847, and was continued as a playhouse under various names for twelve years. W. C. Macready and Edwin Forrest were among the actors who early made the house popular, while later Lester Wallack, C. W. Couldock, and E. L. Davenport all appeared upon its stage.

THE RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY.

The expense attending the preparation and publication of the Record and Guide Quarterly make it necessary that the price should be advanced. Consequently, hereafter, the charge to annual subscribers will be $10, which sum will pay for three quarterly numbers and one annual number containing all the records of the year. The charge for single quarterly numbers will be $3 each, and that for single annual numbers $10 each. This change is made in confidence that those who have hitherto used this invaluable work will appreciate its justice. There is no other part of the equipment of a real estate office so useful and so handy, or to be obtained at anything like so small a cost.

RECORD AND GUIDE, 14 Vesey St.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Hallgarten & Co., the bankers, have sold their property at the northwest corner of Broad st and Exchange place to Blair & Co. for about $750,000. The property which was purchased by Hallgarten & Co. in May, 1899, for $500,000, fronts 47.2 on Broad st, 78 feet on Exchange place, with a westerly line of 42 feet and a northerly line of 96 feet. The buyers will erect a 10-sty office building, the ground floor to be occupied by them, and the 1st floor by Hallgarten & Co. This operation will complete the improvement of the west side of Broad st, from Wall st to Exchange place.

Herbert L. May has purchased the property of the First Church of Christ Scientist on the north side of 48th st, 400 feet west of 6th av, a plot 80x100.

There are reports in circulation this week of the sale of two sites for office buildings south of Fulton st. One of them concerns the property recently acquired by Henry Corn from Dean E. A. Hoffman at Nos. 165 and 167 Broadway and the abutting Smith Building, at Nos. 13 to 17 Cortlandt st. It is reported that the Singer Manufacturing Co. has acquired this property. While this could not be confirmed at the office of the company, it is believed to be a fact.

Mandelbaum & Lewine have purchased from Henry Seifke, through D. Kempner & Sons, No. 402 8th av, northeast corner of 30th st, a 3-sty building, on lot 25x67.

Mandelbaum & Lewine have sold Nos. 263 to 273 Broome st, southeast corner of Allen st, a plot 125x87.6, which they bought in December from the Floyd estate. The buyers, Charles Weinstein and a Mr. Barkin, will erect two 7-sty tenements on the site.

Feinberg & Mishkind have sold to Grossman & Lipkin Nos. 145 and 147 West 10th st, a 6-sty flat, on lot 44x95.

Rosenberg & Feinberg have sold to J. D. Goldstein Nos. 458 and 460 Grand st, a 7-sty tenement, on lot 44x100.

Mandelbaum & Lewine have sold to Neiberg Brothers the plot 185.6x103.3 on the south side of 14th st, 139 feet west of 2d av. The sellers purchased this property last week from the Stuyvesant estate. Six-story flats will be erected on the plot.

The Ogden estate has sold to Schmeidler & Bachrach Nos. 322 and 324 West 11th st, a 3-sty building, on plot 45.7x60.

Mandelbaum & Lewine have sold to Sam. Harris, through S. Steingut & Co., No. 220 East 5th st, a 3-sty dwelling, on lot 21.3x92.4.

Joseph Veith has sold No. 113 East 56th st, a 5-sty dwelling, on lot 20x100.

W. E. Finn has bought No. 497 East Houston st, a 3-sty tenement, on lot 20x75.

Douglas Robinson, Charles S. Brown & Co., have sold No. 229 West 31st st, a 3-sty front and rear building, on lot 25x98.9; No. 374 West 32d st, a 4-sty dwelling, on lot 16.8x98.9; and No. 327 West 31st st, a 3-sty dwelling, on lot 20x98.9.

Max Gold has sold to Aaron J. Bloomberg No. 230 Eldridge st, a 5-sty tenement with stores, on lot 25x87.6. He bought it in December for $21,500, and now sells his contract at an advance of $600.

Pocher & Co. have sold to a Mr. Street No. 254 West 25th st, a 4-sty dwelling, on lot 15x109.6.

Leonard Weill has sold to Samuel Levin No. 430 East 9th st, a 6-sty tenement, on lot 25x93.

John H. Parker is said to have purchased Nos. 826 and 828 Broadway, northeast corner of 12th st, together with an adjoining parcel on 12th st, on which he will erect a 11-sty store and loft building. The seller of the corner is Jacob Hirsh, and of No. 828 and the 12th st L, Albert Joske. They have been asking for the combined plot $500,000. Mr. Joske paid $260,000 in 1896 for No. 828 Broadway and No. 63 East 12th st. The property just acquired fronts 42.11 on Broadway and about 143.2 on 12th st, with a northerly line of 150 feet and a rear line of 108.10. At the offices of both the seller and the buyer, it is said that the sale has not yet been consummated.

John Sinnott has sold Nos. 525 to 529 West 36th st, old buildings, on plot 75x98.9. The property was sold in 1898 for $24,750, and adjoins on the east the packing-house owned by Rohe & Co.

William J. Roome and Ames & Co. have sold for Miss M. L. Adam No. 216 West 30th st, a front and rear building, on lot 23.5x98.9.

John Katzman has sold to David Rosenkrantz the three 6-sty tenements, Nos. 734 to 740 East 5th st.

The New York Board of Fire Underwriters have sold to Boehm & Coon, No. 104 West 30th st, adjoining the southwest corner of 6th av.

J. Edgar Leaycraft & Co. have sold for W. B. Conklin, executor, the 3-sty and basement dwelling, on lot 18.9x100, No. 249 West 54th st.

S. Osgood Pell & Co. have sold for John C. Yeager to Harry Hubbard, No. 9 West 46th st, a 4-sty and basement dwelling, on lot 21.5x100.5.

James Thomas is reported to have sold No. 588 7th av, 80 feet north of 41st st, a 4-sty building, on lot 19.6x100. Jefferson M. Levy recently purchased No. 590, adjoining.

Daily & Carlson have sold No. 34 Walker st, a 5-sty building, on lot 25.1x75, with an L to No. 309 Church st, 24.1x50.1. They took it in trade last month for the northwest corner of Broadway and 102d st. It figured in the trade at about $68,500.

Isabel N. Phelps has sold No. 34 West 37th st, a 4-sty dwelling, on lot 25x98.9.

W. P. Jones & Son have sold for Eliza Davis to Charles Stumpf, No. 353 West 47th st, a 5-sty brick flat, on lot 27x100.

Herbert A. Sherman has sold to the Bank of the State of New York for the Harvier estate, No. 49 Exchange place, an old building, on lot 24.8x96.2x25x99.6. The buyer recently purchased No. 43 Exchange place for $200,000. They now own the entire Exchange place front down to the Mills Building (with the exception of No. 51), and Nos. 41 and 43 Wall st. The plot fronts 41.5½ on William st, 214.2 on Exchange place, and 30.6 on Wall st, in all about 17,000 square feet, which cost about $2,200,000; this allows about $600,000 for the William st corner, and is about the price at which it was transferred to the Wall Street Exchange Building Association, the corporation which will erect a new 25-sty building on the entire plot.

Mrs. Henry Randel has sold No. 38 East 38th st, a 4-sty dwelling, on lot 25x98.9.

Nichols & Lumis have sold for Robert D. Benson No. 114 West 39th st, a 2-sty stable, on lot 25x98.9.

Lowenfeld & Prager have purchased the northeast corner of 2d av and 29th st, a lot 44x53.2x35.6x57.7. John L. and A. T. H. Brower are the sellers.

Lowenfeld & Prager have sold No. 343 East 5th st, 6-sty tenement, on lot 25x97.11, to Jacob Eversold.

The sale is again reported of Nos. 219 and 221 West 43d st, a 5-sty flat, on plot 40x100.5; Louis and Samuel Sachs are the owners. It was reported sold in November last to the "Baroness Paula M. Arnold;" title has never passed.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Central Park West, south corner 71st st. The sale by Architect and Builder A. B. Kight of the "Barnard," a new 10-sty fireproof apartment house, on plot 100x125, is reported. This property was held at $850,000, and has a rent roll of $85,400 and is fully tenanted. F. R. Wood & Co., the brokers, would furnish no particulars. The "Barnard" was illustrated in our issue of December 14th last.

P. S. Tracy has sold for Harry L. Toplitz to a Mr. Schneider No. 615 West End av, between 89th and 90th sts, a 4-sty dwelling.

Lowenfeld & Prager have purchased from Louis Lease the plot 50x100.11, with frame buildings, at Nos. 341 and 343 East 120th st.

Lowenfeld & Prager have purchased from Louis Lese the Volzing & Son, No. 455 East 117th st, a 5-sty flat, on lot 26.6x 95.7. Nos. 453 and 455 were recently sold for $34,000.

J. P. & E. J. Murray have sold for John A. Amundson to a Mr. Birdsall No. 122 East 112th st, a 3-sty and basement dwelling, 17x50x100.

Frank L. Fisher Co. have sold for W. J. Usher No. 203 West 84th st, a 5-sty single flat, 20x90x100.

Slawson & Hobbs have sold for John C. Umberfield No. 145 West 76th st, a 4-sty dwelling, 18x60x102.2.

Hall J. How & Co. have sold for Leopold Kahn the plot 100.5x 125 at the northwest corner of Central Park West and 65th st. The Evangelical Church of the Holy Trinity are the buyers, and will erect on the plot a church to take the place of the one on 21st st, near 6th av, recently sold to an operator. The plot just sold was purchased by Mr. Kahn in February last for $150,000. At the same time the south corner of 66th st, a similar sized plot, was sold for $145,000. It is said that the church will pay something less than $175,000 for their new site.

Peter J. McCoy has sold the 5-sty flat, with store, on lot 25x 100, at the southeast corner of Amsterdam av and 131st st.

Andrew J. Connick has purchased from the trustee of the estate of Stephen Philbin, twenty-three lots fronting on Seaman av, Emerson st and Isham st. These lots are part of what was formerly known as the Dyckman homestead property, and are a short distance from Kingsbridge road.

W. J. Huston & Co. have sold for the McMullen estate No. 422 West 147th st, a 3-sty dwelling, 19x52x99.11.

Helen J. Erickson has sold to A. Jackson Thomas through Frank L. Fisher Co. Nos. 133 and 135 West 104th st, a 7-sty elevator apartment house, on lot 50x100.11. The seller obtained the property in a trade in July last; it then carried a mortgage of $165,000, but is now reported sold for $150,000. Mr. Thomas gives in exchange a plot 75x140 on Bainbridge av, 93 feet north of Travers st.

The block front from 62d to 63d st, on Central Park West, has been sold, the 62d st corner by Judge P. Henry Dugro, and the 63d st corner by Frank Work. William Brennan has sold to the same buyer a plot, 50x100, adjoining the 63d st corner. The buyers are a syndicate of Havana sportsmen and capitalists, who are represented in this city by J. A. Del Solar. The property will be improved with a building designed for the game of "pelota," a popular game of the Spanish-speaking race. The block front, 200.9x100, was purchased by Judge Dugro in 1899 for $240,000; he sold the 63d st half to Frank Work for $125,000. The plot, 125x100.5, on the north side of 62d st, 100 feet west of Central Park West, was purchased by him at the Eno sale in October, 1899, for $98,500. This sale disposes of all of Judge Dugro's purchases made in 1899 on Central Park West. The block front from 63d to 64th st he bought for $239,600, and resold to Adolphe Openhym, representing the Ethical Culture Society, for $245,000.

Pocher & Co. have sold for the estate of Mary Reilly No. 232 West 61st st, a 5-sty tenement, on lot 25x102.2.

William A. Duer has sold to Charles Edey, No. 120 West 70th st, a 4-sty dwelling, on lot 18.6x100.5.

Col. Eugene K. Austin has purchased No. 257 West 74th st, adjoining the northeast corner of West End av, a 3-sty and basement dwelling, on lot 20x102.

M. L. & C. Ernst have sold the plot, 100x100, on the east side of Broadway, 100 feet south of Hillside av.

F. R. Wood & Co. have sold for Patrick Prendergast to C. S. Jerger the 6-sty elevator apartment house, No. 207 West 85th st, 25x90x102.2, and the three 5-sty flats, Nos. 209 to 213 West 85th st, 20x90x102.2, 35x92x102.2, and 20x90x102.2, respectively.

Gustavus Preuss has sold to Thomas C. Shannon Nos. 211 and 213 West 106th st, two 5-sty flats, on plot 66.8x100.11, for $91,000. The seller obtained these houses in a trade with Mr. Shannon in 1897 for No. 29 Frankfort st; at that time the flats figured in the trade at $130,000, as against $75,000 for the Frankfort st property.

The Metropolitan Improvement Co. has sold No. 265 West 81st st, a 9-sty elevator apartment house, on plot 50x114.

The block front on the east side of Broadway, from 85th to 86th st, a plot 204.10x100.1x204.4x114.6, has been sold to a new corporation, in which Charles A. Cowen & Co., the builders, are large stockholders. The present owner of record is Le Grand K. Pettit, who took title in February last from C. T. Barney. The revenue stamps on the deed indicated a consideration of $467,500. Alexander Walker paid $127,500 for the northwest corner of Broadway and 87th st, a plot 100x90. A 12-sty hotel will be erected by the new corporation.

Bernard Smyth & Sons have sold for Oppenheimer & Metzger the plot, 50x100, on the south side of 115th st, 175 feet west of Broadway.

A. L. Mordecai & Son have sold for Francis M. Jencks to the West Side Construction Co., the plot of land containing a little less than five lots at the northeast corner of Riverside Drive and 97th st. It fronts 101.4 on the Drive and about 120 feet on the street, and adjoins a 7-sty apartment house. Mr. Jencks takes in part payment No. 117 West 96th st, a 5-sty flat, on lot 31.3x 100. This latter house stands in the name of Esther A. Wheaton, and was transferred to her in December by the Germania Life Insurance Co. Jacob Axelrod is the president of the West Side Construction Co.; a 9-sty apartment house will be erected on the plot.

Jacob Axelrod has sold to the West Side Construction Co., of which he is president, through A. L. Mordecai & Son the plot, 50x100.8½, on the north side of 94th st, 175 feet west of West End av. The seller bought this plot in December last and has not yet taken title. This neighborhood has been Mr. Axelrod's favorite field of operations, and Mr. Jencks has sold him a number of parcels.

Frank L. Fisher Co. have sold for A. Marsh, No. 404 West 145th st, a 4-sty American basement dwelling.

Charles H. Easton & Co. have sold for Annie O'Sullivan, No. 810 Lexington av, near 62d st, a 3-sty dwelling, on lot 20x80.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. (incorporated) have sold for Frederick H. Hassinger the Glenburn, apartment houses, at the southwest corner of Central Park West and 103d st. The property consists of three 5-sty flats, two 40-foot front each, and the corner 20.11x100.

William A. White & Sons have sold for Sarah E. Fox to William Buhler, Nos. 13 and 15 West 106th st, two 5-sty flats, on plot 50x100.

Clara Uhlfelder has sold the 4-sty dwelling, No. 109 East 64th st, on lot 20.10x100.5.

James Carlew has sold to W. A. Schiffer No. 22 West 76th st, a 5-sty dwelling, on lot 25x102.2.

Douglas Robinson, Charles S. Brown & Co., have sold for Mrs. S. F. Dearborn No. 100 East 71st st, southeast corner of Park av, and for Philip Weinberg Nos. 102 and 104, adjoining; the property consists of three 5-sty flats, on plot 63x95.

M. L. & C. Ernst have sold to Joseph Weil No. 349 East 84th st, a 3-sty dwelling, on lot 20x102.2.

Charles E. Schuyler & Co. have sold for Joseph E. Steckler to Jacob H. Schiff two lots on the north side of 123d st, 325 feet east of Broadway. Mr. Schiff has bought the property as a site for a new building for the Jewish Theological Seminary, now located at No. 736 Lexington av.

THE BRONX.

George F. Johnson & Sons have sold to C. E. Mapes No. 54 Beck st, a 2-sty dwelling, on lot 25x100.

OUT OF TOWN.

C. S. Jerger has purchased the well-known "Bill Nye" estate, adjoining Biltmore, the home of George W. Vanderbilt, from the estate of the late Edgar Wilson Nye.

LEASES.

G. Tuotl & Co. has leased for Adler & Herman for a term of three years, with renewals, the 5-sty flat, 25x100, No. 346 East 104th st.

Chas. E. Duross has leased to Catlin & Manley, of Buffalo, No. 844 Washington st, for a term of years for the Wing Piano Co. Also Nos. 533 and 535 West 24th st, 57x100, to Ellin, Kitson & Co. for John J. Duffy.

M. & L. Hess report that contracts have just been signed for the leasing of the old Durland Riding Academy, bounded by 59th st, 60th st, Broadway and Central Park West, and that the Central Market is not the lessee, as previously reported. The lease was made for Frederick B. Jennings et al. to a new theatrical company, headed by Maximilian B. Haas, of San Francisco, Col., and others, who will occupy the building after extensive alterations, and open to the public a novel entertainment never been presented on this side of the water. In leasing the property the owners placed a $2,000,000 valuation on the land.

WANTED.—By lawyer and real estate operator, a bright, brainy, reliable and energetic young man, to manage office, search titles and sift realty propositions. "Principal," Record and Guide office.

Real Estate Notes.

An error was made in including No. 205 West 41st st in the plot sold by Samuel McMillan last week; he does not own this parcel, and it has not been sold.

L. J. Phillips & Co. were the brokers in the sale of the plot Nos. 209 to 213 West 41st st, and the abutting parcel, No. 214 West 42d st, reported sold in our last issue, for a theatre. Klaw & Erlanger are the buyers.

R. H. Robertson, No. 160 5th av, is drawing plans for a 3-sty brick and stone dwelling, 41x100.5, to be erected at Nos. 31 and 33 East 67th st, for Hugh D. Auchincloss, No. 22 William st, who purchased the plot last week for $126,000.

The Ninth National Bank, which was recently absorbed by the National Citizens Bank, conveyed yesterday its real estate at Nos. 407 and 409 Broadway to the latter corporation. Revenue stamps on the deed indicate that the property was valued at $288,000.

The books of assessed valuations will be opened for examination and correction on Monday next, and remain open until April 1st. Inquiries regarding property in Manhattan should be made at No. 280 Broadway, and regarding property in the Bronx at the Municipal Building, 177th st and 3d av.

The transfer of the southwest corner Broadway and Maiden lane by the Broadway Building Co., of New Jersey, to the Broadway Building Co. of New Yirk, does not mean a change of owners. It was done to avoid double taxation.

August Belmont & Co., No. 23 Nassau st, offer to investors $2,500,000 4% 1st mortgage gold bonds secured on the Park Row Building. Subscriptions will be opened on Monday next and closed on Tuesday. Particulars can be obtained from the announcement in our business pages.

Sydney Fisher, who conducts the realty business established in 1845 by the late John Bisco, makes a specialty of renting, collecting rents and managing estates, in which lines he is very successful. Mr. Fisher's office is centrally and conveniently located at No. 58 Lexington av, corner of 25th st, "Appellate Building."

A bill to appropriate $2,500,000 for a new post-office was introduced in Washington this week by Representative Cummings of New York. The bill provides "that the Postmaster-General, Morris K. Jesup, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Oscar L. Straus, president of the Board of Trade and Transportation; and Postmaster Van Cott, shall select the site of the new building.

Wm. P. and John W. Jones, comprising the firm of Jones & Son, real estate brokers, agents and managers of estates, at No. 455 9th av, near 35th st, are successful and hustling workers in realty circles. The management of estates receives unrelaxed personal attention, and they negotiate many sales and exchanges because of constant and intelligent work, coupled with an intimate knowledge of values. Their telephone call is 1764 38th st.

Russell Sage took title this week to seven large parcels from the German-American Real Estate Title Guarantee Company. The properties are: Lexington av, northwest corner of 100th st, 100.11x100; 100th st, north side, 100 feet west of Lexington av, 204x100.11; Cathedral Parkway, south side, 100 feet west of Broadway, 113.4x171.10; 100th st, south side, 123.3 feet west of Park av, 100x100.11; Park av, southwest corner of 100th st, 50x73.3; Park av, west side, 75.11 feet south of 100th st, 25x73.3; Park av, southeast corner of 98th st, 100.11x100.

The Lawyers' Title Insurance Co. have issued their financial report for the past year, which is a flattering evidence of the ability of Edwin W. Coggeshall, President and General Manager, and the other officers of the company. The net profits for the year were $234,481.96, or about 11½%, upon the capital of $2,000,000. It is to be noted that besides their large capital, the company carry a surplus of $1,500,000. Of last year's earnings $100,000 was carried to surplus in accordance with the conservation that marks the policy of the management.

While Manhattan and Brooklyn are supplied with armories there is as yet no armory in the great and growing Bronx, and a movement is on foot to secure an armory there. This part of the city has 250,000 inhabitants, and is without National Guard representation. The Second Battery of the National Guard, now at 33d st and 4th av, is in need of a new armory, and an effort will be made to have its quarters located in The Bronx. The number of resident militiamen is constantly increasing there, and the opportunity of securing available premises for regimental purposes is better there than in most parts of Manhattan.

A delegation of Single Taxers waited upon the Tax Commissioners Monday afternoon, and urged the board to live up to the plank in the platform of the Citizens' Union which advocated the equalization of taxes. Peter Aitken, President of the Single Tax Club of Brooklyn, urged that unimproved property ought to be and was not assessed on as large a percentage of its actual value as improved property. If it were, its owners would not leave it unimproved, he said. The board announced that they would do all that was possible to remedy inequalities, and requested the co-operation of the delegates in this work. President Wells asked to be supplied with specific instances of inequalities in assessments.

The Downtown Realty Company is the buyer of the Imperial Insurance Company's building, at Nos. 31 and 33 Pine st, reported sold recently through Geo. R. Read. The property consists of a 6-sty building and an irregular plot with a frontage of 50.2½, a rear line of 58.9, and a depth of about 95 feet. The price paid for it was $607,500. The adjoining plot, 50.1x94.8, on which Kuhn, Loeb & Co.'s building stands, was bought by Solomon Loeb in 1893 for $294,000. The Downtown Realty Company has not definitely decided what disposition to make of its purchase. The company was recently incorporated with a capital of $1,000,000. The directors are: Stephen Peabody, E. T. Hand, J. F. Talmadge, P. D. Lounsbury, W. J. Van Pelt, J. M. Wainwright, Alexander Bryant, Geo. R. Read, and C. W. West.

There is being planned in Chicago an office building which will cover a larger site than any office building, except two as yet erected in New York. It is proposed to erect a sixteen-story building at Monroe and Dearborn sts, on a plot which measures 190x232. This parcel will include an area of 44,080 square feet, more than twice that of the Masonic Temple. The square footage compares with an area of 26,661 square feet for the Broad-Exchange Building, 29,152 for the Bowling Green Building, and 31,403 for the old Custom House, which the National City Bank proposes to improve. The Equitable Building, however, covers an area of about 40,000 square feet; the Mutual Life Building, excluding the recent purchase of that company, an area of 44,000 square feet; and the Metropolitan Life Building an area of over 50,000 square feet, not including the further extensions which are planned to be made in the spring.

THE OPPRESSED TENANT.

The eagerness of some of the tenement house dwellers on the lower East Side to have their houses quarantined has puzzled the Health Department until it was cleared up recently. As soon as a contagious disease has been discovered in some of these houses the other tenants have promptly asked the Health Department to quarantine it. In most houses the tenants are averse to a quarantine. The explanation came from a protest by the agents of these tenement houses. According to their stories, as soon as one of these houses was quarantined all of the tenants would decline to pay rent, and dare the agents to dispossess them under penalty of violating the laws of the Health Department. As a result the tenants would occupy their rooms for a month or more without paying rent and then move to some other house. This has been so regular a practice that a contagious disease in some of these houses has been hailed as a stroke of good luck by the other tenants. The Health Department has stopped this game by warning the tenants that if they don't pay rent they will be fumigated and dispossessed promptly.—N. Y. Sun.

The World of Building

Material Market.

Lumber.—The general market has been without important changes. Sellers of hemlock continue to talk strong on the basis of $15. Spruce is exceedingly stiff, and an increase in demand would probably be followed by higher quotations. White pine and yellow pine have held steady. Cypress is firm and in good demand, and supply is adequate. In hardwoods there is a good call for all lines, especially for poplar, and prices have an upward tendency. There is a light demand for shingles, with prices strong and the supply light.

Lath.—Arrivals during the week have been unimportant; demand, however, has been light and prices quoted have been unchanged at $3.25@$3.50.

Bricks. Lime and Cement.—The demand for Hudson River brick has been only very moderate, but with only limited offerings prices have been well maintained, closing at $5.75@$6.25. Demand for Eastern lime has been limited, but, as there have been no excessive supplies on hand to market, prices have held steady at 80@82c. for common, and 90@92c. for finishing. Cement is seasonably quiet, there being little demand; prices have not changed, with Rosendale at 75@90c. and domestic Portland at $1.70@$2.00.

The Consolidated Rosendale Cement Co. was incorporated last Saturday under the laws of the State of New York, with a capital of $1,500,000, of which $1,000,000 is to be 7 per cent. noncumulative preferred and $500,000 common stock. The directors are: Jas. P. Paulding, A. Lanhear Norrie, Wm. C. Beach, A. C. Hall, C. J. Rose, W. C. Lyman, P. M. Brett and Robert Lawrence, of New York City, and J. B. Cook, of Binnewater.

Hardware.—The year opens with a general feeling of confidence dominating this market. Business during the year just closed has been sufficiently active in most leading lines to reduce manufacturers' and dealers' stocks to very moderate proportions. The outlook for the coming year is for continued activity, and prices generally show firmness.

Nails.—The market for wire nails has apparently settled to a steady basis, and there has been some improvement in the demand, prices now ruling being more attractive to buyers. Quotations are as follows: Small lots from store, $2.25 to $2.30; carloads on dock, $2.25. Cut nails have been quiet, the relatively low prices ruling for wire nails interfering with the demand. New York quotations are as follows: Carload lots on dock, $2.18; less than carload lots on dock, $2.23; from store, $2.25. There is talk of a combination of nail makers to control prices being made at Pittsburg.

Plumbers' Supplies.—The year opens with the metal markets very unsettled, and with prices tending steadily downward. The copper situation is particularly interesting, as the point toward which it has been working for more than a month past has been reached, and the question is yet to be determined whether or not the limit of the decline in prices has been established. General opinion in the trade seems to lead toward the negative proposition. Nine cents, even, has been named as a possible price at which Lake copper may sell in the not remote future. The nominal quotations remained 12⅛c. for Lake Superior, 12c. for electrolytic, and 11½c. for casting. There has been an almost complete absence of business in the pig tin market, and prices have been nominal throughout the week; at the close spot, and the first three months of the year were quoted at 23c. asked, with 22.50c. bid. The demand for both black and galvanized sheets continues active, and stocks of the more popular sizes are still light. Jobbers' prices are well maintained. No. 27 common is quoted at 4c. to 4.05c., and galvanized sheets at 65 to 67½ per cent. off the list. The demand for sheet zinc is of fair proportions, and prices are unchanged. Jobbers quote 600-lb. lots at 6¾c., and smaller quantities at 7¼c. per lb. There is no change in the pig lead situation. Business is very light at unchanged prices. The quotations of the American Smelting and Refining Co. for desilverized is 4c. New York. The spelter market is firmer as to spot. The price quoted for spot is 4.30 to 4.35c.

Linseed Oil.—The further rise in the price of seed has afforded an opportunity for another advance in the price of oil. This week the American Company gave out quotations based on 62c. for five-barrel lots of city, and 60c. on Western oil in similar quantity. This is an advance of 5c. on their former price for city. The National Lead Co. went up but 3c. on city oil, to 60c. Buyers do not seem willing to pay the prices now demanded, and little, if any, business has been done.

G. G. Major, for some time manager of the American Linseed Co., has resigned. His successor has not yet been appointed. Mr. Major now becomes associated with Homer Wise in the management of the Union Lead and Oil Co.

Glass.—The reports from Pittsburgh of the cutting of prices has an unsettling influence, and the outlook is uncertain. There is nothing doing here, and no improvement in demand is looked for until the consuming season begins, which will not be until about the middle of February. The discount named by jobbers is 90 per cent. off the New York list.

The Independent Glass Co. have severed their connection with the American Window Glass Co., and now declare they will sell for any price they think proper.

Paints and Colors.—The demand for dry lead has started up early, and during the interval since our last report, it is reported, a large business has been done, though at prices considerably less than the list quotations. The demand for lead in oil is not so active as that for dry, and the sharp competition among grinders has a very unsettling influence on prices. It is said that sales of large lots have been made at 5¾c., less 2 per cent. for cash. Trede in dry colors has not started up yet.

Authorities in the lead trade say that there is absolutely no truth in the rumor which is being circulated in the newspapers that the leading white lead manufacturers are about to combine for protection against the competition of the Union Lead and Oil Co.

J. S. Kennedy, No. 44 Court st, Brooklyn, is drawing plans for private frame stable, to be erected at Cutchogue, L. I.; it will have two single and one box stall; cost, $1,500; Father J. A. Lynch, owner.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

John B. McElfatrick, head of the firm of John B McElfatrick & Sons, architects, was knocked down by a wagon at Broadway and 40th st Monday night. Mr. McElfatrick is 72 years old. He was shaken by the accident, but did not care for medical attendance, he said. He went on to his home, 51 West 37th st.

The E. C. Bell Manufacturing Co., dealers in plumbers' supplies, at No. 281 Water st, have applied through their directors for the voluntary dissolution of the corporation, and Justice Dugro, of the Supreme Court, has appointed Simpson Tolan temporary receiver. Liabilities, $31,704, and nominal assets, $31,500.

Official notice is given that it is proposed to establish in the Borough of Brooklyn a Bureau of Tests, for the testing of materials of construction, used in all the bureaus, under the control of the Commissioner of Public Works, as well as in the Bureau of Buildings.

Alfred E. Lander, who was formerly manager of the sales department of the National Fireproofing Co., now occupies the same position with the Staten Island Clay Co., with offices at 874 Broadway. The Staten Island Clay Co. proposes to increase its works, so that eventually it will be the largest individual concern in the business of manufacturing fireproofing material.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has decided to abandon its present station, at the lower end of the Government reservation, in Washington, D. C., and erect a large new station in another part of the city. This action is the result of the Government's intention to erect a number of public buildings along the line of the reservation.

Edward R. Janes, senior member of the firm of Janes & Kirtland, died on Wednesday of heart disease at his home, 258 West 107th st. He was born in Hartford 73 years ago. His father, Adrian, came to this city in 1840, and established the firm of Janes, Fowler, Beebe & Co., dealers in structural iron. Edward R. Janes succeeded his father in the business, and formed the important firm of stove and range manufacturers of which he was the head at the time of his death, although he retired from active work some years ago.

May's Improved Stoves and Salmadors for heating and drying-out new buildings, and used extensively by masons, plasterers and builders, are having an immense sale. These stoves have been on the market for over thirty years, and have given entire satisfaction wherever used. They are constructed of heavy plate, have turn-over grates, ash-pits, covers, and will burn either coke or hard coal, and can be connected with chimney. Prices will be furnished on application at the office of Jacob May, No. 850 De Kalb av, Brooklyn. Telephone, 539 Bedford.

Material from 300 houses for sale cheap is announced by the New York House Wrecking Co., who, as their name indicates, demolish buildings of all kinds. Some recent contracts embraced the old buildings on the "Flat Iron" site, Broadway, 5th av, 22d and 23d sts, and Broadway southwest corner Maiden lane, to make way for the "Jewelers" building. They also contracted for removing the World's Fair buildings, Chicago. Their main office is at 514-516 East 23d st, telephone 4352 18th, with yards at 514-516 East 23d, 513 to 519 East 22d, 511 to 515 West 14th and 510 to 516 West 15 h sts

TELEPHONES IN RESTAURANTS

The Chicago Telephone Co. have inaugurated a novel class of service by placing telephone facilities within reach of the customers of several of the largest restaurants of that city. The restaurant is wired so that the telephone instrument can be plugged in at the various tables. It is then only necessary for a customer to ask for a telephone instrument if he wishes to carry on conversation with some outside party during meal-time. The charge per message is 10 cents, and is put on the customer's check along with the other items. In one instance the telephone instrument has a pre-payment coin apparatus attached so that payment is made by dropping money in the slot. The plan is said to be a popular one, as some restaurants have as many as 15 to 20 calls a day for a telephone instrument from customers, even though the service is not as yet well known.

LOW GRADE QUARTERED OAK.

Hardwood buyers who are visiting the mills say that still there is a surplus of low grade quartered oak, and that it is this class of stock which is weak and to a certain extent demoralizing to everything else. First and second quartered oak is in good condition, and so are all grades of plain-sawed, but low grade quartered is in evident surplus, and moves with difficulty at low prices. One buyer said that he recently looked at a lot of about 300,000 feet of long-run quartered oak which he found to have only 25 per cent. of first and seconds. This rule should be adhered to by every oak producer: Quarter no logs under 26 inches in diameter, and none that are not apparently No. 1 logs. It would be better if the specifications were raised and only sound and surface-clear logs 30 inches in diameter were handled in this way. Any lot of quartered oak to be profitable should contain at least 50 per cent. of firsts and seconds.—The American Lumberman.

New York Life Insurance Company.

The financial report of the New York Life Insurance Co., which will be found in our business pages, is an astonishing exhibit of the success of the company. Every important item—assets, surplus, income and assurance—is more than double what it was ten years ago, when its present President, John M. McCall, assumed the management. The insurance in force at the date of the report amounted to the stupendous sum of $1,365,000,000, and the assets to $290,000,000, in round figures. The company has completed the process of excluding from its assets all stocks of private corporations, and its security holdings are now confined to government, municipal and gilt-edged railroad bonds, a policy adopted in compliance with the requirements of the most thorough insurance departments in the world. It is, therefore, apparent that while the growth of business displays the greatest enterprise in the face of competition, it is only achieved by careful and conservative methods.

THE RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY.

The expense attending the preparation and publication of the Record and Guide Quarterly make it necessary that the price should be advanced. Consequently, hereafter, the charge to annual subscribers will be $10, which sum will pay for three quarterly numbers and one annual number containing all the records of the year. The charge for single quarterly numbers will be $3 each, and that for single annual numbers $10 each. This change is made in confidence that those who have hitherto used this invaluable work will appreciate its justice. There is no other part of the equipment of a real estate office so useful and so handy, or to be obtained at anything like so small a cost.

TENEMENT HOUSE LAW.

This important work is edited by William J. Fryer, with headings and complete cross-reference index, etc. Regulations applying to NOW EXISTING TENEMENT HOUSES, as well as all others, carefully indexed. It is an absolute necessity to every Architect, Builder, Engineer, Real Estate Owner, Operator and Broker. Published by the Record and Guide, 14 and 16 Vesey St., N. Y. City. Price, $1.00.

Colossal Building Activity

WORK UNDERWAY IN MANHATTAN—ITS CONDITION

Important to Contractors and Material Supply Firms

In all ordinary discussions of the building market, the Record and Guide is obliged to depend upon the figures compiled from plans filed with the Building Department. But since some of the plans are never carried out, and since others frequently remain unused for as much as a year, these figures do not afford entirely trustworthy indications of the amount of building actually under way in New York at any particular time. For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of building actually being undertaken at the present date, the Record and Guide has canvassed all the plans filed during 1901. In the following list will be found an enumeration of all the important buildings which were started during the past year, but which are not yet entirely completed. The list gives the location of the building, its estimated cost, the names of the owner or architect, and the present condition of the building. Any one familiar with the filings of the Department will immediately notice that many of the most important buildings for which plans have been filed during the past few months do not appear on the list at all, for they have not yet been started. The estimated cost of such buildings will easily run up to $35,000,000; and this sum of money, from the point of view of the sellers of builders' supplies, will be a part of the business of the year 1902. Even if the plans for new buildings filed during that year fall off in their number and estimated cost, it is probable that more money will actually be spent in building during that year than in 1901.

At the same time the past year has been one of the most prosperous which the building trades in New York have ever had. Not less than $175,000,000 are called for in new buildings in what may be termed the Metropolitan District, and in this respect New York has only been traveling along the same road as the other large cities in the country. In every State and in every industry large permanent improvements are in progress, and the country will come through this period of prosperity with an enormously better fixed equipment for the transaction of business than ever before. This is most assuredly the case with New York. Under the impulse offered by stupendous municipal improvements, capitalists are investing more and more money in New York constructional operations, and this is only the beginning of the changes which these improvements will necessitate. It should not be overlooked that, while London is more populous than New York, New York adds to her population every year a larger number of people than any city in the world; and as business increases in even a bigger ratio, an altogether unprecedented amount of building is necessitated in this city.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—The letters R. S. mean Revenue Stamp, as R. S. $8.00 means Revenue Stamp $8.00.

Tax on Conveyances executed prior to July 1st, 1901, on $100 to $500, 50c., and for each additional $500 or fraction thereof, 50c.; on Conveyances executed on and after July 1st, 1901, 25c., where consideration exceeds $2,500 and is not more than $3,000, and 25c. for each additional $500 or fraction thereof.

January 3, 4, 6, 7, 8 and 9.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

January 3, 4, 6, 7, 8 and 9.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious; real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of this list.

BOROUGH OF BROOKLYN.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. are preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious; real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of this list.

THREE CENTS A DAY FOR A COMPLETE SYSTEM OF REAL ESTATE RECORDS!

Ten dollars for a complete system and set of real estate records alphabetically arranged, printed and ready for as easy reference as a word in the dictionary, is an interesting proposition for everyone who has anything to do with real estate operations!

It is possible for every real estate man to equip his office with the most perfect and handiest system of real estate records at a nominal cost.

This service is supplied to all subscribers of "The Record and Guide Quarterly"—a publication issued every three months. The fourth number annually is an issue containing all the records for the entire year arranged alphabetically. The subscription price is ten dollars a year.

Those who are not subscribers should investigate the advantages of this publication. All other systems are needlessly cumbersome and unnecessarily expensive. Start the new year with "The Record and Guide Quarterly. The annual number for 1901 is about to be issued, and we will send you this number with the following three quarterly numbers for ten dollars—less than three cents a day for a complete set of real estate records.

Drop a postal card to the offices of publication, Nos. 14-16 Vesey St., or telephone 3157 Cortlandt, and we will gladly show you the publication and explain to you its uses as a time-saver and money-maker.

THIS week has seen a further shrinkage in speculative interest in the stock market, consequently prices only advance when professional shorts have oversold for the time being. Commission houses are empty again and the volume of business is steadily diminishing, signs of a sagging market and lower prices. The main events of the week bring again into prominence a fact that has been lost sight of for some time, and that is the existence of a periodical necessity for new capital that besets all great corporations, and particularly railroad corporations. Under this necessity Atchison has put out a new issue of bonds for improvements, notwithstanding the expenditures made under that head during the late receivership and the fund provided for the same purpose when the reorganization was completed. The period covered by all these supplies was comparatively short. The new interest charge will add to the difficulty of maintaining dividends on the stock when the lean years arrive, though it does not cut much figure in these fat ones. Then, too, New York Central's new issue of stock emphasizes the great expense that railroads entering big cities must, from time to time, incur in order to conduct their business under modern conditions of city life in this country. What applies in New York city applies also, though in lesser degree, in other cities. Primitive ways, such as running through streets, will everywhere have to be abandoned as time goes on and more expensive substitutes provided from new capital bearing smaller returns. Presumably the day must come, in a not very distant future, when the foot and other traffic will make it impossible for the New York Central to continue to run freight trains down West street and across Canal to their freight depot on Hudson street. How the company's right to do this will be cancelled or compromized is an interesting consideration. It may possibly be done, it is well to point out, in a way that would benefit the company. If, for instance, the surface privilege was abandoned for an elevated one it might help the company to solve their difficult city transit problem, and at the same time be beneficial to their stock.

THE Appellate Division, in Brooklyn, yesterday handed down a decision in the case of the City v. George Herdje, in which they hold that the new tenement house law is constitutional; that it is a valid exercise of the police power, properly passed by the Legislature in the interest of public health, morals and safety, and that the use of the property for which the owners might exact compensation must yield to the requirements for public health. Under the application of these principles it would appear that all of the provisions of the law affecting tenement houses existing at the time of the passage of the act, are valid. The original suit was brought by the City of New York to restrain Mr. Herdje from constructing four buildings under plans filed and approved on the morning of the day when the law was passed. At 11 o'clock on that day, and before the bill was signed, Herdje made a contract for the construction of the buildings. On the day the Kelsey Amendment was passed the permit was revoked and an injunction obtained by the city. The case will be carried to the Court of Appeals and will be argued in a few weeks.

Coming Changes and the Street System.

NEW officials, and old ones for that matter, always receive a good deal of advice as to what they should or should not do, and probably one of their most difficult tasks is to pick out of the mass of suggestions the good and discard the bad. Of course, our newly created borough presidents are flooded with this sort of volunteer assistance, much, probably, more valuable inchoate in the minds of the givers than expressed and delivered in verbal form, and much that must be put aside simply because of the mental and physical limitations of the persons to whom it is offered. Not only does our form of government that makes officials so approachable bring them a multitude of counsel, but the circumstances of the moment here to a great extent warrant this freedom of communication between the official and the civilian. The new charter by its provisions for carefully subdivided local action, and the channels it opens for the expression of the citizen's wishes through local boards and in other ways, tends to foster general interest in local government, through the only rational means, active participation.

It must be admitted that the new officials have shown a praiseworthy desire to carry out this object of the charter by inviting suggestions and holding their offices open and themselves ready to receive the public, if not in dressing gown and slippers, still in a really democratic way. There is, then, no reason for either regretting the rush of communications with which the new heads of the city government have been met, or of apologizing for making any small contributions to the stream. So far, the demands, judging from the reports of them that appear in the daily press, come from very restricted sections and concern matters of very localized importance; this little thing or that is clamoring to be done, while nothing is heard of the big ones whose importance is city-wide. This ought not to be, and perhaps is so more in appearance than fact; but such things as the Delancey Street Bridge approach have not been heard of since the old administration went out of power, while something is heard of other improvements that rank very much lower in importance. As to the matter of the Delancey Street Bridge approach no one seems to know just where it is. The late Board of Public Improvements approved an approach—a bad one, by the way—and it was supposed to have gone to the Municipal Assembly, but did it? If so, and if not, where is it now? Did it die legally because all the forms to give it complete sanction were not observed prior to the operation of the new charter, or did it pass into the possession of the Board of Aldermen as heirs to the Municipal Assembly?

There is another important question that the President of the Borough of Manhattan ought to take up, and that is the capacity of the present street system of the borough in relation to the great public and private works of improvement that are underway, a question that must be taken up in a comprehensive manner. At the moment it states itself this way: What changes are required in the street system to meet any new conditions of traffic that may be created by the building of new bridges, the laying out of new trunk line railway terminals and the building of an opening of stations on new local lines, etc., etc? This question will have to be taken up first in a detailed and then in a general way. For instance, it must be determined how the traffic from each of the new bridges is to be distributed as the bridges themselves are opened; then whether other improvements, whether made by individuals or corporations call for new public work. That is to say, will it be wise or safe to leave the junction of Broadway, Sixth avenue and Thirty-fourth street as it is now, when the great buildings going up there now are completed and drawing crowds to that point? Are the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to build their depot on Seventh avenue without any means of dispersing the traffic they will create beyond what are now afforded? When these and other details are settled it will then have to be decided how what is proposed in each case can be brought into harmony with the rest, and so give completeness and the maximum of usefulness to the whole work.

At least this is how it appears to us; and, in any case, it is certain that the great transformation in the appearance of the borough and the resulting increase of business that will be created within the building lines, must call for some changes without them, and it will be the better if the two works be done simultaneously.

The Real Estate Situation

The most unexpected and interesting real estate news of the week are the purchases of the New York Central in the vicinity of the Grand Central Terminus. What these purchases will amount to in the end is still a matter of doubt; but they will affect all the property now in private hands between 56th and 42d streets, Park and Lexington avenues. By this we do not mean either that the purchases will be limited to those boundaries, or that the Central will wish to secure all the private property within the limits mentioned. Just what the Central proposes to buy or not to buy has not, except in certain instances, been divulged, and will remain a secret for as long as possible. But, in any event, the position of real estate within the limits described will be very much modified by the tunnel improvements, and it is scarcely necessary to say, the modification will not be entirely in the direction of improvement. It is to be hoped that in the present instance, the management of the road will definitely secure all the private property it needs, at least for a generation, and leave the neighboring owners of real estate to adapt themselves as best they can to the increasing area, which the terminus must necessarily occupy. The other effects of the tunnel changes on Manhattan real estate will be chiefly indirect. In the first place there will be a considerable displacement, both of institutions and private dwellings, which during the next two years, and in coöperation with the displacement effected by the proposed Pennsylvania terminus, will create an additional demand all over the city for the kind of property displaced. This demand should be sufficient to justify the erection of several blocks of additional tenements and private houses. In the second place, the Central improvements will mean the expenditure of large sums of money in labor and building supplies, which when added to the expenditure now being undertaken by the city and for the Subway Co. and soon to be undertaken for the Long Island and Pennsylvania Railroads, should create an unusual and steady demand for skilled and unskilled workmen. Tenement houses will need to be built in larger quantity than ever; and considering the congested condition of the lower East Side, it is entirely possible that the lower West Side—particularly the Greenwich village section—will be in better demand for such purposes. When all these bridges and tunnels are in operation there may be an exodus—a distribution of the tenement-house population, which will hurt that kind of property in Manhattan; but for the present, the congestion will necessarily become worse and values higher.

The Purchase by the New York Central.

There have been three new theatres erected in the papers this week; but how many of them will be turned from paper to brick is doubtful. Theatres are continually being planned, because there are so many actors and managers who think they could use a New York theatre to advantage; but they are much less frequently erected, because it is not easy to secure money for such ventures. The most recent additions to the playhouses of New York have not been particularly successful. Our own impression is that New York has all the theatres it needs at present, and that this continual planning in the papers is due to certain peculiar conditions of the theatrical business, rather than to any particular prosperity in the cases of those now existing. The fact that the syndicate controls the best existing theatres in New York, and the further fact that their policy makes it very difficult for any independent manager or combination to get into that city, gives these managers a constant desire to control a theatre or theatres of their own. This motive is a very strong one and will most assuredly lead to the erection of more theatres than New York needs, and the consequent failure of the houses that are ill-planned or situated. It must be remembered also that theatres go as well as come, that the Star Theatre went last year, that the Lyceum is going this year, and that at least two others are marked for proximate destruction. It is noticeable, also, that three out of every four of the sites talked about for new theatres are in the immediate vicinity of Longacre square, which will undoubtedly be the amusement center for many years to come. The theatre-going people live for the most part either in the central parts of the city or on the West Side, and Longacre square is, and will continue to be about the most accessible point in the city.

Theatres More or Less.

In another column the Record and Guide publishes a diagram showing the increased assessed valuations of real estate in Manhattan and the Bronx. These increases betray plainly the course of real estate activity during the year. Half the total increase of $72,336,702, attributed to Manhattan, took place in the region between 14th and 90th streets, and more than one-third of the remainder in the area of office buildings. It is noticeable that the assessors have shown the utmost conservatism in increasing the valuation of property, even in those districts in which the activity was greatest and prices most expansive. The increases recorded do not amount to much more than 70 per cent. of the money actually expended in new buildings. This conservatism is justified by the fact that the higher values in some of the most active sections are spevulative, and that it is better to wait a while, until the level of prices is more definitely established, before marking them down upon the tax books. During the coming year an even larger percentage of any increase that may take place will be found in the parts of the city mentioned above. A great deal of building is destined to take place on lower Fifth avenue and the side streets. Chickering Hall begins to come down on February 1, and the old Union Club later in the year, while three other improvements in the same neighborhood have been recently announced. A large apartment hotel is being planned for 31st street, between Fifth and Madison, a region which, as we have frequently remarked, is coming increasingly into favor for such purposes. In relation to apartment hotels, our readers may be interested in the views of a man, who now leases two of these buildings, and has the contracts for two more when they are finished. His opinion is that the erection of forty buildings of this character in one year will not, for the present, overstrain the demand for this kind of accommodation. Forty such buildings would accommodate about 8,000 people, counting an average to two people to an apartment, and he believes that out of 120,000 people added to the population of New York every year, 8,000 will be ready to go into apartment hotels. But he believes that after some years those buildings, which have not been well planned and constructed, and wisely located, will feel the effects of the competition and will go to the wall. In many cases these hotels are being, and have been cheaply built by speculative builders, and will soon demand from the lessees an amount of repairs which will swamp them. Whether this opinion is too cheerful, time can only show. The dangers appears to be not that too many apartment hotels are being erected, but that their average cost to their builders and tenants is too high. The great advantage of the apartment hotel is undoubtedly its comparative economy. It represents the final attempt to minimize the spatial allowance for residence of the average New Yorker, as well as the highest reach of machine-made methods of living. Builders will do well to aim at cheapness, not of construction, but of rental price per square foot. Every decrease of $5 in the monthly rental increases by a large percentage the possible number of tenants.

General Remarks and Conditions.

IF any body of property owners had a claim to compensation for denial of use and enjoyment of their property, it is those on Elm street. The actual widening of the street was completed by the city and the improvements made by abutting owners, just in time to suffer by the pecuniary embarrassment of the city which was the first result of consolidation. Then followed the construction of the rapid transit railroad on the street. Through these things four years have elapsed during which property on Elm street has certainly not had a fair show to develop its possibilities and to do all it could for its owners. What the actual damage has been it would be hard to say, but it must have been considerable. The property owners are now agitating to be relieved from their assessments for the street improvement, and it does seem as if they are entitled to a good deal of consideration in this matter, seeing how the "improvement" has so far affected them.

AMERICANS have frequently been accused, by foreign critics, of inexperience and lack of wisdom in the management of their relations with other countries; but in the matter of what may be callel popular diplomacy, they are wisdom and discretion itself compared to Frenchmen and Germans. This popular diplomacy is simply a matter of treating the people of other countries with good humor and justice, and of not being swept away by violent feelings, either of resentment or friendliness. It is safe to say that in this branch of diplomatic action, Americans have some peculiar advantages. Politicians who are seeking to please the Irish vote, and arouse patriotic feelings, used in the past to declaim against England; but for many years such declamation has had little or no basis in popular feeling. The burst of fury with which the French and German people have recently been worked over Mr. Chamberlain and the Boer War would be inconceivable among Americans, except in case of some profound national injury, for they are both too good natured and fair-minded to let themselves go in such an explosion of wrathful denunciation. That the speech recently delivered in the Reichstag, by Herr Von Sonnenberg, represents literally the present feelings of a vast majority of the German people cannot be doubted by anyone who follows German popular literature, such as the comic journals. The wildest, the most brutal caricatures of Englishmen and policy are the great stock in trade of such publications; and it is no wonder that Englishmen resent such malignant and persistent ill-treatment. Moreover, this ill-feeling is nourished on the most credulous and ignorant acceptance of an utter misrepresentation of English military policy in South Africa—such as no man of general information and common sense could believe. There seems to be something about the strain and dangers of Continental life, surrounded as each nation is by possible enemies, and continually preoccupied by questions of national defence, there seems to be something about an anxious situation of this kind, which affects the popular nerves, and makes men abnormally suspicious and ill-tempered, and such a state of popular feeling is not only dangerous to international peace, but in a very definite sense it threatens domestic security. No one can tell what a people who can lose their self-control so unnecessarily and so completely may do under circumstances that try their patience and courage. The yellow journals sometimes give an apparently hysterical and ill-balanced character to American popular feelings; but they possess little or no influence, when they run counter to the prevalent American feelings of kindliness and justice.

FROM time to time the West End Association have to defend the Riverside Drive from the awful encroachment of the Street Cleaning Department, and is just now resisting a new attempt to establish a dump at one of the most attractive portions of the Drive. The Department complains that they have, owing to the opposition of the Association, to carry refuse far either north or south, and that makes the work more costly. In the end the city would find it still more expensive to plant a dump, anywhere facing the Drive, because of the permanent injury it would do to property and the consequent loss it would occasion to the public revenue. The extra haulage is nothing compared to this; and, even if it were, the Riverside Drive is something that must positively be protected from the obnoxious and unsightly.

MUCH more of the improved condition of the foreign security markets is due more to the reports of progress in gold production in the Rand than to the peace rumors. Progress is indeed considerable for beginning with May with a production of 7,478 ounces, there was an increase in the monthly production in November to 39,075 ounces, and now for December we are informed that it was over 59,000 ounces. This not only explains the rise in the price of Kaffirs, but it accounts, too, for the better feeling in other markets. There is no doubt that from this on, the Rand will again be a large and steady contributor to the world's supply of gold. As to the peace rumors, there may be good grounds for them, but it must be remembered that a sudden stoppage of the war will, also mean an equally sudden stoppage of large expenditures by the British Government, and some liquidation must follow because of all the storage, supply and carrying agenices that have grown up during the past three years as a result of the war and which, while they have until now had most prosperous careers, cannot all expect to survive the loss of the governmental patronage. When this liquidation has been effected all the evils of the war will have been seen. Then will follow only recuperation. On the Continent cheerfulness is growing in business circles. It is looked upon as very encouraging that the year has opened without disclosing serious weakness anywhere, with money fairly easy all through the "carrying over" period, and not likely to be dear now. Berlin, while not the richest, is certainly the most prominent financial center after London, with so many smaller ones dependent upon it, and if conditions there are improving it may be presumed that they are elsewhere also. This center reports considerable improvement for the week. Not merely is it now the view that the worst is over, but also that there is some bettering of the situation. This is based on some recent increases in iron and steel prices, and to the brightening of some sections of the textile industries, which were the first to feel the bad times.

THERE is some cause for the ill-natured and suspicions attitude, which some of the newspapers have taken in reference to the scheme of tunnel improvement which the directors of the New York Central have submitted for popular approval. True, it is a long step toward a satisfactory removal of the discomforts and deficienices of the present tunnel. The use of electrical power for the suburban trains will greatly diminish the noisomeness of the atmosphere in the tunnel, while the loop will enable the company to accommodate an indefinitely larger amount of local traffic. There appears at last to be a fair prospect that the residents of the Bronx and Westchester County, tributary to the Vanderbilt lines, will be able to get to and from their homes safely, quickly and pleasantly. The great deficiency of the plan, from their point of view, is the lack of direct connection with the lower parts of Manhattan. An entrance to the Subway Station on 42d street on the same level with that station, will be a great convenience; but the use of the Subway tracks to the City Hall by some of the New Haven, Harlem and Central trains, would have been an infinitely greater one; and the refusal of the Vanderbilt officials to consider a plan to that end, submitted by the Rapid Transit Commission, is as incomprehensible as it is stupid. Their failure to make this connection means that their commuters, instead of being taken down over the express tracks of the Subway without change to the City Hall, will have to crowd on board local trains at 42d street—trains which will soon be as full during the rush hours as those on the Sixth Avenue Elevated now are. It is remarkable how persistently determined the Vanderbilt management is not to provide any better accommodation for their passengers than they can possibly help. An express route from the City Hall to the northern boundary of Westchester County would do more to build up the Bronx and Westchester than any other conceivable improvement. The present arrangement means that all those parts of the city and country served by the Subway and its connections will have a considerable advantage over those served by the Vanderbilt lines.

NOTHING is more apparent, however, than that all the arrangements made at present are tentative, and will have to be profoundly modified before they have been in operation more than a few years. The Subway from 42d street down will not for long be sufficient to accommodate the traffic, which will be drawn into it from every direction—from the West Side, from the section north of the Park, from Washington Heights, and from the whole enormous expanse of the Bronx and Westchester. Other electric roads, similar to the proposed Portchester line will be built and will increase the traffic concentrated on the main line of the Subway. In the end, New York will obviously need continuous underground roads, both on the East and West sides. Another tunnel will have to be built south from 42d street on some avenue west of Sixth avenue, as well as one north from 42d street on some avenue east of Park avenue. New York has taken its plunge underground; and within the next twenty-five years will possess a system of sub-surface arteries stretching in every direction, and connected so as to form a most complete system. But the pressure of traffic on the longitudinal lines of transit will always be tremendous. If it is considerable now, how much more considerable will it be when the much wider area of territory north of the Harlem begins to be well settled. For the present, however, there are good grounds for satisfaction. Plans are being matured for lines of railway and bridges stretching in every available direction, which in their total effect will make the scattered divisions of the Greater New York almost as compact and tight as Manhattan Island itself, and which will enormously increase the comfort with which New Yorkers can live, and the economy with which they can transact their business.

Assessed Valuations.

INCREASES NORMAL IN BLOCK AND UNIMPORTANT IN DETAIL.

The totals of the assessed valuations of real and personal property were, according to law and custom, made public this week. As was made well-known some weeks ago, the changes in the real estate valuations are normal and nowhere significant. There are moderate increases in each borough, except Richmond, where there is a decrease. The totals for the several boroughs are:

Boroughs.	Assessed value of—— Real estate.	Personal estate.	Total real and personal.
Manhattan	$2,196,571,028	$2,995,684,916	$5,192,255,944
The Bronx	145,050,173	43,593,045	188,643,218
Brooklyn	633,780,958	365,823,341	1,004,604,299
Queens	104,131,496	32,697,900	136,829,396
Richmond	37,588,014	34,986,600	72,574,614
Total	$3,122,121,669	$3,472,785,802	$6,594,907,471

The figures for last year were:

Boroughs.	Assessed value of—— Real estate.	Personal estate.	Total real and personal.
Manhattan	$2,127,840,526	$2,754,686,045	$4,882,526,571
The Bronx	136,720,305	45,998,639	182,719 034
Brooklyn	626,132,808	420,440,241	1,046,573,049
Queens	102,017,795	43,215,550	145,233,345
Richmond	40,950,130	59,754,914	100,705,044
Total	$3,033,661,654	$3,324,095,389	$6,357,757,043

Even the activity that has been seen in various sections of the city, such, for instance, as that around 34th st, had very little influence on the valuations. The property bought for the Macy store, 179.6x405.2, is still assessed at $1,627,000, as it was last year. The Lawrence block, on Broadway, between 33d and 34th sts, on which the Saks Building is going up, has been increased from $675,000 to $742,000, and there are some other changes, but all minor, and not to be taken as representing the improvement of value the properties have enjoyed. On upper 5th av the advances correspond to the building that has gone on, and take no account of increases in land values. The more important changes or additions are given in the following tables:

The work of assessing real property in Richmond was given in charge of an experienced New York appraiser who had previously as assessor carefully gone over the Borough and now brings order out of chaos and incidentally a reduction in the total real estate valuation from $40,950,130 to $37,588,014.

What Washington Heights Needs.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

New York, destined some day to become the greatest city the world has ever seen, has no extensive choice residential quarter. Restricted areas, comparatively free of nuisances, exist here and there, such as Murray Hill, the neighborhood of 5th av, from 58th st down for a number of blocks, the easterly side of 5th av, from 60th st up, and on the West Side we might mention West 72d st and West End av.

MAP SHOWING THE INCREASE IN ASSESSED VALUATIONS BY SECTIONS IN 1902 OVER 1901.

A scant quarter of a century ago a grand chance was offered to give the city a choice residential quarter sufficiently large for all time. I refer to the region north of 59th st, and west of Central Park, which was then a howling wilderness of "rocks and shanties," and everybody was wondering what would ever become of it. Had the real estate brokers and capitalists of that day possessed any foresight, they would have organized large improvement companies, and Central Park West, Riverside Drive, West End av and the wide streets would have been what upper 5th av and West 72d st (Park lane) are now. The other cross streets would have been built up uniformly with all kinds of fine houses, and Broadway, Amsterdam, and Columbus avs with fine apartment houses, and hotels, with many stores. The chance was missed, and the West Side is now a jumble of fine and fair private dwellings, apartment houses, flats and tenements, all mixed closely together in many parts. Few streets are occupied by private dwellings alone. This great chance was lost, but in spite of it values have advanced so in most localities, as against twenty to twenty-five years ago, that nothing by comparison appears to be as good an investment as Manhattan realty. In very many locations the values are ten (and much more) times what they were then.

There is only one locality now left on Manhattan Island that offers all that the West Side did, and is even much superior in natural advantages. This is the region known as Washington Heights and Fort Washington, west of Broadway and north of 155th st. It commences with Audubon Park, just north of Trinity Cemetery (extending from 153d to 155th st, and from Amsterdam av to the North River), wnich seems to act as a natural barrier to the fine region north.

This most picturesque and delightful part of the island will be brought closer to the business and shopping parts of the city by the Underground R. R. than Wall st is from 59th st to-day. The ground lies exceedingly high, in places 250 feet above the river, the land is diversified, and gives grand views of the Palisades and Hudson and Harlem River valleys. Here the very wealthy of the future could all cluster by themselves without arousing the jealousy of the poverty-stricken masses, who now see their palaces before them. They would, by the tunnel, be nearer the opera house and theatres than they are now, and the formation of the land would permit the construction of either city dwellings or villas, as desired.

With the exception of a small part (principally the Ward estate, which was unfortunately auctioned off some five years ago to many small buyers), the land is still held mostly in large estates, the owners of many of which are probably not anxious to sell. If this last opportunity is allowed to pass, then New York, which in all likelihood will some day have a population of from ten to fifteen million people, will present the strange feature of being the one city without any distinctive select district.

It is much to be hoped, therefore, in the interest of the city's welfare, that ere it is too late, an exceedingly rich capitalist or a syndicate secures the control of this area, partly by purchase and partly by getting the large owners to join in a sensible plan of improvement and development, taking advantage of the natural topography of the land, laying out any additional streets and avenues that may be found advisable, restricting all holdings and advancing prices to tenfold or more the figures that now rule. Yours truly,

ARNOLD SCHRAMM.

MORTGAGE TAX BILL—LIEN LAW—ADVERTISING ON FENCES

There is a very confident feeling among the country members that the Stranahan bill to tax mortgages one-half of one per cent. when recorded will pass. There was a hearing on the bill before the Senate and House Committees on Taxation and Retrenchment, Tuesday, which developed little serious opposition to the measure. Senator Stranahan said later that two amendments offered by Lawson Purdy, Secretary of the Mortgage Tax Exemption Committee, and given in the Record and Guide of last week, would probably be accepted by the Senate Committee, and with these changes he thought the bill would pass. This is the general sentiment of the members of the Taxation and Retrenchment Committee of the two houses.

At the same time it should be borne in mind that the representatives of the cities have not been heard from, and will not be until the bill is reported, and before the two houses for discussion. Some of these certainly object to this appropriation of city tax assets for the exclusive use of the State. There are those, also, who urge that the bill violates the provisions of the Constitution as to how and by whom property shall be valued for the purposes of taxation, in that it makes the Legislature and not the assessors the valuers. However, up to now the opponents of the bill have kept very quiet, and by this they allow the public to assume that there is practically no unpartisan opposition to the bill.

Mr. Wilson has introduced a bill into the Assembly to amend the Lien Law in relation to conditional sales of goods and chattels, by inserting in Section 112 the following: "Every such contract for the conditional sale of goods and chattels supplied for a building, and to be attached thereto, shall contain a brief description, sufficient for identification, of the property on which such building stands, and if in a city or village its location by street and number, and if in a city or county where the block system of recording and indexing conveyances is in use, the section and block within which it is located. Every such last-mentioned contract, when such goods and chattels have been attached to the said building, shall be void as against subsequent purchasers, pledges or mortgagees in good faith, and as to them the sale shall be deemed absolute, unless such contract, in addition to being filed as directed in this article, shall also be indexed as directed in this article." Further, in Section 114, the bill proposes to insert the words: "And where such contracts are for goods and chattels supplied for a building, and to be attached thereto, there shall be entered in the column of "property" a brief description sufficient for identification of the land upon which said building stands, and if in a city or village, its location by street and number, if known; and if in a city or county where the block system of recording and indexing conveyances is in use, the section and block in which the said land is situated. The said officers shall also keep an index so as to afford correct and easy reference to the books containing the entries in regard to such last-named contracts. Such index shall be arranged as follows: The first column shall contain in alphabetical order the names of the streets, avenues, roads or lanes upon which said building stands, abuts, or, in case it does not abut on any street, avenue, road or lane, then the name of the street, avenue, road or lane nearest to which such building is located. The second column shall contain a brief description of the land upon which such building stands sufficient for identification, and in all cities and counties where the block system of recording and indexing conveyances is in use there shall be two additional columns in which shall be entered the section and the block in which such land is situated."

Among other new bills introduced during the week are these:

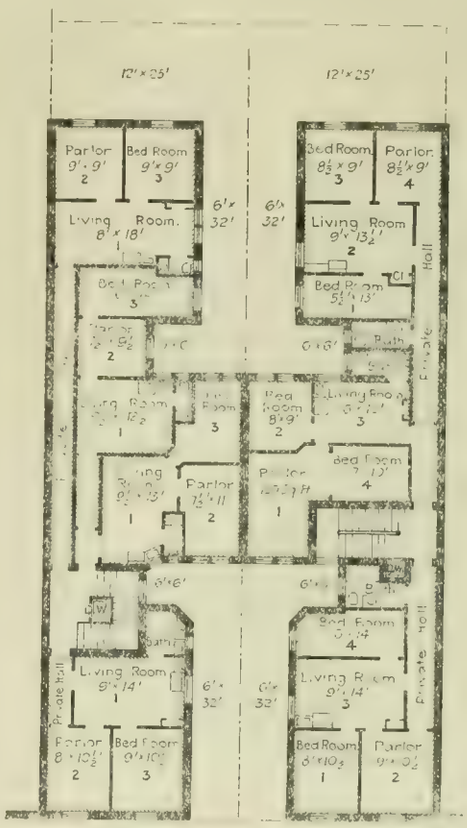
SENATE BILLS.

Senator Cocks', making it a misdemeanor to run an automobile at a greater speed than 8 miles within cities, towns or villages, and 15 miles without.

Senator Marshall's, to amend the charter so as to provide that no costs or fees of commissioners in special condemnation proceedings, unless the same are payable by law from the fund for street and park openings, shall be taxed by the Supreme Court prior to the confirmation of the report of the commissioners.

Senator Hennessy's, to extend the time for filing change of grade damage claims in the 23d and 24th Wards.

ASSEMBLY BILLS.



Mr. J. E. Smith's, to prevent the placing of fences on roofs for the display of advertisements other than for the business of the lessee of the building on which the fence is built, the same to be no higher than 3 feet. Also of fences on ground in front of vacant lots, the same to be no higher than 8 feet from ground to top of fence in any portion of the City of New York, and to have all fences now on roofs and on ground in violation of these provisions removed before June 1, 1902.

A 25-Foot Tenement.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Sir: Having seen considerable concerning the tenement house problem in the Record and Guide, and thinking you might be interested in some houses I have designed and will shortly build, I send you sketches of the same.

The one advantage of these plans is that I do not attempt to use interior courts, neither do I make use of vent shafts, which, although allowed by law, are very bad things. The middle apartment in each one of these plans has a window looking out upon the street. This is a great advantage, and cannot be obtained by any other scheme on a 25-foot lot.

These houses each cover 70% of the lot, and have a clear rentable area of 55%; there is practically no public hall in either house; the main entrance is through the court, direct to the staircase.

Of course, one can easily see that it is better to build two of these houses together, but there is no reason why one could not be built with perfect success.

I do not claim that these houses represent all that is desirable in a modern apartment, but I do claim that they represent all that can be gotten out of a 25-foot lot under the present law. They are the result of very careful study, and do not violate the law in any way.

West and East Side Dwellings.

THE CLAIMS OF THE FORMER TO PREFERENCE OVER THE LATTER.

There seems to be an impression—altogether mistaken, be it said—that it is impossible to get a good house except in Murray Hill or on upper 5th av. Especially is this surprising, if the mere question of cost is considered, because while Murray Hill and upper 5th av are very fashionable, there are other parts of the city where equally good houses can be obtained at very much less cost, and in close enough proximity to ultra-fashionability to meet all the requirements of sensible people.

These thoughts arise from an inspection of some of the work done by builders of reputation on the West Side, and a consideration of the advantages of its location—the latter considered from the point of view of health and accessibility to the social high life of the city—and of the lesser cost at which a dwelling suitable in all respects for aristocratic living can be obtained on that side of the city, as compared with what must be paid for a dwelling, in itself no better as to construction, design and finish, on the East Side.

To support this contention an illustration is given herewith of two fine houses just completed on West 72d st (Nos. 37 and 39) by the well-known builder, Cornelius W. Luyster. The illustration shows the elegant proportions of the facades, the material of which is Indiana limestone. The construction is first-class in every particular, and it and the interior arrangements are in every respect worthy of this builder's high reputation, not only for excellent mechanical work, but for originality of design and finish. An experience of what has been done and is doing elsewhere, enables it to be stated that they are not only up-to-date, but possess attractions peculiar to themselves, and which gives them a superiority over ordinary dwellings wherever situated. They are of goodly size, one having a front of 28 feet and the other of 22 ft.

NOS. 37 AND 39 WEST 72D ST.

C. W. Luyster, Owner and Builder.

In going through these houses one is first struck by the excellence and abundance of the lighting. This is produced partly by a novel and lavish use of plate glass and partly by the height of the rooms. Besides this, one finds that they have every convenience, and possess every detail necessary for opulent living. There are fine entrances, large reception rooms, billiard rooms, drawing and dining-rooms, libraries and large and numerous chambers; electric elevators, front and rear staircases, bath rooms and dressing saloons; secluded sleeping quarters for a retinue of servants. In the matter of help, the needs of the present day in large establishments have been supplied. There is a servants' hall in the basement and a butler's room off the billiard room and below the pantry, which not only meets the demand for comfort upon which modern custom insists, but it is provided in such a way that the services of the help shall at all times be available when needed by the employers. There are besides the arrangements of the reception floors necessary in entertaining on a large scale. It is to be noted besides that everything is produced in an attractive and tasteful way, and with so many varieties from the cut-and-dried class of plans that they must create admiration when seen.

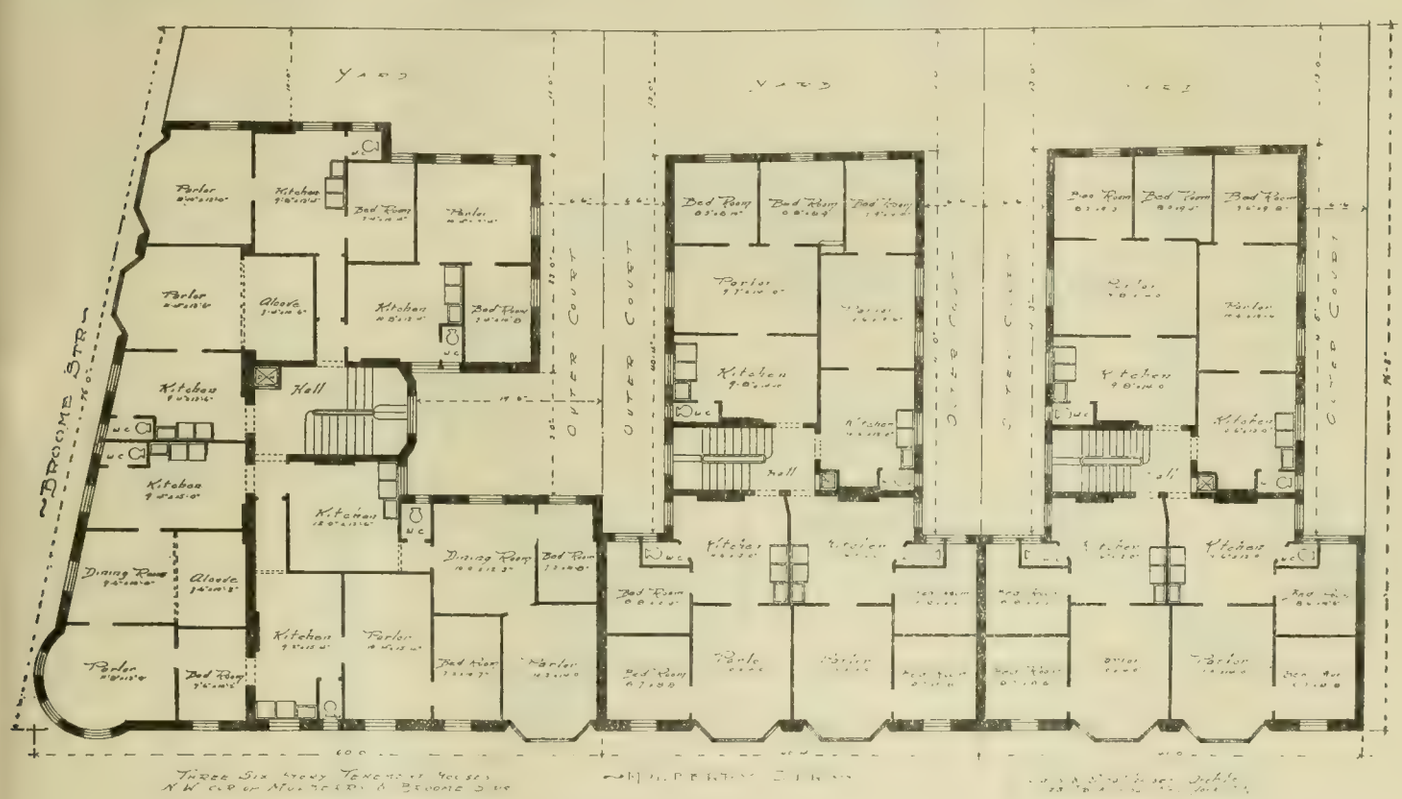
The location is an advantageous one in every respect. This is on the north side of 72d st, in the block between Central Park West and Columbus av. This is a 100-ft. wide street, and under the control of the Park Department, by reason of which it is maintained with care and adorned with shade trees and grass plots. Further, it may be remarked that West 72d st is now practically all built up, and the opportunities for locating in this handsome thoroughfare are therefore few.



The style of house is the American basement, the one most desired by buyers of dwellings in this city. Indeed, so much is this style preferred that owners of high-stoop houses built within a comparatively short space of time often have them converted to American basements, at a large additional cost.

While these houses illustrated above have all the claims of the best East Side house built for the market, they have an immense advantage in the matter of price, and the facts being what they are, it should only be necessary to bring them to the attention of buyers in order to obtain a ready market for them.

The Effect of the New Tenement House Law

By LAWRENCE VEILLER

When the new Tenement House Law was under discussion before Governor Odell last year, the theory was advanced and pressed with considerable vigor that if the law should be passed, the building of tenement houses, flats and high-class apartment houses in New York City would cease. The persons responsible for this legislation, however, felt confident that no such result would happen, although they fully appreciated that no change in the law as great as the one contemplated could be accomplished without the effect of temporarily checking to a greater or less extent operations in this class of realty.

It is now over six months since the new law went into effect, and while it is too soon to weigh fully its consequences, yet the development that has taken place thus far is not without its significance.

No estimate of the influences affecting this class of building operations would be complete which left out of account, the abnormal and unusual stimulus given to building last spring by the attempt to forestall the operation of the new law, and to secure the commercial advantages to be gained under the old one, by the filing of plans in the Department of Buildings prior to the passage of the Tenement House Act.

As will be recalled, a period of nine days elapsed between the passage of the bill by the Legislature, on April 3d, and its signing by the Governor on April 12th. During this time a wild rush was made to file plans in the Building Department under the old law; plans for as many as 639 new tenement houses being filed between April 1st and April 10th—a greater number than was filed in the first nine months of 1900. In fact, the filing of plans between March 23d and April 10th was entirely abnormal, 435 plans for 732 tenement houses having been filed in that period, while between January 1st and April 10th, plans were filed for 1,018 new tenement houses, as compared with plans for 150 new tenement houses filed in the same period in the previous year. As was said by one of the speakers at the hearing before the Governor, practically enough plans had been filed in one week to provide for the entire year's operations.

Under these circumstances, therefore, it would not have been strange if no building operations under the new law had been projected until the spring of 1902. That a considerable number of tenement houses under the new law should be under construction at the present time, and that still others should be planned is, therefore, a most encouraging indication of the effect that the new law will have, and is conclusive evidence that it has not stopped the building of tenement houses, flats or apartment houses in New York City, or materially retarded the development of this class of property.

To what extent these operations are going on it is the purpose of this article to set forth. The records of the Building Department show that between April 10th (the last day on which plans could be legally filed under the old law and be approved) and October 12th of this year, 150 plans for some 254 new tenement houses were filed. Of these, 106 plans for 184 houses were belated plans drawn under the old law, and were filed on April 11th, 12th, 13th, and 15th, and were disapproved by the Building Department, and cannot be used.

It is apparent, therefore, that as many as 44 different plans for some 70 new tenement houses have been filed under the new law. One should deduct from this number, however, plans for 6 houses which were duplicate plans filed by the architects to obviate objections found to the original drawings by the Building Department examiners; so that, making allowance for all these facts, we find plans for 64 new tenement houses, estimated to cost $2,990,000, filed under the new law in the period from May 5th to October 12th. The plans for 7 of these buildings have not as yet been approved by the Building Department, and the houses, therefore, may not be built. So, to put it in the most conservative way possible, it may safely be said that at least 57 new tenement houses, estimated to cost $2,866,500, are being built under the new law.

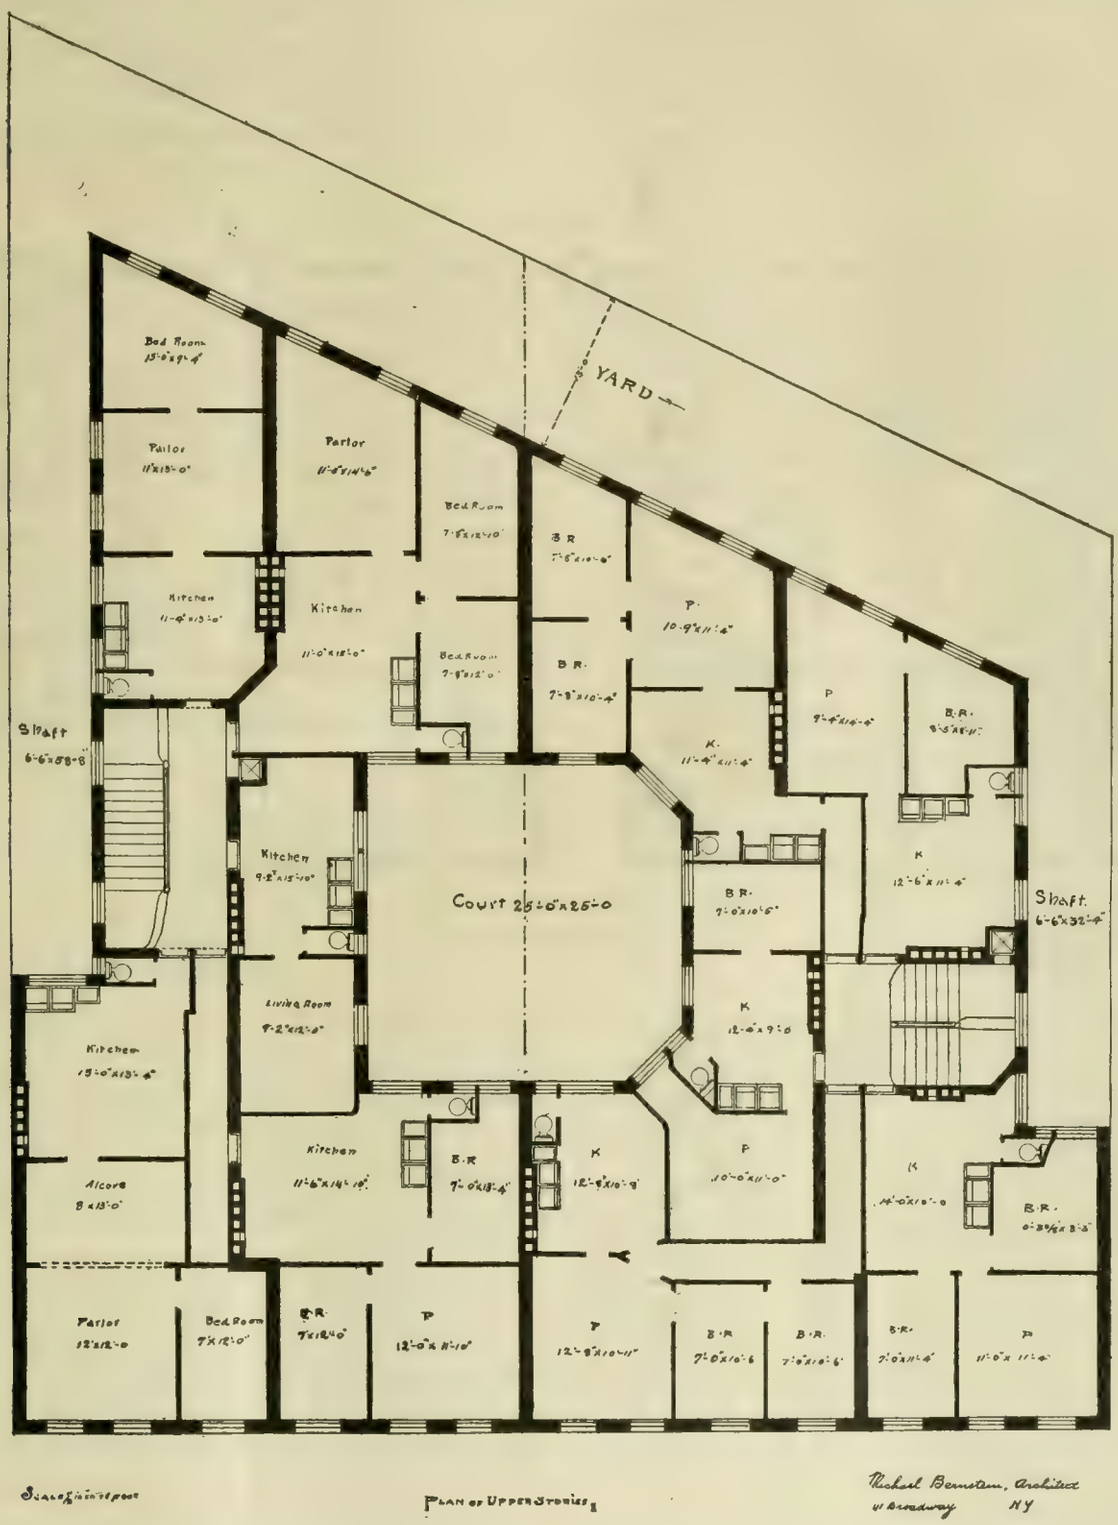
Since October 12th other plans for new tenement houses have been filed, and at the time of writing this article a number of similar enterprises are projected.

It should be distinctly understood that a great mass of these operations have been projected in the ordinary course of business, as investments or speculations, and in only 3 cases has there been any admixture of philanthropic motive.

Examining the plans of these 57 tenement houses in detail, we find that they embrace every class comprised within the legal definition of a tenement house (a house occupied by 3 or more families; from the ordinary tenement arranged in suites of three-room and four-room apartments, to the two-family flat of five rooms and bath, and even the high-class fireproof elevator apartment house with apartments of 7 and 8 rooms each. Nor are these operations confined to any one part of the city, but are distributed over distinctively typical localities, including the lower parts of the city. Seven of these houses are located south of 14th street, 6 between 14th street and 59th street, 11 between 59th street and 125th street, east of 5th avenue, 4 between 59th streets and 125th street, west of 8th avenue, 2 between 110th street and 125th street, between 5th and 8th avenues, 9 north of 125th street, and 18 in the Borough of the Bronx.

These houses are also on very widely different lot units; 10 houses, or 18% of all, are on lots 25 feet or less in width; 17 houses, or 30%, are on lots between 25 and 40 feet in width; 24 houses, or 42%, are on lots between 40 and 75 feet in width; while 6 houses, or 10%, are on lots from 75 feet to 150 feet in width. From which it appears that 48%, or practically one-half of the houses are on lots of a width of less than 40 feet. In view of these facts it would hardly seem that the claim that the new law had rendered commercially impossible the building of tenement houses, on a 25-foot lot, was warranted.

In all fairness, however, it should be stated that of the 10 houses built on lots 25 feet or less in width, none is of the type of three-room or four-room tenement house with four families on a floor, which has been commonly erected in the past. The reason for this is not hard to seek in view of the fact that the new law limits the height of non-fireproof buildings on lots less than 40 feet in width to 5 stories instead of 7 stories and basement, and also requires all courts and open spaces to start at the ground level, thus interfering to a large extent with the prevailing practice of having stores on the first floor. The rent of the stores, especially on the lower East Side, is so considerable a part of the income to be derived from the property, that it is not strange, in view of these circumstances, that the building of this particular class of houses should have been temporarily retarded.



TENEMENT AT No. 413 WEST 18TH ST.

Henry P. Knowles, Architect.

The plans above mentioned include apartment houses and flats, as well as tenements, but in the present article only certain typical instances of tenements will be considered. One of the most interesting plans filed for this kind of a house is that of Sass & Smallheiser, architects, of No. 23 Park row, for three 6-story tenement houses now in course of construction at the northwest corner of Mulberry and Broome streets, and shown in Fig. 1. This lot is 76 feet deep and 141 feet wide, and the architects have divided it into three parcels; a corner lot, 60 feet wide, and two others, 40 feet 4 inches and 41 feet, respectively. While the treatment of the two interior lots is what will have the most interest for architects and builders, yet the corner lot is well worth careful study.

It is arranged for six families on a floor, containing one apartment of 5 rooms, one of 4 rooms, and four of 3 rooms, making a total of 21 rooms on a floor; two of these are alcove rooms having practically one entire side open to an adjoining room.

Scale of ¼ inch to foot

PLAN OF UPPER STORIES

Michael Bernstein, Architect
1 Broadway NY

Of these 21 rooms, 11 are on the street, 3 are on the yard, and 5 are on the outer court. The yard is 10 feet deep for a distance of 25 feet from the street, and beyond that point is increased to 13 feet in depth. The court is the outer court on the lot line, and 6 feet 6 inches wide for a distance of about 20 feet, where it widens into an offset 13 feet square. A similar lot line court is provided on each side of the adjoining building, so that practically all courts are 13 feet wide in every part. The courts being open on one entire side to the yard, an abundant supply of sunlight, as well as good ventilation is assured. The stairs are located in about the middle of the building, and have a large window opening on the court. Both the stairs and the public halls occupy a minimum amount of space, although they are of a generous size, each being 4½ feet wide. Each tenement contains a parlor, a kitchen, and at least one bedroom and a private water-closet, in every case located within the apartments. The rooms are all of a good size for this class of building, the parlors being about 11 feet by 13 feet; the kitchens about 9 feet 4 inches by 15 feet, and the bedrooms 7 feet 2 inches by 10 feet 7 inches; the kitchens contain two tubs and a sink and dresser The dumb-waiter is located in the public hall and serves all six apartments, but the house is so planned that nearly every kitchen is located close to it. On the ground floor there are stores and also one apartment, containing two rooms. There are accommodations for 31 families in the building in 107 rooms.

Turning to the building on the interior lot, we find that the lot unit employed here has been a width of a few inches over 40 feet, so as to allow the building to be erected six stories high, non-fireproof. There are four families on each floor in 15 rooms, there being three 4-room tenements and one 3-room one; two families are on the street and two are on the yard. Each front apartment contains a parlor 11 feet by 14 feet, with two large windows on the street, a bedroom 8 feet 7 inches wide by 8 feet 8 inches long adjoining it, and also having a window on the street; back of this bedroom is a similar bedroom 8 feet 8 inches by 10 feet 3 inches, with a window opening at the end of an outer court 13 feet wide by 40 feet long, and adjoining the bedroom is the kitchen, 11 feet 6 inches by 12 feet, with a large window on the same court; the water-closet is located off the kitchen in a separate apartment with a window to the outer air. There are, of course, no private halls, this class of building not warranting such accommodations, the entrance to the apartments being directly from the public hall to the kitchen, as it always is in this class of house. The stairs are located about half-way back from the street, and have a large window opening on the outer court; the stairs and public halls will thus be flooded with light, as well as being splendidly ventilated. The dumb-waiter is located in the public hall convenient to all the kitchens. The rear apartments are somewhat different from the front apartments, the 3 bedrooms being located on the yard and the parlors and kitchens being on the courts.

While it is not possible to compare this building in all its details with a similar type of house built under the old law, because of the irregular size of the lot, yet it is possible to note certain radical differences between it and the usual dumb-bell tenement, built on a lot 25 feet wide by 100 feet deep, the prevailing type until the passage of the new law.

In the old law there are four families on a floor, two front and two back, as in the new-law house, there being two 4-room tenements and two 3-room ones; in the new-law house there are three 4-room tenements and one 3-room one, thus gaining one more room on a floor. If the amount of square feet of lot area were the same in each case, this would mean that the new-law house afforded a greater number of rooms than the old-law house, relatively as well as absolutely. It, of course, must be borne in mind that in the case of the old-law house there is 2,500 square feet of lot area, while in the new-law house there is 3,040 square feet of lot area, or 540 square feet more. It seems to the writer, however, that this result of one more room on a floor, in view of the small difference in lot areas, is most encouraging, especially in view of the fact that all the rooms in the new-law house are larger than the rooms in the old-law house. In the old-law plan only 4 out of the 14 rooms are adequately lighted and ventilated; in the new-law house every one of the 15 rooms is well and adequately lighted and ventilated In the old-law house there is a long, dark, narrow, public hallway, nearly 50 to 60 feet long, on each floor; in the new-law house, practically no space is wasted in public halls, and the public halls and stairs are flooded with light in every part. In the old-law house the water-closets are used in common by two families, and are located off the public halls, thus rendering it difficult to place responsibility for their abuse, and also leading often to serious physical and moral evils. In the new-law house, each family has its own private water-closet, entirely within the apartment, and directly under the family's control. In the old-law house the yard is but 10 feet deep; in the new-law house it is 13 feet deep. One might pursue the comparison further with profit, considering the advantages of the new-law house in regard to protection from danger in case of fire, as well as the cheaper cost of construction, but enough has been pointed out to show how immeasurably superior the new-law building is to the old one.

A somewhat different type of tenement is seen in Fig. 2. This is a plan for a new house now under construction at Nos. 411-413 West 18th street, Harry P. Knowles, architect, No. 1 Madison avenue. The lot is 50 feet wide, but is only 92 feet deep; the building is five stories high, and is arranged for five families on a floor; two apartments of 4 rooms and bath, and three of 3 rooms and bath. Three families are on the street, and two are on the yard. The 4-room apartments contain parlor, 10 feet 2 inches by 14 feet 6 inches; a dining-room, 10 feet 2 inches by 10 feet 4 inches; a kitchen, 8 feet by 13 feet; and a bedroom, 9 feet by 11 feet. The 3-room flats contain parlor, kitchen and bedroom somewhat smaller in size, but all large rooms for this class of house. All the flats have private halls and a rather undue amount of space is thus used, where a little better planning might have worked out more advantageous results.

The flats, however, will be extremely comfortable to live in, and every room will be well lighted and ventilated. Outer courts on the lot line have been provided at each side of the building, each court being 6 feet 8 inches wide and 51 feet 4 inches long; the yard is 13 feet deep, and extends across the full width of the lot. Of the 17 rooms on each floor, 9 open on the street or yard and the rest on the open courts. On the entrance floor there are no stores, but four apartments, containing 13 rooms, the rest of the space being given up to the entrance hall and stairs. Altogether the building contains accommodations for 24 families in 81 rooms. The building is being erected as an investment and not as a speculation.

A most interesting plan is that by Michael Bernstein, architect,

MODEL TENEMENT HOUSE
AVE. A, 78TH & 79TH STS, N.Y. FOR—
THE CITY & SUBURBAN HOMES CO.

PLAN OF UPPER FLOORS

HARDE & SHORT
ARCHITECTS.
3-5 WEST 29TH ST N.Y.

of 111 Broadway, for two 6-story tenement houses now under construction at Nos. 2 to 12 Hancock street (Fig. 3). Mr. Bernstein's work has been almost entirely with tenement house builders, and especially with those buildings put up as a speculation, which is the case in the buildings under construction. The lot has a frontage of 87 feet 5 inches, and is irregular at the rear, the rear boundary running diagonally, giving the lot a depth of only 70 feet and 7 inches; the lot has been divided into two parcels, one having a frontage of 41 feet and the other a frontage of 46 feet 5 inches.

In the deeper building, the architect has used an outer court 6 feet 6 inches wide by 58 feet 8 inches long on one side, and situated on the lot line, while on the other side of the building he has used an inner court 12½ feet wide by 25 feet long; as this court has been duplicated in the adjoining building, one larger inner court 25 feet wide by 25 feet long is obtained; at the other side of the second building there is an outer court 6 feet 6 inches wide by 32 feet 4 inches long. The yard is 13 feet deep at every point, and extends across the whole width of the lot.

In the first house there are five families on each floor in 17 rooms, there being three 4-room tenements, one 3-room tenement, and one 2-room one; on the ground floor there are also five families in 15 rooms, making thirty families and 100 rooms in the building. Each family has its own private water-closet entirely within the family's control. The rooms are all of a good size, larger than is usual in this class of house, and most of them are of a regular shape; where they are irregular, it is due to the attempt of the architect to "squeeze" space. There is one flight of stairs in each building, and this and the public halls are each 4½ feet wide. The public halls are short, and occupy a minimum amount of space, and are well lighted and ventilated, having two windows on the court; in one apartment there is a private hall 16 feet long, which is necessary to reach the apartment. There is one alcove room on each floor, with practically one entire side open to an adjoining room, and this could have been avoided by a little more careful planning.

In the second building there are also five families on each floor, but in 18 rooms, there being three 4-room tenements and two 3-room ones; on the ground floor there are also five families in 16 rooms, making a total of thirty families and 106 rooms in the building. The building is very similar to the adjoining one. I am informed by the architect that the building is somewhat cheaper to construct than it would have been under the old law.

So as to compare the work done by private owners with that of companies, who unite a philanthropic purpose with their building plans, the plans of two buildings now under construction for the City and Suburban Homes Co., on the east side of Avenue A, extending from 78th to 79th streets, with a frontage on Avenue A of 204 feet 4 inches, and a depth of 111 fett (Fig. 4). The plans are those of Harde & Short, architects, of No. 9 West 29th street, and are a modification of their plan which was awarded the first prize in the Competition for Model Tenements, held by the Tenement House Committee of the Charity Organization Society in 1899. The architects have divided the plot into two parcels, each building having a frontage of 102 feet and 2 inches. Both the outer court on the lot line, and also the large enclosed inner court, have been used. As the two buildings adjoin each other, it is possible to combine the two outer courts and thus greatly improve the plan, giving an outer court 13 feet wide for a distance of 35 feet in length, and this is widened to 16 feet for the inner 29 feet of the court. The large enclosed court is 30 feet wide by 30 feet long, and has four offsets in the corners to light the stairs and water-closets, while the yard extends across the full width of the lot from one street to the other street, and is 15 feet deep.

The two buildings accommodate thirty-four families on each floor in 86 rooms, making a total of 186 families and 472 rooms in the houses. On the entrance floor there are a number of stores and also apartments for sixteen families; the buildings are 6 stories high. On each floor there are fourteen 3-room tenements, two 4-room tenements, and eighteen 2-room tenements. Every flat has its own private water-closet, as well as a private hall; the rooms are all of a good size, as will be seen from the plan. While the lot has been divided into two houses, each 100 feet wide, the building is so arranged that it could at any time be disposed of as four separate houses of 50 feet each.

The Tenant and the Tenement House Law.

SCARCITY OF TENEMENTS, HIGHER RATES AND CONSEQUENT CONGESTION.

George A. Domminey, a real estate expert connected with the Title Guarantee and Trust Co., has published a paper upon the effects of the Tenement House Law in Brooklyn, particularly upon the tenants, which is a very thorough and effective study of the subject, and which contains a good deal that has general application. He complains, as others have done, of the restricted view taken by the Legislative Tenement House Commission, and claims that had they looked more deeply into the subject they would have avoided many mistakes, in particular the mistake of laying down provisions that apply without discrimination to all the boroughs, while their several cases are so different. Regarding the direct effects of the law on tenement construction in Brooklyn, he says:

In this borough we have a very large number of two and three-room apartments at $4.50 to $7 per month. These are mostly in old types of buildings not more than four rooms deep, of moderate cost, which, because of our low-priced lots, it was profitable to build and to own; but, even with our cheap lots, housing cannot be profitably furnished for this class under the new law, because of the low average of our rentals. Putting a plot 35x100 even as low as $3,000, a 4-sty building planned for two three-room and two two-room apartments on each floor, cannot be built for less than $16,000, making a total of $19,000. Ordinarily not more than $10,000 at 5 per cent. could be borrowed on this property. It would be assessed for taxation at, say, 60 per cent. of the total cost of lot and building—namely, $11,400. The annual charges would be about as follows: Interest, $500; taxes, $270; water rates, $60; insurance, $20; housekeeper, $96; gas, $30; loss of rent, $140; repairs, $200 (if this item of repairs were not so large during the first two or three years after the completion of the building it would be heavier later on, so that the said figure is a conservative one); total, $1,270.

Now, with cost of lot and building figured to the lowest possible point, and the charges computed at less than they would certainly be, it would be necessary to secure an average of $10 per month for each three-room apartment and $7 for each two-room apartment (these being the highest possible rents) in order that the equity pay 4 per cent., subject to all the troubles and risks of tenement ownership and making no allowances for the creation of a sinking fund to provide against the deterioration of the building. It is clear, therefore, that no new housing can be furnished within the borough for the $4.50 to $7 per month tenants above referred to. What are the yearly accretions to this class of the population to do? Emigrate to some other city or reduce themselves to the verge of starvation, that they may be able to afford to live in ideal tenements? Certainly the tendency to overcrowding will become more general, and out of a feeling of desperation there may develop a concerted opposition on the part of both owners and tenants, in which case the city must perforce employ a huge army of inspectors, with all its attendant evils, or abandon the practical enforcement of the law requiring a certain spcified number of cubic feet of air space for each individual.

Furthermore, under the old law it has been possible to build 3-sty single and double flats, wherein four rooms and bath and five rooms and bath apartments, each running through from street to yard, might be had from $10 to $13 per month. Under the new law this class of tenancy can only be provided for in large caravansaries, as small buildings cannot be made commercially profitable. A little figuring will make this absolutely clear. A very common value for our 20x100-feet lots is $1,800 to $2,000. Take the lower figure; a 3-sty single flat building of brick, 20x50, built under the old law, would cost $5,500, making a total of $7,300, and would rent for $696 per annum, gross rental. Built under the new law, a building with the same room area would cost, with the land, $8,500, and would not rent for a dollar more, because it would contain nothing for which tenants, unless forced to do so, would care to pay additional rent.

Again, put a 25x100-foot lot at $2,250, a 3-sty double flat of brick, 25x50, each of the six apartments containing four rooms, with hot and cold water and stone washtubs, would cost $6,000, making a total of $8,250; the rents would be $816 per annum, gross rental. Built under the new law, a building with the same room area would cost, with the land, $10,500, and as three of the six apartments would be rears, with no outlook upon the street, the total rents would be probably less than in the old type.

And again, taking a 25x100-foot lot, a 3-sty double flat building of brick, 25x62, each of the six apartments containing five rooms and bathroom, with hot and cold water and stone tubs, would cost, under the old law, with the land, $9,250, and would rent for $900, gross rental. A buildinig with similar room area, built under the new law, would cost, with the land, $12,000, and the rear apartments would probably lessen the total rents. Those familiar with the management of flat property can readily see that buildings of any of the above types, built under the new law, after making due allowance for inevitable expenses and losses, cannot be made to pay profitable returns. Ultimately, of course, a cessation of building will, because of under-supply, drive rents to higher figures, and most families will be forced to occupy a smaller number of rooms or make extra sacrifices in order to pay the increased rents—results which surely do not indicate a betterment of conditions for this great and generally desirable element in our urban population. In the present buildings of the newer types sufficient light and ventilation, allowing for their height, is provided—and a superabundance of these advantages, while possibly more aesthetically pleasant, will add little, if anything, to health and comfort.

To be sure, the first hardships and losses will necessarily fall upon the owners and the disturbances already noticed in the market for tenement property but reflect the fears of present owners and the cautiousness of intending investors. Much property of this class must, sooner or later, fall into the hands of mortgagees, because of the inability of the holders to stand the expense of the required alterations, coupled with an immediate reduction in rental income. If all tenements were owned by the wealthy class, these losses might easily be borne, but, as the bulk of this character of investment has been made out of the savings of thrifty people, who carry their holdings subject to large mortgages, it becomes for them a serious matter. Ultimately, as will appear later, the real sufferers will be the rent-payers and those allied to the building trades.

What is to happen to the poor when the only housing to be had is at rates beyond their capacity to pay? To provide that each dweller in a tenement shall have more than ample room and more than an abundance of light and air, is a most laudable desire, but it would appear that the men who had given such careful consideration to the mere housing problem had passed rather lightly over the economic aspects of the question. It must be apparent to any unprejudiced mind that, with an increasing population, by systematically decreasing the possible rental area and by increasing the structural cost of new tenements, and by compelling considerable expenditures for alterations to old ones, in many cases decreasing the rental area as well, rents in the absence of new construction will be forced upward to higher figures, being but a natural result of the operation of the law of supply and demand.

As a part of the city's growth the tenement population has hitherto received large yearly accessions. What is to be done with these newcomers in future, if the latest laws are to prevail? In the past, the speculative builder has been the agency through which the major part of the new housing has been provided. Now, no matter what idealistic theorists may think, every practical real estate man knows that by reason of their greatly increased cost, the narrow margin of income offered by tenements built under the new law will largely deter builders from entering upon their construction; furthermore, no others can be added to the thousands of old-fashioned dwellings which have been heretofore altered at moderate cost for occupancy by three or more families, because the new requirements are simply prohibitive. (See chapter I., section 3.) It is peculiarly unfortunate that the tenement dweller should be thus deprived of the opportunity to secure light and airy rooms in old dwellings, situate in neighborhoods which have been practically abandoned by those who can afford to occupy an entire dwelling; it is one of the real injustices of the new law, as floors in these dwellings have been looked upon as very desirable by those who wished not to live in a large tenement. Being rarely more than two rooms deep, if equipped with adequate fire escapes, the absence of fireproof stairways in these buildings is not of great consequence.

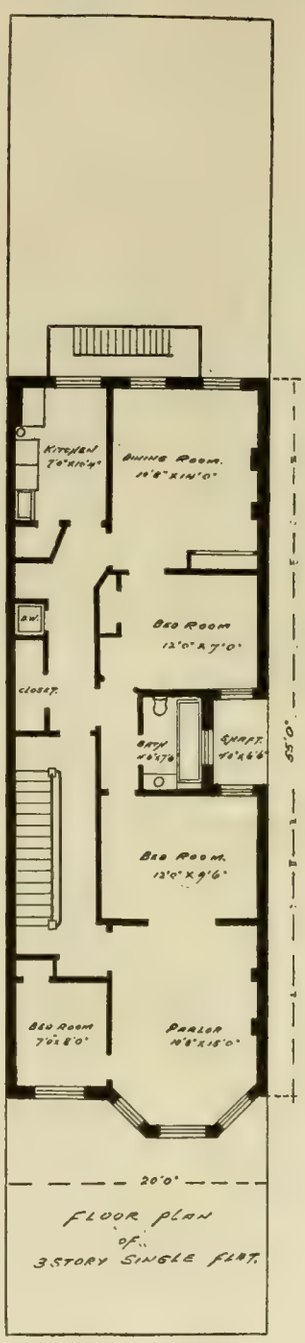
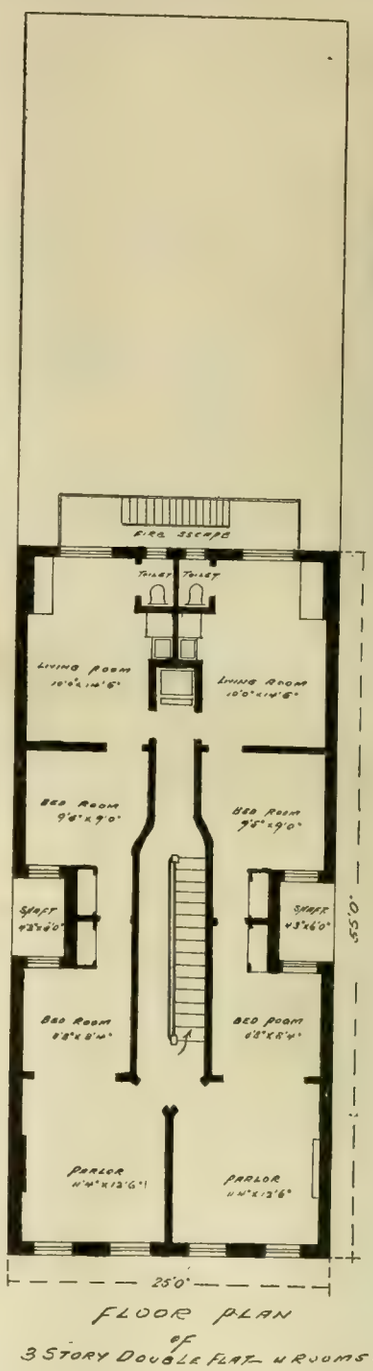
Thus, with new housing curtailed, a deficient supply of tenement apartments will enable owners in time to push up the rents, with the logical effects that very many families will be compelled to live in a lesser number of rooms than each now occupies—a result probably very far from the thoughts of the Tenement House Commission, but inevitable nevertheless. The expenditures of the great mass of the people must be, of necessity, carefully calculated; furthermore, it is the general habit to pay as large a rent as circumstances will permit; hence a general rise in rents must be followed by a shifting to smaller apartments. In the past the maintenance of the present moderate rent scale has been made possible by the activity of the speculative builder, but as his operations can no longer be profitably conducted, this factor in keeping rents to a low level will necessarily be absent.

It is idle to suggest that the new law will be beneficial in tending to dilute the present congestion by diffusing the tenement population over a wider area. The movements of great populations are governed by economic conditions, the evolution of which can no more be arbitrarily changed by legislative enactment than can men be made virtuous in their hearts by command of law. To make the scheme of diffusion practicable, it would be necessary to break up the present industrial and commercial centers and place the fragments at widely separated points—a proposition at this stage of the city's growth which is not defensible; furthermore, social bodies, like all others, follow the laws of least resistance; hence the wage-earning population will reside as near as possible to the centers of industry, the selection of a home with respect to its distance from the place of employment being governed largely by two powerful factors—early rising and car fare.



Most factories and shops begin operations from 7 a. m. to 7.30 a. m. If a toiler live at too great a distance from his work, he must rise very early in the morning, and then at the end of the day, when physically wearied, he must needs face a long journey homeward. It may be unnecessary to add, that the factory operative has no more burning desire, during the winter season, to get up in the middle of the night and go to work, than has his more pampered brother; hence, he naturally plans to avoid living too far from his place of employment.

A still more important consideration, however, is that of car fare. Those to whom 10 cents per day is a trifle can scarcely realize how important an item it must be in the calculations of that large class which is ever struggling to "make ends meet." A family paying $8 per month for three rooms near a busy center is apt not to look with much favor upon the suggestion to move to an apartment of the same size, even with better light and ventilation, two miles away at $6 per month. The car fare added would make the rent $8.60 (if the family contained two workers, $11.20), and the toiler would be compelled to rise at least a half hour earlier; reach home a half hour later; and would be subjected to the discomforts of traveling in the over-crowded conveyances of a transit system, brought to a state of even worse congestion by the general diffusion of the tenement population, were such diffusion possible.



This item of car fare cannot be too strongly dwelt upon, because of its extreme importance to that class of unskilled labor, whose earnings are meager. The inability of this class to expend beyond a certain well-defined limit for rent generally creates the greater obstacle to any cure for the over-crowding evil. Recently there came under my observation an instance bearing directly upon this point. In one of the more densely inhabited sections of this borough, on a certain corner, stands a 5-sty tenement, built about six years ago, on each floor of which there are four apartments. An investigation of the rentals disclosed the significant fact that those apartments which looked out directly upon the street brought scarcely anything more than those in a precisely similar inside building, where the inner rooms are grouped about a shaft of moderate dimensions, indicating either an absence of competitive preference for the rooms looking out upon the streets, or else the sheer inability on the part of the average family in that district to pay more than the scale of rental which there obtains, i. e., $8 to $11 per month. It may be said, however, that outside of the above-mentioned district (which is Hebrew) there are not, in this borough, many buildings of the type described.

The lack of abundant light and air is not the only lack suffered by those whose earnings are small. It is difficult, indeed, to solve the problem of bettering the conditions of that element in the population which has created the tenement house problem, for it is hedged and bound by such tightly drawn limitations that a loosening at one side but causes deeper distress at the other. Some sort of happy mean must be discovered—some plan must be devised for furnishing housing at moderate rents that will at the same time be commercially profitable, else no real benefit will appear.

What is that ever-growing multitude to do which finds it difficult to pay even the rents made possible by the present types of low cost construction, when it is asked to pay those which must be exacted in order that a fair income may be derived from investments in these relatively costly ideal tenements? It does not appear that there are a sufficient number of philanthropists to build enough of them, and if it be suggested that the municipality build and own them, we are brought to face the delicate question of taxing the people at large, in order to, in a roundabout way, increase the purchasing power of the earnings of a special class. The man who cannot possibly afford more than $6 per month rent must find some place within his limit, or he must deprive himself and family of other necessaries, or he must seek work elsewhere. The logic of the situation is inexorable. If the state is determined that there shall be no more cheap housing for the tenement dweller, then the state must devise some way for increasing his earnings to enable him to pay the higher rents. There is no alternative. To do otherwise would be tyranny.

The Mortgage Tax Bill.

VARYING VIEWS OF ITS WISDOM AND PROBABLE RESULTS.

The following letters explain themselves and serve to show how the Stranahan Mortgage Tax bill is regarded from different points of view by interested parties in this city. It will be noticed that the New York Lumber Trade Association support the position already taken by the Mortgage Tax Exemption Committee, whose resolution on the subject was given in the last issue of the Record and Guide:

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Dear Sir: Herewith find enclosed copy of recommendations made by this Association, which were sent by telegram to the Joint Committee on Taxation and Retrenchment to-day.

New York, Jan. 14, 1902. J. D. CRARY, Secretary.

The New York Lumber Trade Association, representing the entire lumber trade of Greater New York City, desire to express to you its approbation of the bill to amend the tax law in relation to the taxation of mortgage indebtedness, known as Senate Bill No. 8, for the following reasons, and with the following qualifications:

We, members of the Association, are of the opinion that the proposed bill, if passed, will be of the greatest benefit, not only to the mortgagor, but to the mortgagee; that it will benefit legitimate real estate operations, will induce building, and will thus be of large benefit to material men, mechanics and laborers, not only in this city, but throughout the State.

We believe that the passage of the bill will settle the uncertainty existing as to taxation of mortgages.

While the members of the Association believe that mortgages should be exempted entirely from taxation, they are of the opinion that the proposed bill, with the two amendments hereinafter suggested, offers the best possible solution, at present, of the vexed question.

We recommend that the bill be amended:

First—By extending the provisions of the bill to cover mortgages now existing, and which may be executed prior to the first of March 1902, without in any way disturbing said existing mortgages.

Second—That where a temporary building loan mortgage is merged into a permanent mortgage, the recording tax paid on the said temporary building loan mortgage shall be rebated when the recording tax is paid on the permanent mortgage.

It appears to the members of this Association that the bill, if passed as introduced, will inevitably result in the calling in of existing mortgages, in order that the owners thereof may under a new mortgage loan avail themselves of the provisions of this act. Such action by these owners would result in great disaster, entail immense loss upon mortgagors, and unsettle the business of loaning money upon real estate, because the making and recording of new mortgages in place of present ones will cause great confusion by disturbing the priority of said existing mortgages, and large expense to the mortgagors for the drawing of new mortgages, the making of new searches, and the other expenses incidental to changing said mortgages.

In support of the second amendment which we have suggested we desire to say that on a large portion of the building operations conducted in this city, the temporary or building loan mortgage is a necessity. If the recording tax provided for in this bill is collected on the temporary mortgage, which, after the completion of the building, is merged into a permanent loan, the effect would be a tax on the labor and material engaged in the operation, in addition to the real mortgage tax which is contemplated by this act. We believe that it is not the intention of this bill to collect a double tax upon what is practically the same mortgage loan, nor to collect a tax upon labor and material in addition to the tax upon the real mortgage, when by such double taxation building operations will surely be discouraged, the laboring man deprived of employment, and the State lose the tax upon the mortgages which they would otherwise collect by the encouragement of building operations.

In view of these facts this Association respectfully suggests the adoption of amendments in line with the recommendations which we have made, believing that such action will produce the best results attainable.

We are very much in earnest in this matter, and we regret that a general meeting of our Association to-day makes it necessary to address you in this manner, instead of by a proper delegation.

RICHARD S. WHITE, President.
J. D. CRARY, Secretary.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Dear Sir: In your last issue an article by A. B. Carrington discusses Mr. Stranahan's new mortgage tax bill. The article states, "The stamp tax of 5 mills is practically the same as the Federal tax levied under the tax revenue law." This sentence I believe, contains an error. The stamp tax referred to was 50 cents per $1,000, or 1-20 of 1 per cent. The proposed tax is ½ of 1 per cent.—a vast difference.

The rest of the article contains important truths. Many people swear falsely to avoid paying tax on mortgages; others assign their mortgage holdings fictitiously, and the action of the third class is still more injurious to the real estate interests. They refuse to invest in bond and mortgage, because they are unwilling to surrender nearly one-half of their income to the Department of Taxes.

Any bill which encourages bond and mortgage investments, by reducing the present tax, is a material assistance to New York realty. It ought to receive the indorsement of all building trades. Very truly yours,

MILTON E. OPPENHEIMER.

J. Clarence Davies is out with an able letter to the press in which he protests against the Stranahan bill, claiming that the tax would be an additional burden upon the borrower and an obstacle to the devolopment of real estate. That it would encourage the making of long-term mortgages, thereby causing a difficulty in the sale, transfer and general activity of real estate. The short-term mortgages, which can be readily paid off, make property much more negotiable for builders and owners. Mr. Davies holds that the law would bring no more money into the market, and that, if it is the intention to remove from the statute books an unenforced tax, that that could be better done by an act to exempt mortgages from taxation.

THREE CENTS A DAY FOR A COMPLETE SYSTEM OF REAL ESTATE RECORDS!

Ten dollars for a complete system and set of real estate records alphabetically arranged, printed and ready for as easy reference as a word in the dictionary, is an interesting proposition for everyone who has anything to do with real estate operations.

It is possible for every real estate man to equip his office with the most perfect and handiest system of real estate records at a nominal cost.

This service is supplied to all subscribers of "The Record & Guide Quarterly"—a publication issued every three months. The fourth number annually is an issue containing all the records for the entire year arranged alphabetically. The subscription price is ten dollars a year.

Those who are not subscribers should investigate the advantages of this publication. All other systems of records are needlessly cumbersome and unnecessarily expensive. Start the new year with "The Record & Guide Quarterly." The annual number for 1901 is about to be issued and we will send you this number with the following three quarterly numbers for ten dollars—less than three cents a day for a complete set of real estate records.

Drop a postal card to the offices of publication, Nos. 14, 16 Vesey Street, or telephone 3157 Cortlandt, and we will gladly show you the publication and explain to you its uses as a time saver and money maker.

INVESTMENT ATTRACTIONS

TWO NOVEL AND SUCCESSFUL APARTMENTS AND AN APARTMENT HOTEL

The view here given illustrates a building enterprise that has been one of the most successful from all points of view the city has ever seen. The theory upon which it is based is to supply apartments of varying sizes with all the privileges and conveniences that belong to apartments of the highest class, to people of moderate means. This theory was, as readers of the Record and Guide are aware, first carried out in "The Lucile" and "The Constance," on the block front on St. Nicholas av, between 113th and 114th sts; they were followed by "The Leroy," on the same avenue, and "The Harold" on Manhattan av. All four were built, tenanted and sold to investors in the remarkably short space of two years.

LATHAM—RODNA.

Morningside Ave., 122d and 123d Sts. Henry L. Felt, Owner and Builder.

Continuing his work on the same line, Henry L. Felt recently completed "The Latham" and "The Rodna," on the block front of Morningside av, between 122d and 123d sts, which are pictorially shown herewith, and are in every respect up-to-date. These are each 100.11 ft. front, with a depth of 100 ft. They are laid out with seven apartments to the floor, made up of 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8-room suites, conveniently arranged, trimmed in hardwoods, tastefully decorated, fitted with gas ranges, marble baths, open plumbing, telephones, elevators, and all modern improvements. The entrances and halls are handsomely designed and richly decorated, and have mosaic floors, marble wainscots, reception rooms and offices. The location is opposite the best part of Morningside Park, and accessible to all the attractions of the upper part of the city, as well as the surface and elevated railroads. That the builder's judgment of the needs of the neighborhood was good is proved by the fact that out of 96 apartments in the two houses, only 10 are vacant, 86 having been promptly let to a good class of people, and the owner is constantly in receipt of inquiries regarding the remainder.

Both these houses were planned and built under the old building law, and occupy the full area of plot allowed by that law, which gives them a considerably larger rentable area and, by the same ruling, a larger income, all other things being equal, than can be obtained in a building erected under the existing law. The income showing of the two properties is about $62,000, which of itself is an indication of the ability with which these houses are planned. In exterior attractions they compare favorably with any apartment houses in the neighborhood. The investment value of houses erected in accordance with the principle that Mr. Felt adopted needs no argument to prove; it becomes sufficiently clear from the rapidity with which all the houses mentioned were occupied, and the promptness with which the first four passed from the builder's into investors' hands. The same fortune ought to attend "The Latham" and "The Rodna," because not only are they built to meet the same popular wants, but they are better located than the others, having the advantage of the open park in front of them.

Mr. Felt has, further, carried his idea into another class of building, namely, the apartment hotel, of which he is now building two. One of these, that at Nos. 148-154 West 47th st, between Broadway and 6th av, was sold as soon as the plans were filed. The other is being erected on the plot, 50x100.11, on the south side of 72d st, 50 ft. west of Columbus av. This is a 12½-sty limestone front building, with floors laid out in 1, 2, and 3-room apartments with baths. It is to be finished in the best manner, with every appliance for convenience and comfort, and as it is on the most fashionable and expensively improved street on the West Side, near the 72d st station of the 6th av "L," and will be the only building of its class on the street, it is doubtless assured of a full complement of high-class tenants as soon as finished.

For this and "The Latham" and "The Rodna" the owner is now prepared to treat, and inquiries can be directed to him at Morningside av and 122d st.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

William F. Havemeyer has purchased the northeast corner of Exchange pl and New st, a 3-sty building, 24.5x26.10, from the estate of Henry W. Miller. The property is surrounded by the Adee parcel, which was reported sold to Blair & Co. A member of that firm, however, states that they have not purchased it; it may, however, have been bought by Mr. Havemeyer, as the corner just purchased would be almost useless without it.

Dr. H. W. Schlisenger has bought No. 499 East Houston st, old building, on lot 20x75. He will erect a 7-sty factory on this lot and No. 501, which he purchased recently.

The sale reported last week of the northeast corner of Broadway and 12th st and denied by all parties in interest has been closed, the buyer having secured some of the leases as far back as December 31. The seller of the corner is Jacob Hirsh, and of No. 828 and the 12th st L, Albert Joske. They have been asking for the combined plot $500,000. Mr. Joske paid $260,000 in 1896 for No. 828 Broadway and No. 63 East 12th st. The property acquired fronts 42.11 on Broadway and about 143.2 on 12th st, with a northerly line of 150 feet and a rear line of 108.10. Jennie S. Parker, wife of John H. Parker, is the buyer, and a 11-sty loft building will be erected.

Mandelbaum & Lewine have bought No. 214 West 34th st, a 4-sty dwelling, on lot 16.8x98.9.

Mandelbaum & Lewine have bought No. 35 Orchard st, old tenements, on plot 30.7x100.

William I. Caven has sold No. 124 Park row, near Duane st, a 3-sty building, on lot 25x108.

John T. Kerwin has sold for Emanuel Sutro to William R. Dixon No. 60 West 49th st, a 4-sty dwelling, 20.10x60x100.5, Columbia College leasehold.

The Union Club has sold to the Central Realty Bond and Trust Co. the building it now occupies, at the northwest corner of 5th av and 21st st, 63.6x120, with adjoining building on 21st st, 25x98.9. The latter parcel was purchased by the club in 1890 for $45,000. The Union Club was organized in 1836; its first clubhouse was at No. 343 Broadway, its second at No. 376 Broadway, its third at No. 691 Broadway, and fourth, the building just sold, which was dedicated in 1855. They are now erecting a new building at the northeast corner of 5th av and 51st st, which will be completed in September, when title to the building just sold will pass. The club's property at 51st st cost $700,000, and the estimated cost of the new building is $450,000. The 21st st property, which contains 10,149 square feet, they sell for $615,000, or at the rate of $60.59 per square foot, a remarkably low price compared with other sales on the avenue between 14th and 23d sts. The northeast corner of 5th av and 21st st, a plot containing only 4,140 square feet, sold in 1898 for $340,000, or at the rate of $82.12 a square foot.

The Chickering Hall property, at the northwest corner of 5th av and 18th st, which was purchased in December last by the Alliance Realty Co., has been resold to Henry Corn, who will erect a 12-sty loft and office building on the plot, which fronts 78.10 on 5th av and 135 feet on 18th st. It contains 10,642 square feet, and was purchased by the sellers for $575,000, or at the rate of $54.03 per square foot, and is resold for something over $600,000.

The Barney-Sheldon syndicate have finally disposed of the last of the Stewart plot. The buyers are the Century Realty Co. The plot fronts 75 feet on 34th st, and begins 100 feet west of 5th av, the westerly lot extending through to 35th st, and the two easterly lots having a depth of 111.9. The entire plot contains 10,487 square feet, and has been held at $500,000, which would make the square-foot price $47.67. The sellers paid $1,371,257 for the entire Stewart plot; the corner was sold to the Knickerbocker Trust Co. for $625,000, the adjoining 50 feet on the avenue for $350,000, to The New York Realty Corporation, making, with the $500,000 for the plot just sold, a total of $1,475,000, which shows a gross profit of a little over $104,000.

THE BRONX.

Manhattan College, it is reported, has decided to move from its present quarters, at the corner of Broadway and West 131st st, and to that end has closed contracts for a new site in the Bronx. Brother Charles, who has charge of the negotiations, confirmed the report, but declined to give the exact location of the property acquired. He said, however, that the college had bought twelve acres of fine land in the west side of the Bronx, on the line of the rapid transit road. The plans for the new establishment, he said, had not yet been worked out in detail, though probably about $300,000 would be spent in the new buildings. It was not the intention of the college, he added, to move immediately, though probably in two or three years it would be located in the new headquarters.

McCormick will look after the company's interests in all sections of the city below 14th st.

Mayor Low has ordered that the work of the Change of Grade Commission of the 23d and 24th Wards must be closed by May 1. Mr. Low received an opinion and report from Robert C. Beatty, the counsel of the commission, in which Mr. Beatty said that he thought all the work could be finished by July 1, but not May 1. The Mayor was asked if he had taken any action regarding the removal of the commission, and said: "I have not taken any action. I have notified the Commissioners that I will retain them, if the work is completed by May 1, but if it is not I will reconsider my decision."

The Elm Street Property-Owners' Association have issued a call for a meeting to be held at the Broadway Central Hotel, Nos. 671-677 Broadway, at 4 o'clock, Jan. 20, for the purpose of protesting against the proposed assessment to be levied on property on Elm st, and adjacent to it. The city acquired title to the land needed for widening Elm st in 1893. The property-owners contend that by the dilitory work on the street they have already lost $500,000 a year. They now say that the rapid transit subway obstructions cut them off entirely from their property. Their object is to have the proposed assessment paid by the city, and not by themselves.

The World of Building

Material Market.

Looking over the field of material prices for the past month, it will be found that the only increases are in pig iron, while tin plates, copper, lead, tin and glass have fallen. Others are unchanged, and these include the more important of building materials, such as structural iron, brick, lime, nails and lumber. The comparison with a year ago is not much different, except that the minor metals, such as copper, lead and tin, show larger declines. On the whole there is a prospect for steady prices for the coming spring. In iron and steel there is still a steady demand for structural shapes, and the mills are booked for several months ahead. The copper market is still unsettled, with prices, nominally, 11⅛c. for Lake, 11c. for electrolytic, and 10¾c. for casting. The announcement that the Amalgamated have resumed mining does not make for higher prices.

Lumber.—The general market has continued to show a good undertone, although, as is usual at this season of the year, the volume of business transacted has been limited. Mahogany and cedar have been in fair demand, and prices for Cuban show some advances. In spruce there is a firmness to market quotations, which is very satisfactory to wholesalers, who report a scarcity. Hemlock is dull, but prices show no weakness. Northern pine is stiff, and a scarcity is still reported in some grades. Yellow pine is very firm, and the stocks are limited. North Carolina pine is increasingly firm, and prices have an advancing tendency. Cypress is in good demand at full values.

The following shows the arrivals of mahogany and cedar logs at New York during the year 1901, with comparisons:

	1901.	1900	1899
Cuba mahogany	30,574	28,918	5,510
Cuba cedar	81,468	45,652	8,817
Mexican mahogany	15,754	19,113	22,953
Mexican cedar	10,195	16,708	16,183
Central and South American mahogany	6,603	8,372	17,695
Central and South American cedar	437	1,699	3,174

Lath.—A number of cargoes of Eastern spruce lath arrived during the past week. There was moderate demand from dealers, but prices held steady, at $3.25@$3.50.

Brick, Lime and Cement.—Common Hudson River brick have had only a moderate sale. Stocks in sellers' hands have been fairly large; still they have not been disposed to force sales, and prices quoted have been unchanged at $5.75@$6.25. There were moderate stocks of lime in sellers' hands, but as there was no especial pressure to sell prices have held steady at 82c. for common and 92c. for finishing. The demand for both Rosendale and Portland cement has been limited, but prices have not changed.

The Consolidated Rosendale Cement Co., which was recently incorporated, represents a combination of the interests of the F. O. Norton Cement Co., Lawrenceville Cement Co. and the Newark and Rosendale Lime and Cement Co., which companies had previously purchased the Lawrenceville Cement Co., which already controlled the Hoffman Cement Co. It is said that the new company have a capacity of 3,000,000 barrels, and will control 80 per cent. of the Rosendale cement output.

Hardware.—An increased volume of business has been transacted this week. The trade generally seems to have confidence in the outlook, and there has developed a growing disposition to anticipate wants. Prices for most lines have been firm, and in some instances advances are expected.

Nails.—Advices from Pittburg state that at a conference of the leading producers of wire and wire nails at the Lincoln Hotel, a price association was formed and prices were advanced from $2.05 to $2.15 per keg, which is 5 cents below what the American Steel and Wire Co. has nominally been quoting. The American Steel and Wire Co.'s representatives in this city say their company is not participating in this movement.

The local demand for wire nails is fairly good for small lots from store. Trade in this line does not usually show much of a revival before the last of January. The market is represented by the following quotations: Small lots from store, $2.25 to $2.30; carload lots on dock, $2.25. The cut nail market is quiet but steady. Representatives of mills are adhering to the price of $2.25 for nails from store. Jobbers are asking the same price generally, but in some instances are selling 2 cents below these figures. New York quotations are as follows: Carload lots on dock, $2.18; less than carload lots on dock, $2.23; from store, $2.25.

Plumbers' Supplies.—At the office of the Ansonia Brass and Copper Co. it was said that the reduction made in the price of brass at the beginning of the year had been made after careful consideration, and that the later cuts in copper were not sufficient materially to affect brass goods. A meeting of the brass manufacturers will be held shortly after Feb. 1. to consider the situation then. Since our last report pig tin has become somewhat firmer, but it is still very quiet. Prices have advanced on a basis of 1½c. Closing prices on spot were 23¾c. bid, and 24¼c. asked, but sales were made in a small way at inside figures. Little business is reported in pig lead, and prices are unchanged, quotations still being based on 4c. for lots of 50 tons or more. Spelter is quiet and rather easy at 4.35c. for spot and January, and 4.30c. for February delivery. The reduction of 3c. in the price of sheet copper, made on January 2, has, so far, had but little effect in stimulating the demand, which is naturally light at this season of the year. The existing base price of 18c. for sheet copper is likely to hold. Prompt deliveries on both black and galvanized sheets are still hard to get, and command premium prices. Jobbers are quoting No. 27 common in small lots at 4c. to 4.05c, and galvanized sheets at 65 to 67½ per cent. off the list.

Linseed Oil.—The recent advances in the price of linseed oil do not appear to have disturbed buyers, as many of them have contracts for a large part of their requirements, some of it at low figures. The outlook is not favorable to the maintenance of high prices, and, following possible temporary advances, a reaction may be looked for. Nor is it for the interest of crushers to attempt to maintain prices at or above sixty cents per gallon, as high prices encourage the use of substitutes and mixtures, and the consumer once having become accustomed thereto, will continue their use so long as he finds it profitable.

Paints and Colors.—For the season trade in white lead is reported to be exceptionally good, and contracting for deliveries extending through the spring is going forward on a liberal scale. The market is still unsettled by competition, but there has been no quotable change in the list prices. Trade improves slowly in dry colors, but the outlook is good, and as there is no disposition to force business, the tone of the market is steady.

Glass.—Though efforts have been made to bring about a definite understanding among glass manufacturers with regard to prices, nothing has yet been accomplished, and consequently the market remains in an unsettled condition, and will continue on until an agreement is reached. This is a very dull season, and the demand is light. Chicago press dispatches say that war is to be declared on "the glass trust" by a newly-organized Chicago corporation called the Great Western Glass Company.

Ernest Hammer will erect a 5-sty brick flat with stores on a plot 45x100 at the northeast corner of 136th st and St. Ann's av.

Morris Zimmerman, who has just purchased the plot 50x100.5 at Nos. 70 and 72 West 46th st, will erect thereon a 9-sty apartment hotel, costing about $200,000, from plans by Louis Korn, Nos. 37 and 39 Maiden lane.

Sass & Smallheiser, No. 23 Park row, are drawing plans for four 6-sty brick and stone flats, 46.6x103.3, to be erected at Nos. 226 to 240 East 14th st, to cost $23,000 each; Neiberg Brothers, No. 232 East 10th st, owners and builders.

DWELLINGS.

C. D. Dickey, of Brown Bros. & Co., who recently purchased the plot 50x100 on the south side of 51st st, 100 feet east of Madison av, will erect thereon two dwellings, one of which he will occupy.

George B. Post, No. 33 East 17th st, has purchased property at No. 113 East 64th st and will probably make alterations for his own occupancy.

W. T. Mapes, De Milt av, is drawing plans for a 2½-sty frame dwelling to be erected on the north side of De Milt av, east of Pell pl, for John Henry Kahe, De Milt av; also plans for three 2-sty frame, two family dwellings, 21x42, to be erected on the west side of Van Nest Park, to cost $2,500 each. George E. Allen, Hancock st, Bronx, owner.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

The contract for sanitary work in Public School No. 80, Queens, has been awarded to James Fay at $4,023.

The contract for plumbing in the factory at the southwest corner of Av A and 68th st has been awarded by William J. Taylor to M. Schnier & Co. and for steam heating to the Mulhearn Steam Heating Co.

ALTERATIONS.

J. & J. W. Stolts, No. 227 Bowery, who have just leased the Hall factory buildings at 106th st and East River, on plot 260x200, for twenty years, will make extensive alterations to the buildings.

Snelling & Potter, No. 111 5th av, are drawing plans for alteration and addition to stone dwelling at Davenport's block, Bronx, for Mrs. Von Hammot; cost, $6,000.

Sass & Smallheiser, No. 23 Park row, are drawing plans for the alteration of the old Durland riding academy at Grand Circle, 8th av, 61st st and Broadway. The entire building will be remodeled, roof garden added, and elevators, steam and electric lighting plant will be required. About $60,000 will be spent. The New York & London Hippodrome Co. are the lessees, represented by M. B. Haas on the premises.

The Temple Israel Sisterhood, of Harlem, who have just purchased Nos. 311 and 313 East 116th st, two 3-sty and basement dwellings, each 20x100, will connect the two houses and make extensive interior alterations.

M. J. Naughton, No. 104 East 89th st, is drawing plans for alterations to the 5-sty brick tenement house, 25x90, at No. 284 East 2d st; Mollie Gross, No. 284 East 2d st, owner.

John H. Knubel, No. 318 West 42d st, is drawing plans for alterations to the 4-sty brick and stone tenement house, 25x60, at No. 445 West 46th st, for Joseph M. Goldberg, No. 498 9th av.

Third av, No. 47.—Oscar Lowinson, No. 39 Cortlandt st, has drawn plans for alterations to store and loft building; estimated cost, $2,000; owners, Bensliner & Schlesinger; estimates now being taken.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT.

Frank Quinby, No. 99 Nassau st, N. Y. City, is drawing plans for a 1½-sty frame stable, 35x80, to be erected at Flatbush, L. I., for William A. Engam, No. 99 Nassau st, N. Y. City, to cost $6,000; general contract will be awarded in about three weeks.

Benjamin Driesler, No. 1432 Flatbush av, Brooklyn, is drawing plans for a 2-sty brick knitting mill, 50x100, including a boiler and engine room and bleaching and drying room, to be erected at Grand View Heights, Germania av, Ridgewood, L. I., to cost $30,000.

NEW JERSEY.

Jersey City.—Hurd & Sutton, Prudential Building, Newark, are drawing plans for the erection of a 3-sty brick store, 26x116, on Newark av, near Grove av, for the Lauter Co., Broad st, Newark, who will occupy the entire building; cost, $16,000.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

Michael Kuchenbrod, manufacturer of metal skylights and cornices, formerly of No. 323 East 43d st, has moved to larger quarters at No. 309 East 39th st.

No change has yet been made in the Examining Board of Plumbers. John Renehan, the president, is the only one whose term expires.

Owing to the diversion of the different city departments under the boroughs by the new charter, it has been decided that plumbers' bonds must be taken from the office of the President of the borough in which the plumber is working.

Spelman & Co. are reported to have been the successful bidders on the plumbing for the new Astor apartment house, at 5th av and 55th st. The principal piping, fire lines, waste, vent, etc., are to be of brass, with the other materials corresponding.

Our item of last week referring to Alfred E. Lander should have read: Formerly manager of the fireproof material business for the Standard Fire Proofing Company, now occupies the same position with the Staten Island Clay Co., with office on the 9th floor of 874 Broadway.

At the suggestion of Borough President Cantor, none of the bids submitted for doing the work of remodelling the building at 11th st and 3d av into a City Magistrate's Children's Court was received. It is the intention to reconsider the specifications and to advertise for new bids as soon as possible. The original estimate was about $8,000, and it is thought this can be reduced.

E. Bradley Currier Co. have succeeded to the mantel, fireplace and tile business of the Bradley & Currier Co., with offices and showrooms at Nos. 119 and 121 West 23d st and Nos. 112 and 114 West 24th st, this city. The new company will have increased space for showrooms and better facilities for manufacturing than heretofore, and architects, builders and owners can at all times find on exhibition the latest novelties in this line of business. It is needless to state that the new firm will conduct its business on a basis of excellence which gave the old firm a world-wide reputation in the building manufacturing trades.

The Broadway front of the Ninth National Bank (Nos. 407 and 409) is being renovated by the Fordham Stone Renovating Co., who have also just finished a large job at No. 101 East 38th st, corner Park av, the residence of Chas. T. Barney. It will interest owners, contractors and builders to know that the company succeeded in cleaning all the old brick work on the house, together with the stone work, and after removing the dirt pencilled the brick work so that it looks almost as good as new. They also did all the painting and other work on the exterior of the building. The offices of the Fordham Stone Renovating Co. are located at 54 William st. Telephone call, 1791 John.

The Armory Board, at their meeting this week rejected all the bids offered for the proposed new armory building for the Sixty-ninth Regiment, at Lexington av and 25th st. The reason was that the contract cost under these bids would exceed the appropriation. The several proposals were as follows: For erection and completion: Alfred Nugent, $491,000; John R. Sheehan, $550,000; Cochran & Son, $518,000; Thomas B. Leahy, $523,000. For structural steel and iron work; Cooper & Wigand, $161,000; Lewinson & Just, $149,975; Springfield Construction Company, $142,000; Snare & Treist, $147,900. For plumbing and gas-fitting: James Fay, $33,394.

The Tide Water Building Company, No. 25 West 26th st, starts out the coming year with increased capital and is organized on a basis to meet the present demands of general building construction. From the first of January their Vice-President is Mr. S. Fischer Miller, formerly the manager of the Metropolitan District "structural department" of the American Bridge Company of New York, a constituent company of the U. S. Steel Corporation. The importance of handling steel structural work in connection with masonry construction compels builders to design steel work to fit the masonry, and the masonry to fit the steel work, with due regard for building materials that are easily obtainable and can be promptly delivered. The great delays in building construction work are more traceable to the lack of knowledge of the steel work than to any other single line of work. The scheme of the Tide Water Building Company, as organized, will be to undertake completed building construction with competent engineers, and Mr. Miller's long acquaintance of twelve years in the structural steel business here in this city justifies architects, owners and the public generally in feeling sure that the Tide Water Building Company will be able to quickly and scientifically complete building contracts which they may be entrusted with, and to minimize the vexatious delays which, in many cases of late, have rendered building operations unprofitable to both owner and builder. Mr. A. Milton Napier still remains President of the Company, Mr. H. Stevenson General Superintendent, and Mr. Joseph P. Ranney Secretary and Treasurer.

TUNNEL WORK AND CAISSON SINKING.

J. F. O'Rourke, the contractor and engineer, entertained about 400 members of the American Society of Civil Engineers at luncheon at Delmonico's on Thursday. In the evening a smoker was given at the club-house of the society, No. 220 West 57th st. Earlier in the day the party visited the tunnel excavations at 62d st, where the section to 54th st is completed, and at 42d st and 4th av, where the excavations are very deep. From Delmonico's nearly the entire party visited the site of the Hanover Bank Building, at Nassau and Pine sts, where Contractor O'Rourke is sinking the foundations for the new building. Charles MacDonald, of the American Bridge Company said: "It is the most original in plan and complete in success that I have ever seen, and I very much doubt if it has an equal in the world." Concerning the tunnel work, Mr. MacDonald said: "The progress that has been made has astonished even the most sanguine of us."

BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

Mayor Low yesterday organized the Board of Examiners by administering to the several members present, comprising all the board but one, the oath of office, and appointing Albert F. D'Oench, who represents the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, Chairman. The other members present, with the names of the organizations they represent, were: Wm. J. Fryer, Society of Architectural Iron Manufacturers; Cornelius O'Reilly, Real Estate Owners' and Builders' Association; Francis C. Moore, New York Board of Fire Underwriters; Warren A. Conover, Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange; Edward F. Croker, Chief of the Fire Department. The absent member was Edwin Dobbs, the second representative of the Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange, who is seriously ill.

The Board will most probably locate at No. 1 Madison av. The Mayor has not appointed their clerk yet, but arrangements for receiving petitions will be pushed as rapidly as possible. It is understood that there are several cases already awaiting the action of the board.

BUILDING BUREAU RULES.

The Manhattan Bureau have refused to approve the Ayres Fresh Air inlet, and have required instead, the fresh air inlet box placed at the curb-line, which was the requirement of some years ago.

An order has been posted that no amendments to plans will be accepted unless typewritten, and three copies furnished. These, of course, cannot be made in the office of the bureau, as the old-time single hand-written amendments were, and architects complain of the additional trouble it puts them to.

No amendments or writing can now be put upon original plans, but where it is desired to make any, new plans covering the amendments must be filed. This again puts architects to additional trouble and expense also.

Referring to these matters, a well-known architect this week suggested, that before putting new rules in force, the Bureau should give reasonable notice, "say, for instance," said he, "through the columns of the Record and Guide, which is the quickest and easiest way of reaching architects and builders that I know."

At the annual meeting of the Brooklyn branch of the Master Plumbers' Association of New York City the reports of the various officers showed the association to be in a flourishing condition. After the transaction of the regular business the election of officers was taken up and the following were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dennis Donegan; Vice-President, William M. Brown; Financial Secretary, Charles Schwenker; Recording Secretary, Samuel Corcoran; Treasurer, Louis Gfroerer; Sergeant-at-Arms, John Moyles; Marshal, Herbert Wilkes; Trustees, George W. Smyth, E. S. Kelly and William Eiermann.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—The letters R. S. mean Revenue Stamp, as R. S. $8.00 means Revenue Stamp $8.00.

Tax on Conveyances executed prior to July 1st, 1901, on $100 to $500, 50c., and for each additional $500 or fraction thereof, 50c.; on Conveyances executed on and after July 1st, 1901, 25c., where consideration exceeds $2,500 and is not more than $3,000, and 25c. for each additional $500 or fraction thereof.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

January 10, 11, 13, 14, 15 and 16.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious; real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of this list.

[1]Editor Record and Guide:

The liens filed by Edw. R. Poersehke against the properties at 173-177 Henry st, 2d av and 6th st, and 54-56 Eldridge st, owned by Ph. & M. Horowitz, are unjust and unwarranted, inasmuch as the amounts of liens are exaggerated by over 50% and the actual 50% due said E. R. Poersehke is only payable according to contracts, 60 days after the completion of the buildings; furthermore there is considerable work unfinished, and we having a number of just counter claims which will cover almost the amount due said Poersehke. It was the fact of these counter claims that prompted said Poersehke to his actions, and we will bond these liens, and will convince an honorable justice and jury of their justifiable stand. Said Poersehke came to us after filing the liens and asked to oblige him and advance some money and then we gave him check for $2,500 and never mentioned the fact that he filed liens,and when said liens were observed in the public press, then we felt justified in stopping the payment of the check. Ph. & M. Horowitz.

BOROUGH OF BROOKLYN.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. are preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.
